CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING CONGRESS TO ENACT SUCH LEGISLATION AS WILL BE NECESSARY FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A SYSTEM OF PAVED PUBLIC HIGHWAYS CONNECTING THE CAPITALS OF THE SEVERAL STATES OF THE UNION WITH THE NATIONAL CAPITAL AND WITH EACH OTHER, AND ALSO WITH THE PRINCIPAL NATIONAL PARKS.

Mr. KLINE offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways:

In the Senate, April 7, 1913.

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Requesting Congress to enact such legislation as will be necessary for the construction of a system of paved public highways connecting the Capitals of the several States of the Union with the National Capital and with each other, and also with the principal National Parks.

Whereas, A uniform system of National Public Highways or roads, conecting the Capital of the several States of the Union with the National Capital at Washington, and with each other, and also with the principal National Parks, will vastly promote commerce between the several States, and reduce the cost of transportation thereof; facilitate and cheapen travel and social intercourse between the people; discourage sectionalism, and render the entire people more cosmopolitan, intellectually, morally and politically; aid the farmer in marketing his produce, and make farm life more agreeable, attractive and profitable; induce Americans to see and know America; beautify all parts of the Union; intersify industrial activities; encourage good road building throughout the continent, and bring the entire people countless blessings, conveniences and joys known only to a highly developed country, and,

Whereas, To secure uniformity, thoroughness and economy in the construction, fitness and adaptability of grades, and avoidance of such local controversies in the selection of routes as would probably delay, if not defeat the entire enterprise, the cost of such a system of highways being beyond the probable financial resources of the several States, it would be necessary that it would be constructed at the expense and under the supervision of the General Government, now, therefore,

Be It Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Honorable Congress of the United States is respectfully urged to enact suitable legislation for the location and construction, under the supervision and by the General Government of a system of National Highways or roads, which shall connect the Capital of the several States of the Union with the National Capital at Washington, and with each other, and also, with the principal National Parks; that such National Highways be constructed on firm concrete bases, with hard surfaces, and as nearly dustless as possible; that they be located solely with regard to the greatest public good and feasibility of route and grades, and

Be It Further Resolved, That Congress is earnestly urged to provide in such legislation means of raising the necessary money for the location and construction of such National Highway by the restoration of the internal revenue tax of one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine on tobacco, or in some other manner, as to it shall seem meet and proper, and that the location and construction of such a stem of highways be commenced as means can be provided, throughout the country generally, without giving priortiy to any section or locations, and,

It is Further Resolved, That a copy of this Memorial be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Senate and to the House of Representatives of the United States; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That copies thereof be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from the State of Pennsylvania with the request that they use every effort within their power to bring about a speedy action for the accomplishment of the ends and purposes herein indicated

POSTPONEMENT OF MEMORIAL SERVICES TO THE LATE DAVID A. WILBERT TO APRIL 22.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, on March 26 the Senate agreed to a resolution that five Senators be appointed to draft suitable resolutions expressive of the sense of the Senate upon the death of the late Senator David A. Wilbert, of Allegheny County, and to present the same to a special meeting of the Senate to be held on Tuesday afternoon, April 8, at 3 o'clock. Mr. President, I move that the memorial services be postponed until Tuesday afternoon, April 22, at 2 o'clock.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John M. Reynolds) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 14.

An Act to amend the first section of an act approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act authorizing and empowering boroughs and incorporated towns to take use and appropriate private property for necessary public buildings and works within the corporate limits of such municipality and providing for the manner of ascertaining determining awarding and paying compensation and damages therefor" as amended by the first section of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to amend section one of 'An Act authorizing and empowering boroughs and incorporated towns to take use and appropriate private property for necessary public buildings and works within the corporate limits of such municipality and providing for the manner of ascertaining determining awarding and paying compensation and damages therefore' approved the tenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one so as to extend the same to townships of the first class" by extending the act to include townships of the second class

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John M. Reynolds) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. BUCKMAN.

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at today's session.

Which was agreed to,

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. BUCKMAN.

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly

MOTION TO FIX SPECIAL ORDER FOR HOUSE BILL NO. 185.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 231 (House Bill No. 185) be fixed as a special order of business for consideration on Tuesday, April 22, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Mr. HEACOCK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I can see no reason why this Senate should postpone action on the suffrage question until April 22. A great majority of the Senators are here to-day, and this is in accordance with the desire of the Senator from Allegheny. As I said last night when this matter was before the Committee on Judiciary General for discussion, the Senator from Allegheny at that time appeared before the Committee on Judiciary General and expressed his desire for quick action in the settlement of the question and I can see no reason, Mr. President, why the gentleman should have such a change of heart, unless it is because he feels that the success of this bill is prejudiced and liable to defeat, and I do not see any reason, Mr. President, why this Senate should postpone action on this question until April 22. I think we should take the Senator from Allegheny at his word when he appeared before the Judiciary General Committee and expressed his desire that it should be reported out and voted upon before he had to be away from the Senate before this time. He gave as his reasons in the Committee on Judiicary General why he desired to have it reported out, was for early action on the part of the Senate, and in support of the motion made by him in the committee to have this bill reported with an affirmative recommendation was the statement made by some of the other Senators who are in favor of this question that they want to get rid of it and dispose of it at an early date.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I did make such request before the Committee on Judiicary General. One of the rules of this Senate, however, is that matters which take place in committee shall not be discussed in this Senate.

The PRESIDENT. If the gentleman had raised the point of order the Chair would have ruled on it.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I allowed the gentleman to make the statement because at that time my request was disregarded and I was held here to the detriment of my own business owing to the objection of one or two members of the committee and I deferred and stayed here at a personal sacrifice to myself. I cannot agree to this question coming up this week and next week as I do desire to be away a part of the time, and I feel I ought to be granted the same courtesy as I granted Senators who ask to have this bill held over and the only reason they gave was because the people who were opposed to this proposition would be better satisfied if they had a week before it was reported out.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny. Mr. Powell.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, if on the 22nd these men who are opposed to woman suffrage should find out that they haven't sufficient votes here to meet their particular demands, would he then agree that the matter go over further.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, the reply to that is that this bill to prevail must have a constitutional majority and I am surprised that a gentleman who has been in this Senate for so many sessions as the learned gentleman from Philadelphia should not see that there is no injustice to those opposed to this bill because every man who is absent in effect votes "No," no matter what his stand upon the question is. If there is anything unfair about it I would not ask for it.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like the Senator from Allegheny to answer my question and not side track it, not be surprised at what I do; let us not be surprised at what he does. Will the Senator permit himself to be further interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to have an answer "Yes," or "No." It can be very easily made by the Senator. In other words, I would like to put the Senator on record.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, If there are any Senators absent whose votes would not in effect be "No," I would certainly be very glad to agree to the gentleman's proposition.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I am still of the opinion that the question remains unanswered. I would like to get the Senator from Allegheny on record because he is a very astute lawyer and I am very much afraid he has answered the question so it will chop with either side of the hatchet. I would like to know from the Senator from Allegheny County if this motion of his to postpone the question until April 22 prevails, if at that time those persons who are opposed to the granting of suffrage to women should come to him and say: "We have some of our men absent to-night, and prefer the question not to go to a vote," will he agree that the consideration of this bill be further postponed?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, for the reasons stated, of course I will not, because every Senator who is absent in effect votes "No," and nobody knows that better than the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus. I do support this motion for the reason that this fixes a time and puts it upon the record. There can be no question hereafter as to what I said or what the Senator from Philadelphia said. The stenographer has our remarks. The record will show that this is a special order of business for Tuesday, April 22. It will come up automatically and be disposed of, and every Senator has a fair notice of that time, and he then can be here, and I shall made no further objection and ask no further postponement and unless there are some extraordinary circumstances I would not consent to a further postponement, but I would not want to state that fact now.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, just one word. There certainly could be no objection to postponing action on this matter for two weeks. There is certainly nothing unfair about it and that will give those Senators who are away sick an opportunity to get here if they can get well, and I hope the bill will be postponed for two weeks.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BEIDLEMAN and Mr. KLINE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Alexander,	Hilton,	Martin,	Powell,
Clark,	Hoke,	Miller,	Sensenich,
Endsley,	Homsher,	Mills,	Sheatz,
Farley,	Huffman,	Moore,	Vare,
Graff,	Judson,	Nulty,	Washers,
Heacock,	Kurtz,

NAYS—19.

Beidleman,	DeWitt,	Hunter,	Morgan,
Buckman,	Fisher,	Jones,	Salus,
Catlin,	Gerberich,	Kline,	Sones,
Cooper,	Hall,	McNichol,	Thompson,
Crow,	Herbst,	McNichols,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bills of the House of Representatives as follows:

House Bill No. 174 (Senate Bi'l No. 940), entitled:

An Act providing for the transportation to Gettysburg of State officials guests of the State and certain honorably discharged soldiers on the occasion of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg providing for the expenses of the commission in charge of the transportation prohibiting misrepresentation in obtaining transportation fixing penalties for violation thereof and making an appropriation AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 170, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

He also presented to the Senate for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives as follows:

House Bill No. 170, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commissioner of Fisheries to sell the real estate upon which the fish hatchery at Spruce Creek Huntington County is located and providing for the disposition of the fund said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment. The vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that rule twenty-one which requires amended bills to be noted on the Calendar be in this case dispensed with, and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Said amendments were twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution, as follows:

By inserting a new section, to be known as Section 2, as follows:

Section 2 "In the event of a sale the Commissioner of Fisheries is hereby authorized and directed to execute for and on behalf of the Commonwealth any deed or deeds of convey the title which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania now has to said property in such form as the same may be prepared by the Attorney General"

Also in section 2, line 1, by striking out the figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure "3," so that the same shall read "Section 3."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—36.

Alexander,	Fisher,	Judson,	Nulty,
Beidleman,	Graff,	Kline,	Powell,
Buckman,	Gyger,	Knapp,	Salus,
Catlin,	Heacock,	Martin,	Sensenich,
Clark,	Hoke,	McNichol,	Sheatz,
Cooper,	Homsher,	McNichols,	Sones,
Crow,	Huffman,	Mills,	Thompson,
DeWitt,	Hunter,	Moore,	Vare,
Endsley,	Jones,	Morgan,	Wasbers,

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 157, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the classification of the townships of this Commonwealth with respect to their population into two classes and to prescribe the form of government for townships of each class' approved the twenty-eighth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine as to townships of the first class providing for certain duties of the secretary of the board of commissioners invalidating contracts hirings purchases or orders not provided for by in excess of appropriations providing for inspection of the records and documents by taxpayers and the method of making contracts said bill having been returned by the House of Representatives with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendments were twice read as follows:

In section 1, line 27, by striking out the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five." Also by adding to the section the words "provided that this section shall not apply to road contracts of any township of the first class owning at the time of the passage of this act its own tools implements and machinery necessary for repairing public highways

On the question,

Wil the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. HEACOCK. Mr. President, I introduced this bill at the solicitation of the solicitor of one of the largest first class township of Montgomery County. The law as it stands makes it the duty to advertise all bills over $100. They find it very often inconvenient to do this because of delay, and they ask for an increase to $300. The Senate has amended this bill which makes it so that they do not have to advertise at all, and therefore I hope that the Senate will not concur in the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. KURTZ. Mr. President, there seems to be some misunderstanding on my vote on woman suffrage. I voted consistently on this proposition, that everybody knows, as a general proposition. Last night the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, asked me personally whether I would be satisfied to have this bill go over and make a special order for it, and I told him that I would, and therefore I voted today to keep my promise on the proposition, and when it comes up again, if it does, I shall certainly vote as I have been voting. I wish to inform the Senators that I want to be consistent on this proposition.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, the same applies to my case. I had been asked by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, to this going over at this time. Therefore I voted as I have. I have not changed my mind any.

PRAYER.

O God, we pray for the Congress of the United States just assembled in special session. It is an important gathering fraught with interests which affects very vitally not merely the nation as a whole but great multitudes of people. The conditions are comparatively untried and new. Questions will be submitted which will be involved, complicated, perplexing. Thy servants need that wisdom, which is profitable, to direct. Grant them this wisdom. May they be sober, restrained, discreet, temperate. May they not view their office lightly but take very seriously the work which is before them. Bless thy servant, the President of the United States, who has such exceptional opportunities and yet who is so oppressed with heavy responsibilities and beset with insiduous perils. Guard and guide him; may all the men gathered about him, chosen to be his consellors and advisors, be wise and thoughtful men, so that all which is recommended, undertaken, accomplished shall be to the honor of God and for the welfare of the nation, and Thy name shall have the praise of it forever. Amen.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1451, entitled:

An Act providing for the resignation or retirement of certain officers and employees of State institutions and under certain conditions allowing them half pay during the remainder of their lives and making an appropriation therefor be placed on the Calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation on said bill by the Judiciary Special Committee.

Mr. McALLISTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, the object of this bill is to provide certain benefits for employees who have served in the penal institutions of our State, in insane asylums or reformatories, for the period of twenty-one years, provided they have reached the age of sixty-five and are physically incapacitated for performing the strenuous duties that are required in the institutions. There are certain officers in those institutions that have served for thirty and thirty-five years that are not able to perform the exacting duties required, and we think it is for the benefit of the institutions to have younger and stronger men in those offices. The question is, what is to become of those old men who have served those institutions so faithfully for so long a period, and it is not clear to the management how to keep those men in active service. This bill would simply provide that those men be put on special work after they have reached that age. They must always hold themselves in readiness to perform any service that the management may require of them, and I would ask you gentlemen to put this bill on the Calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Judiciary Special Committee. I have no fault to find with the committee. I think it is a very able committee. I think this is only a mistake they have made in this respect and would ask you gentlemen to place the bill on the Calendar.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BIGGER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, how many men would be affected by this measure if it went into effect?

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, I am informed that there are about seven in the Western Penitentiary; as to the other institutions I am unable to say.

Mr. LOWERS. What would be the approximate cost to the State?

Mr. BIGGER. These men are receiving at the present time from seventy to eighty-five and ninety dollars a month; and that would mean from thirty-five to forty-dollars a month for each one if it went into effect. I have no knowledge of the number of men that would be affected in institutions other than the Western Penitentiary.

I might state that we pension our judges fifty per cent. of the amount of salary that they receive. I believe it is only fair and equitable for the State to provide for those old men and officers who have served their best days in those institutions.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Sixty-three gentlemen, or more than the number required by the rules, having voted in the affirmative,

The motion was agreed to and the bill will be placed upon the Calendar.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. SCHUCK offered the following concurrent resolution, which was twice read as follows:

Resolved, if the Senate concur, that the date of final adjournment of the present session of the General Assembly be on Thursday, May 15, 1913.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. SASSAMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, may I have a word? At the response to a public demand, I introduced this resolution, and believe it is the desire upon the part of the members here to have something to say upon this matter instead of referring it to the wisdom of a few. I do not want it understood that I am an obstructionist to good legislation, nor am I objecting to taking sufficient time to do the work of this House, but I leave it to you, if you had any other business, you would try to do that business in a fixed time. You would fix a specified and alloted time, weeks, months or days, to do a certain task, contract or work. Why shouldn't we do it in this House? I am not arbitrarily contending for this date. All I ask you is not to let this go to the Committee on Rules, which is the graveyard committee of this House. Leave it to the judgment of the members of this House, and not those five men on that committee, who are there perhaps to advance many of their own desires. I ask you to consider this point. Only a week ago this same resolution was introduced, with a week earlier We have been in session here already thirteen weeks. We have had bills shut off three weeks. If you want to make the time in this resolution later, then when this resolution is called up from the Calendar, amend it. I might be one of those who will support an amendment to a later date, but above all let us consider this as a House. This is simply asking you for a referendum vote of the House, instead of referring it to five members of this House. Now, let us not magnify our importance and deceive ourselves into the opinion or belief that our constituents expect us to stay here all summer. They do not expect it. Already they are beginning to write of us as serving a term in the Legislature. All of the papers, in view of the fact that there is talk of a late adjournment, are beginning to talk of us in a derisive way. Let us be business-like. Let us not refer this to the Rules Committee. If you want to amend this to a later day, amend it, but let it be a matter for the House. I am not contending for an arbitrary day, but I am contending for a business-like method of handling this question, instead of referring it to men who perhaps have not finished out their political careers. Some of us have; some of us are here for recreation; others are here for a vacation; others are ready to go back home. There is one more point. I wish you to remember that the per diem wage of the employees of this House, not of the members, that is fixed, the per diem wage is $1500 a day, or $10,000 a week. Already we have passed the constitutional limit of one hundred days. We have passed it by one month, which means $40,000 extra wages paid to employees. I am asking you not to refer this to the Rules Committee. The Rockwell resolution, which required that a majority of those present and voting should be required to withdraw a negative bill and put it on the Calendar, if it had been considered favorably would have saved us a week, or at least half a week of time. All I ask is to let the House decide on this question.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, this is the first time that I have ever heard any man undertake to assert that the office of a member of the Legislature or an employee of the Legislature was created for the convenience of the office holders, and the doctrine that is being promulgated by the gentleman from Westmoreland is merely the annunciation of that doctrine. I do not believe that we feel that we were sent here to consult merely our own convenience as to the performance of our duty, I do not believe that we came here for the purpose of taking a vacation or for the purpose of spending a certain number of days performing the duties that might devolve upon us; and I would like to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland, or any other member of the House, whether or not he has undertaken to ascertain the length of time that will be required to consider the legislation that is pending before this House. The gentleman says that in any private business that we would figure upon a definite time. I will agree with the gentleman that that is true, on condition that we had a definite duty to perform; but here we are undertaking an indefinite duty. We are considering a great number of bills and no man can determine how long it will take to give those bills the proper consideration. I believe, as the gentleman says, that there is great unnecessary expense being incurred here each day by reason of the employees in the House, because we will all agree that there is unnecessary expense attending the employment of some of them; but if this expense is so great, are not the people of the State entitled to some consideration for the expense that is being incurred? And when the gentleman at this time undertakes to fix a date for adjournment, they are merely undertaking to say that we should shut off expenses without returning to the people the consideration to which they are entitled, and the legislation which is merited by them from this session, and I hope that this resolution will be referred to the Committee on Rules, not as a graveyard committee, but as the proper committee to determine questions such as this, that may come before the House; and I believe that that Committee, if it exercises its wisdom, as I believe it will, will make a graveyard of this resolution for the present at least.

MR FLYNN IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Speaker, I entirely agree with what has been said by the gentleman from Crawford. In my judgment, the definite, arbitrary fixing of a date of adjournment at this time is inopportune and I do not think the gentleman from Westmoreland is justified in referring to the Committee on Rules as a graveyard committee. The Committee on Rules has a very considerable responsibility to this House. The Committee on Rules has imposed upon it the duty of keeping track of the progress of legislation and of advising from time to time what should be the course of the House with reference thereto. A little over a week ago the gentleman introduced and the House sent to the Committee on Rules, a resolution fixing the 8th day of May as the date of adjournment. If the gentleman was right at that time, then the resolution which he introduces this morning will keep the House here a week after the time when it will be able to finish its work. If he was wrong at that time, then he may be wrong at this time in the date which he writes into his resolution. There is one time, Mr. Speaker, for this House to adjourn and that is, when it has completed the work which the members come here to do. We cannot say now how many days or weeks it will take to complete the work which remains to be completed before we can go home and look our constitutents squarely in the faces. As an illustration of the impossibility of determining with accuracy beforehand how long it will take to dispose of a given number of bills, take the Governor's Highway Bill, so-called, which was disposed of last night on second reading. Ordinarily, in figuring how much time it was going to take to get over the second reading, one would decide thirty seconds was sufficient to dispose of that bill on second reading. We all know how much time it consumed. I do not say that time was improperly used, but I simply use it as an illustration of the impossibility of determining beforehand how long it will take to get along with legislation.

Now, Mr. Speaker, this House has been acquitting itself with credit in disposing of the business which has come before it. I know there has been some disposition to send abroad the impression that the House has been wasting its time and has not been doing business. That is unjust to the House. When the gentleman introduced his resolution, fixing the 8th day of May, which was introduced at the end of the week before last—on the 27th of March, I had sufficient curiosity to have the records of this House compared with the records of the two preceding Houses, as to the amount of work done up to that time. I found that up to the 27th of March, this House had passed and sent to the Senate, 204 House Bills. I found that in the session of 1911, up to the same date, the 27th of March, the House had passed and sent to the Senate, 157 House Bills. The House of 1913, gauging it by that standard, which is a fair one, had done thirty per cent. more work up to the 27th of March than had been done by the House of 1911.

Now, it has been suggested that if we fix a specific date of adjournment then we will work up to that date and do more work. Can we well do more work than we have been doing in the same time? Will all discussion of measures cease, if a definite date is fixed? Will time not necessarily be consumed in the proper discussion of measures? You would think to hear some suggestions, not by members of the House, but popular suggestions, that when we stop to discuss a bill we are wasting our time, that the thing we are here to do is to vote on bills and pass them without discussion, without explanation. Mr. Speaker, in my opinion, up to this time in this House, there has not been an undue amount of time devoted to the discussion of measures. Measures of importance coming before this House ought to be discussed. The views of members ought to be compared. I have heard some suggestions here that the Chair was too liberal in recognizing members to discuss bills. Mr. Speaker, if it is desired that bills shall be put through this House, without members who get up in good faith addressing the Chair for the purpose of expressing their views, without such members being recognized and allowed to speak, this House will have to get a new Speaker.

It is said that if you fix a definite date of adjournment you will work faster. In the session of 1909, on the very day the House organized, in entire disregard of what work might come before it, this plan was adopted. On the very day the Speaker was selected the 15th of April was fixed as the date of adjournment. I said a few moments ago that up to the 27th of March this House had passed and sent to the Senate 204 House Bills. In 1909, notwithstanding the fact that on the date of organization the 15th day of April had been fixed as the date of adjournment, the House on the 27th of March had passed and sent to the Senate only 184 House Bills. Does that show that by fixing an arbitrary date of adjournment the House will work faster? The members of this House are not children. They do not need to bind themselves in this manner in order to induce themselves to perform the duty which they recognize.

This resolution, and any such resolution at this time, ought to go to the Committee of Rules. I think the Committee of Rules is a conscientious body of men, and I think as soon as they are able to perceive from the state of work of the House, from the state of work of the Legislature, that a definite date of adjournment can be fixed, they will report out a rule with that date in it. I do not say that that date will be later than the day fixed by this resolution. That I do not know. I am willing to work and I am sure the great majority of the members of the House are willing to work with the utmost diligence to try and get the work of this House finished by that time, then if we have tied ourselves up in a resolution at this time, what will we do? Send a resolution to the Senate extending the time? I fear such a resolution, if this resolution is once adopted and we get down to the 15th of May and find there is a week or ten days' work yet to be done and we send a resolution over to the Senate extending the time of the adjournment for a week or ten days, I would fear that by some inadvertence that resolution might be referred to the Senate Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. Speaker, we might have passed a half dozen bills while this matter has been before the House. I urge, Mr. Speaker, that we devote ourselves with the utmost diligence to performing our work and that we do not take a chance of spoiling the effect of all the good work we have done and are trying to do, by putting this House in the position of saying to the people of Pennsylvania, we are going to quit on the 15th day of May whether we have finished your work or not.

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. ALTER, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALTER. I will.

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker, if we have a definite date fixed for adjourment, does not the gentleman know that we will save paper and ink and prevent some of our worthy members from spreading themselves on the Journal.

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know this to be a fact. I well remember in the session of 1909, notwithstanding as I have said that we fixed the fifteenth day of April as the day of adjournment on the day of the organization of this House, we spent one whole night's session here discussing the local option bill, which had a smaller following in that session than it had in this. And this other point, speaking of paper and ink, if the gentleman are going to suggest that we are to work a great deal faster than we have been working, then who is going to do your printing.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I quite agree in much that has been said, especially all in relation to the defense of the Rules Committee. At the beginning of this session many of the members of the House felt that a Code of Rules had been adopted in former years which would not justify them in adopting for the government of this session, and thereupon, new rules were prepared which seemed at the time very satisfactory to the members of this House. From the time this House commenced its work, until this time, numerous changes were suggested and numerous changes were considered by the Committee on Rules, and considered for the sole purpose of determining what benefits might come to this House from such changes of the Rules as had been suggested. Several changes have been reported by the Committee on Rules and I think the House will agree that each of those changes has proved of material benefit to this House in the transaction of its business. There has been no endeavor at any time on the part of the Rules Committee to stifle anything that appeared good. There are reposing in the Committee, I believe, at this time, two or more resolutions attempting to fix the day of adjournment. Those matters have been thoroughly discussed by the Committee on Rules, and thoroughly considered from the standpoint of this House and especially from the relation that the membership of this House bears to the people back home. You must take into consideration, Mr. Speaker, that at the very beginning of this session this House was made up of a great majority of members who had pledged themselves to place upon the statute book certain legislation at this session. No time limit was fixed within which to do that. None is provided by the Constitution, certainly the history of this House from the time the House was first organized down to this time establishes no fixed rule by which this House shall adjourn within a limited time. When the members of this House who claimed to be so progressive at that time and demanded so much progressive legislation stepped before the bar of this House, they took an oath to perform their duties of legislators of this great Commonwealth in a certain way, and to perform those duties fully. Now we know, we all know, and none can be so blind but that they can see, none so deaf that they cannot hear that the most important legislation which the various members have pledged to the people of this great Commonwealth still reposes in Committee and it is being considered there from day to day by those Committees from all standpoints. Now, along comes a resolution injected on the spur of the moment, hurled upon the members and we are asked to pass this resolution, and now, and now, if you please, without a moment's thought, without a moment's consideration, we are to say that on the fifteenth day of May at high noon we drop the curtain upon this session leaving behind as undone whatever may be there irrespective of the fact that we have promised to do certain things, and many of them. Mr. Speaker, it has been the thought of the Rules Committee and their action up to this moment that at least the raise of the dawn of the closing day should appear on the horizon before the Committee on Rules made a suggestion to the House as to when that day should end. We have important legislation here, as the Speaker of the House said a moment ago, when he occupied this floor. No man can tell how much time it will take to thoroughly consider those matters. To state another instance, Mr. Speaker. To those members who were sufficiently attentive to their duties to be on the floor of this House on Thursday last, you will recollect and you will recall the fact that almost an entire bill was written by amendments on the floor of this House on Thursday last—a bill that should have come from the Committee and passed second reading within a moment's time, because it should have been reported out of the Committee in amended form, and yet much to the surprise of this House moment after moment dropped away and almost an hour was consumed in re-writing that bill on the floor of the House, when one of the gentleman from Delaware, to save the time of the House, moved that the bill be recommitted to the Committee for the purpose of amendment, which ought to have been done at the very inception of the consideration of that bill. None that were here knew that that time was going to be consumed, and yet it was. Twenty bills could have passed second reading on the floor of this House while that bill was being considered, and at the time the consideration stopped, the bill was no further on than it was at the very beginning. No one knew when the amendments were going to end, and so it was endured from time to time, and the time went on. We have such bills before us now on the calendar, and no one can vouch safe how long it will take for a moment to pass a bill. But five or six minutes are consumed in the calling of the roll. There may be bills upon this calendar and I have seen them from day to day, which, when called, met with justifiable opposition and met with defeat when it appeared at the time, at the very time that the Chair asked the question as to whether or not the House would agree to the bill on third reading, or was making the announcement that the bill had been read at length three times on three different days. Now we all know that from experience, and why this undue haste. Why this undue haste. Is it possible that it is brought about with the expectation of getting through this House certain measures which some one may be interested in, while the measures which you and I and our people are interested in may be left just far enough behind that when the bell rings we are down and out. Is that it? There is no per diem for the members of this legislative body. I hope that no member on the floor of this House is working for a per diem. I hope that he feels the responsible duty which rests upon him, and is moved by a certain patriotic spirit to stay here until duty is done. I for one, Mr. Speaker, am heartily opposed to the consideration of this resolution, to its adoption, and I too, heartily concur in the suggestion that the resolution should be referred to the Committee on Rules, and that Committee will give any member of this House any hearing that he may seek to have why the resolution should be brought out in its present form and adopted.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, let us dispose of this resolution and get down to business and remove these great snowbanks before us before the time of the summer heat comes to melt them away.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

RESOLUTION RELATION TO COMMITTEE ON RULES REPORTING RESOLUTION.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Moved that the Rules Committee be given instructions to report on this resolution upon the day of adjournment not later than next Monday, April 14th, 1913.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is not in order.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE COMMITTEE ON RULES BEING DISCHARGED FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF A RESOLUTION.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a motion at this time.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas, the Committee on Rules has had in its possession for more than ten days a resolution to change Rule 37 in relation to requiring sixty votes to put a bill on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of a committee, and no action taken thereon.

Moved, that the Rules Committee be discharged from the further consideration of said resolution.

Mr. WALTON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that one of the most important things that is delaying us in this matter of getting along with the work is this last rule of allowing sixty members to overrule one hundred and forty-seven members of this House. There has been bill after bill put upon the calendar here by sixty members voting in its favor. If I am correct in my recollection, not a single bill in this session of the House that has been placed upon the calendar in this manner has passed the House. If we are going to adhere to such a foolish rule as that rule of sixty, we might as well discharge every committee of this House, and it seems to me that it is time to get down to the common sense principles of American procedure and let the majority rule.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the Rule of Sixty is not to prevent or stifle important legislation. The fault has been found with our procedure under that rule. It is not at all that the number is too small but from the fact that committees are content to negative bills and then seem totally afraid to stand up and defend their negative action. Those bills which have been negatived by the committee have been placed upon the Calendar without objection from anybody. Those committeemen who voted to negative a bill and then voted to place it on the Calendar afterwards have practically admitted that their action in negativing a bill has been improper, and when they do that of course the House puts them on the Calendar—when they practically admit that they should not have been negatived. There is then nothing else to do but to put them on the Calendar. Under the rules of the House the procedure is that no bills be negatived unless they ought to be negatived and if they ought to be negatived, the members ought to stand up and say so on the floor of the House and sustain the committee's action when they understand the facts? If the committees will only do that we will have a liberal rule sensibly enforced and we will lose no time and everything will be correct.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, just one more word. This sixty rule vote is one of the most absurd propositions we have had in this Legislature. Suppose we have 207 members present. Sixty members vote to put a bill on the Calendar to-day and 147 vote no. Immediately afterwards, one of these move to strike it off. Where are you? You are simply playing "fox and geese" and accomplish nothing.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I heartily concur in the motion made by the gentleman from Tioga. This rule was formulated by the Committee on Committees and we wanted it to be eminently fair as regards the negativing of bills. From past experience we know that it was very difficult for a member to secure one hundred and four votes to have his bill placed on the Calendar when it was negatived by a committee. We knew that there were certain days only—the only days when the consideration for the placing of bills on the Calendar was taken up. But since this rule of sixty has been in operation, it has been, to my mind, a joke. To illustrate: I wish to show how impractical our friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, is; and I wish to designate which Mr. Scott, as we have both of them from Philadelphia (Mr. S. B. Scott) should consider that if there is any man who desires to have a bill placed on the Calendar after it is negatived, that he can accomplish this. There is not a man in this House that cannot go around among the members and talk to them and see them personally and with proper solicitation have a majority help him to put his bill on the Calendar, if there is any reason for it at all. I don't believe that any man in this body who has any industry or energy could fail in this and he could easily succeed in getting his bill placed on the Calendar. There is one point to which I wish to refer: My friend from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, argues that if the members would stand up and defend their position after negativing a bill, the effect and result would be different. It shows how impracticable the gentleman from Philadelphia is. I think if he would follow the method suggested in what I have just said he would be more successful and not so often defeated.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the motion now is to discharge the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, not only is that over-riding the action of this House taken at the beginning this session but, to my mind, it is a discourtesy to the Committee on Rules. The motion was referred to the Committee on Rules. It is true that they have not reported it out within ten days, but surely with the assurance from the Chairman of that committee some action will be taken and, certainly, the gentleman from Tioga will not press his motion so that this question can come before the House will give some assurance to the House that some action will be taken and that the gentleman from Tioga will accept it, and with that assurance that he will withdraw his motion so that this question can come before the House only as presented by the committee and be argued within lines commissioned by parliamentary procedure. You can then go into its merits or demerits. I hope the Chairman of the Committee on Rules will make some statement here in the House as to the purpose of the committee on this question.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, feels that we should not over-ride the Committee on Rules by a majority vote. That will be the question that will come before us and yet he stands for a proposition where sixty members can over-ride the committee. It seems to me that the gentleman from Philadelphia has taken the position of disrespecting the committee by providing that sixty men can bring the bill out after it is negatived by the committee. The proposition presented in the resolution offered by the gentleman from Tioga will be a majority question. He simply asks whether the majority will agree with him, on his motion, and the gentleman from Philadelphia argues that he is in favor of the proposition where sixty men can over-ride the report of the committee. In my judgment, he has placed himself in a contradictory position. My idea is that he is wrong and as to the rule of sixty. I agree with the gentleman from Tioga, it is a joke, and this House has a desire to dispose of that joke.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, it comes with a very bad grace from the gentleman from Tioga to offer a motion to revoke this rule. The Committee on Rules have considered this resolution of his and didn't think it advisable to report on it for the present for the reason that he says, in the last paragraph of his resolution, "A majority of the members present and voting may place a bill upon the Calendar that has been negatived by a committee." If there are less than a majority of members in the House that might give you less than sixty votes if you adopt his resolution—that is possible. The idea is to make that more votes than is required, but the committee does not care if it is discharged and relieved from further consideration.

The SPEAKER. The question now is will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I demand a roll call.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the demand for a roll call.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, in order that the House may not misunderstand the Chairman, who is somewhat husky this morning and not very clearly understood, they have given this matter consideration and have not made any report.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ROCKWELL and Mr. R. J. BALDWIN, and were as follows:

Upon the expiration of the time designated in the reports to the said court where no appeal is taken or from the final order after appeal the names of those who have failed to comply either with the notice of said bureau or the court's order based upon appeal shall be certified by the officer or agent of said bureau to the district attorney who upon receipt of the same shall cause a prosecution to be at once instituted against such person or persons

Section 4 The officers or agents of this bureau shall have at all times the right of ingress into all premises as aforementioned

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. REESER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a motion at this time.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the motion as follows:

Moved that the vote by which House Bill No. 557, file folio 2679, entitled "An Act to classify certain surface lands as auxiliary forest reserves, to prescribe the terms and conditions for their continuance in said classification or their withdrawal therefrom, and to provide for expenses attendant thereon," was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

Mr. BENNINGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, this motion is made to reconsider a bill which was defeated on final passage last week. I understand that this bill has been before the legislature, or legislations of a similar nature, session after session, for the past ten or twelve years, and each and every time it has been defeated on the grounds that this bill would permit large holders of land to place their land in a class whereby they would be exempt from taxation, the maximum assessment being one dollar per acre. Now, I characterize this as nothing more than a scheme on the part of such land owners to escape paying their just taxations and in the county from which I come it would be possible for the lands in entire townships to become exempt as provided under the terms of this bill, without the consent of any of the local authorities, and by simply gaining permission from the Forestry Commission. I do not believe that the members of this House will vote to reconsider this bill, especially those who know just what it would mean to such counties as mine, and to other counties of this Commonwealth. I hope that the motion will be defeated.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, repeatedly during this session, I might say, day after day, the vote by which bills had been defeated has been reconsidered, and the bills placed on the Calendar. It is not my purpose at this time to enter into any discussion of these bills. They speak for themselves. I only ask from this House the same fair consideration of this bill that has been given to other bills in similar positions.

The question recurring.

Will the House agree to the adoption of the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. FLYNN and Mr. SAVACOOL, and were as follows:

The SPEAKER. The question recurs, Shall the bill pass?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, it is not fair to consider this bill except in connection with four other bills. If the Chair will indulge me just for a moment I will submit what I have to offer.

Some years ago the State thought well to conserve water power and waste lands of this State for the benefit of the whole Commonwealth. In doing that, the State provided that a State Forestry Commission should be appointed with power to purchase waste lands within the borders of this Commonwealth. Also provided, Mr. Speaker, that this Commission should have no power to sell any of this land but to hold it perpetually for the benefit of the people of this Commonwealth. More particularly to conserve the water power on these waste lands. Now, Mr. Speaker, the attorney who drew that original bill was very careful to make it so binding that it would hold water in any court in this Commonwealth and so far this bill has held water in every court in this Commonwealth and to-day we have about one million acres situate in the vast beck-woods districts and mountain districts not suitable for farming and it has been taken up by these men and is held and the commission is graudally acquiring all the intervening pieces so that these waste lands will be in one solid body of the different communities to conserve the water power of that community for the benefit of the whole State. In fact, not benefiting that township alone but for the benefit of all the rivers and creeks that empty into the highways and waterways of the Commonwealth. This commission is thoroughly tied up so that it cannot sell the mineral rights that may be found on these tracts. From time to time some interests, we know not what interests, of these measures have come before this House to tear loop-holes into this bill that was so carefully drawn. That is one of the efforts now to put a loop-hole into the original bill.

There are five different bills before this House to-day. One bill provides that this Commission can sell this land or any portion of these lands if it wishes. Former attempts were made to sell the water power. It was always voted down. Now that bill before this House provides that you can sell land which includes the water power.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to be interrupted until I am through.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Josiah Howard, declines to yield the floor.

Mr. Josiah Howard. Mr. Speaker, I know what the intent is. I want to say that in answer to the question he intended to raise that this particular bill does not cover that point. I want to say to the members of this House that you have taken four bills into consideration in considering this subject, because any one of the bills covers the subject which bill has a part of its own. If you carry this, you will cut a loop-hole into this, through which you can drive an ox-cart. It will not be any trouble at all to tie up the water power and particularly a lot of rights. We have for a number of years been trying to conserve for the benefit of the whole Commonwealth. I am just as firmly in favor of conservation as any member on the floor of this House. We have another provision now existing to conserve the rights that we intend by this Commission to conserve, and the water power, for the benefit of the people of the whole Commonwealth. This particular combinations of bills will take out of the power of the local assessors, of the local county commissioners, the right of assessing these lands or any lands belonging to the private hunting clubs and belonging to any recreation park or the lands belonging to any lumber company, taking them out of the hands of the assessors and putting them into this list at one dollar per acre. The argument is made here that twenty-five to fifty or one hundred years from now, if the men or the corporations owning these lands do not pay that back tax, the tax shall be charged to him and he shall furnish a bond to secure that tax. I want to appeal to you that no taxation unless it is levied by the right assessor can ever be replaced when once it has been removed. I rise to a point of order that under the Constitution, no property except such as is exempt by the Constitution shall be relieved of taxation. This bill and this combination of bills will relieve a certain tracts of land of taxation over and above a dollar an acre on assessed value. That value can never be assessed. You can never compel a lumber man to pay a tax then who has timber which is now valued at one hundred and fifty to two hundred dollars an acre. You can never take him back into court and say that ten years ago he should have paid tax on a valuation of one hundred and fifty dollars an acre and therefore you owe this Commonwealth, or you owe this county, or you owe this township the difference between one hundred and fifty dollars and one dollar or one hundred and forty-nine dollars, the full valuation that could have been levied against you ten years ago. I say that this is against the Constitution; it is removing taxation from a private property.

POINT OF ORDER.

I raise the point of order that the bill and the whole combination of bills are out of order because they exempt private property from taxation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is not able to sustain the point of order.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I hope the members of the House will not be influenced by the remarks of the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Josiah Howard. It has very largely to do with the lands owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania representing very nearly one million acres. These bills have not anything to do with the lands not owned by the Commonwealth of the State of Pennsylvania, to-day. They have to do with the barren lands and the thought is to try to educate the owners of those lands to place them into the auxiliary reserve so that they may be reforested. It matters not to me whether it takes fifty or one hundred years, so my children or my grandchildren, or your children and grandchildren and your posterity, can reap the benefits of the laws and all laws of this kind, and to that I say Amen.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir. I will.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please inform the members of this House if the Goodyears lands of Cameron and McKean County now assessed under a valuation of one hundred and fifty dollars were relieved under this bill, whether they would not be paying a rate of one dollar on the valuation on this land until they cut them?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, yes, but before any lands of that kind would be taken over for the auxiliary forest commission it is up to them. It is not up to the individual to put lands in reservation. The valuation is made to the forestry commission. They investigate the character of the lands and if they deem it advisable, they will do so. The gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Howard, the other day in his remarks admitted as the owner of a large area of strip land in Cameron County that these bills didn't offer any inducement to him. I don't see why he is so unduly alarmed in regard to other large owners of lands.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman from Tioga.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, if this land now assessed can be placed by this bill in that auxiliary forestry today, at one dollar per acre, how will the townships and the counties from which I came and other similar counties ever be able to put it back to one hundred and forty-nine dollars valuation on these lands.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, the proposition is preposterous. The gentleman from Cameron knows that active lumber operations carried on today by the Goodyears on the land that he refers to and other cutting of timber amounts to probably twenty-five to fifty millions of feet per year. Practically it is only a question of four or five years and then the timber will be entirely removed.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I insist on an answer to my question, how a township could ever get back this $149 valuation?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Why, Mr. Speaker, if lands of that character were placed in this auxiliary forest reserve, the lands that he refers to, and that is one of the very few tracts in this State that is timbered with valuable original timber, that if that land were put in the auxiliary timber reserve, the time it is cut it would get more than that valuation back, and when it is cut he knows it will go down to a dollar or two dollars valuation.

Mr. JOSHIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I ask an answer to my question. How would the township get back that $149 valuation?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Why, when the timber is removed, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I insist on my point of order. There is no way of placing the valuation on lands in past years. After the year has gone by you cannot go back and assess land for the year before or the year before that. An assessment must be made in the regular way by the regular assessors, and there is a regular day for tax appeals, and if that day of appeal goes by you cannot go into court and place a re-valuation on this land for last year or the year before. These bills are entirely out of order because they remove personal property from the taxation power of the county and of the township, and there is no way of ever putting it back. Mr. Speaker, I represent a county in which this situation exists today. The people are not cutting the timber in Cameron County today. How long before they will remove it, I do not know. Cameron County, like every other county, is trying to be progressive, and issued bonds and is trying to pay off those bonds. Not only will the original virgin timber be affected by this bill, but any other property that has a valuation of more than one dollar, or any individual can grow one half dozen trees and say that they are an auxiliary forest. Any amusement park, or any large timber company, any large paper mill, and we have them in our section, Mr. Speaker—two of them, owned by New York and Pennsylvania companies. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is growing tie timber. All of those interests can put their land into this auxiliary forest reserve, and I say, Mr. Speaker, you can never get them back on the tax levy after the year has gone by and after the time of appeal has elapsed. I ask for my point of order that the bills are out of order and unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, the question is on the point of order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already dispensed with the gentleman's point of order. At the time the point of order was raised, the Chair stated that the point of order would not be sustained.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I understood that you were not able to decide.

The SPEAKER. The Chair stated that the Chair was not able to sustain the point of order. The point of order was overruled.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to reiterate what I said before: That this bill means that land owners can have their lands exempt from taxation by placing them in a reserve at the discretion of the State Forestry Commission, and that in a country like mine—there are large townships in which there is nothing else to tax but this class of land. This bill would be fatal to these townships, and I am sure if the members of this House knew what that meant to us they would vote this bill down.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I beg your pardon, but I really did not know that my point of order had been decided. I was talking entirely on my point of order. If the Chair allow me, I would like to say a few words on the bill itself.

The SPEAKER. In view of the gentleman's misunderstanding, the Chair will gladly recognize the gentleman from Cameron.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to take up much time on a bill of this kind. All similar bills have been defeated, and I simply wish to call the attention of the House, Mr. Speaker, to what the Forestry Commission is asking for this year, if you will allow me to. Mr. Speaker, the Forestry Commission has acquired about one million acres of land. I think it is nine hundred and some odd thousands, but for round numbers we will call it one million acres of land. This bill provides that any individual or any corporation can go to the Forestry Commission and place their lands under its supervision. As an inducement for individuals to place their lands under the Forestry Commission's supervision, the Forestry Department will pay to the township in which the lands are located the sum of four cents an acre. This four cents an acre will be deducted from the taxes of the owner of the land, whether it is a private party or a corporation. They will be relieved of paying four cents an acre, and the State will replace that to the township by the amount of four cents an acre. This bill provides that this shall be as an inducement for people to place their lands in the auxiliary forest reserve. Now, Mr. Speaker, whoever does that and does it honestly, places his land, in consideration of four cents an acre, under the supervision of the Forest Department.

I wish to call the attention of this House to what the Forest Department is doing on its own lands, and what it might require an individual or a corporation to do. The Forestry Department says, "We wish $6,000 for the salary of the Commissioner; we wish $5,000 for the salary of the Deputy; we wish $6,000 for clerk hire; we wish $6,000 for contingent expenses; we wish $5,000 for traveling expenses of the Forestry Commission; we wish $175,000 for salaries of foresters; we wish $175,000 for salaries of forest rangers; we wish $15,000 for draftsmen and bookkeepers; we wish $20,000 for surveys; we wish $250,000 for labor; we wish $15,000 for examination of titles; we wish $200,000 for maintenance of forests; we wish $42,000 for school tax; we wish $42,000 for road tax; we wish $200,000 for purchase of extra land; we wish $50,000 for extinguishing forest fires; we wish $25,000 for the maintenance of State Forestry Academy; we wish $5,000 for the examination of shade trees; we wish $7,500 for farm forestry and farm wood lots; we wish $6,000 for deficit—examination of titles; we wish $3,500 for deficit—extinguishing forest fires; we wish $5,000 for the purchase of Ginseng seed; and $275,000 for the Chestnut Tree Blight Commission. This will make a total of $1,539,000 that the Forestry Commission is asking this year. $200,000 is for the purchase of new land; the balance of it is for the Chestnut Tree Blight Commission, for labor and for foresters and for examining the lands, amounting to about $1,300,000 to take care of one million acres of land.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I submit that it is no inducement to any honest corporation to relieve them of four cents of tax, to place their lands under the supervision of the Forestry Commission, which is itself expending about one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre to take care of its own land. Mr. Speaker, this does not interfere with the general Forestry Commision. It interferes with it in this way, that it will allow an individual doing, in exchange for four cents, anything that they may require, without any restriction on the Forestry Department. The bill does provide that the owner of these lands can thin out and cut down dying timber or aged timber. Mr. Speaker, we appeared before the Forestry Committee of this House and asked them to insert a clause, if they really thought this was a good bill. We asked the Forestry Committee to insert a clause in this bill that would provide that the cutting of pulp wood and railroad ties and other various products which are not known as timber, and not so designated by the courts of this Commonwealth as timber, should be specified. It would have taken up but line in this bill to insert that clause, Mr. Speaker, and that clause was not inserted. I say that this bill is so poorly drawn that there are no restrictions, no safeguards and no protection to any individual or corporation wishing to place their lands under the Forestry Department. It simply says that you shall be subject to the Forestry Department, without defining in any way what that Forestry Department or Commission can require of you. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that this bill has been changed from the Forestry Commision to the Forest Commission. Now the Forest Commission, as you all know, is subject to change every year. Two members of that Forest Commission are away past the age of the ordinary run of life, I think towards the years of eighty. In all probability they will not have anything to do with this bill, but, Mr. Speaker, they have been worked up to such a pitch in their old age that they are away off on the idea of forest conservation, and have tried this new scheme of opening up the forest reserves of the State of Pennsylvania, and are placing the lands that control the water power of this State in the hands of individuals, without any restrictions on them, nor any safeguards that the forestry bill contains.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, at this time I desire to call up bill No. 558, file folio 2687, bills on third reading postponed, on page 52 of yesterday's Calendar. This is a companion bill to the one just passed.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 558, entitled as follows:

An Act to provide for the assessment and taxation of auxiliary forest reserves and the collection distribution and use of the taxes collected therefrom

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all surface land which may hereafter be classified and set apart as auxiliary forest reserves in the manner provided by law shall be rated in value for the purpose of taxation not in excess of one dollar ($1.00) per acre and shall continue to be so rated so long as the said land remains within the class designated as auxiliary forest reserves Provided however that if the said surface land be underlaid with coal iron ore oil gas or other valuable minerals said minerals may be separately assessed The assessors in the several districts in which such lands are situate shall assess such lands in the manner now or hereafter provided for the assesment of real estate for purposes of taxation as if they had not been set apart as auxiliary forest reserves and shall make their returns in the county commissioners in like manner as is now or hereafter may be provided by law subject to exception appeal and final adjustment

Section 2 Upon receipt of assessment returns from the various assessors the county commissioners shall reduce in their records to a sum not in excess of one dollar ($1.00) per acre the assessment on all those lands which shall have been placed in the class known as auxiliary forest reserves in accordance with certificates filed with them by the "State Forestry Reservation Commission" and the original assessment returns made by said assessors shall be preserved

Section 3 Whenever timber on land which is included in the class of land known as auxiliary forest reserves is about to be harvested the then owner of the timber on said land shall give a bond to the county treasurer in twenty per centum of the amount of the estimated value of the timber to be harvested and to be approved by the court of the county conditioned to pay to the county treasurer within ninety- days after harvesting ten per centum of the value of the trees immediately at and before the time of harvesting which amount shall be ascertained by statement and return under oath or affirmation furnished in triplicate one to the county commissioners one to the county treasurer and one to the commission immediately after havesting by the then owner of the land setting forth said value which sum thus paid shall be divided and distributed by the county treasurer of each county to the county and to the poor district the road district and the school district of the township in which the auxiliary reserve is situate pro rata upon the last assessed mileage of taxation for county poor road and school purposes within said taxing district

Such sum of money when ascertained to be due as a tax by the filing of the foregoing statement and return under oath and as hereinbefore provided directed to be paid to the county treasurer by the owner of an auxiliary forest reserve shall from the time of such filing be and remain a lien upon the land of such owner until payment shall have been made

And be it further provided that all moneys received by the boards of supervisors shall be appropriated exclusively to the opening maintenance and repair of the public roads now or hereafter passing through or into said auxiliary forest reserves or upon which said reserves now or hereafter may abut and in the event that no public highways pass through or into said reserves or none of said reserves abut on such highways then said moneys shall be used for general township road purposes

Section 4 Should the county commissioners be dissatisfied with the return made as hereinbefore provided in section three hereof the court of common pleas of the proper county on petition of the commissioners shall appoint a board of three appraisers who shall go upon the land in question estimate the quantity and value of the trees immediately at and before the time of harvesting and make a return thereof to the court which said return shall then be made the basis upon which each owner shall make payment to the respective county treasurers unless changed upon appeal The said appraisers shall be duly sworn or affirmed before entering upon their work and either party if dissatisfied with the report of the appraisers shall have right of appeal to the court of common pleas of the county within ten days after such report shall be filed and notice thereof given the owner The said appraisers shall be allowed their expenses and a compensation to be fixed by the court botn to be paid by the county commissioners

Section 5 In case of the removal of said lands from the class known as auxiliary forest reserves prior to the maturity of the timber and without payment of the tax of ten per centum of the value thereof as provided in section three of this act the county commissioners shall on notice from the commission ascertain the amount of the taxes which would have been paid by the said owner on the original assessment before the reduction provided for in section two of this act adding legal interest from the date when each tax payment would have become delinquent The said commissioners shall likewise ascertain the amount of taxes which have actually been paid upon the land in question adding legal interest upon all such payments from the date when paid and certify the result thereof to the county treasurer who shall then proceed in the manner provided for the collection or county taxes under genelar laws to recover from such owner the difference between the two amounts with costs Such difference so ascertained to be due as tax as aforesaid shall be and remain a lien upon the land of such owner until payment shall have been made

If such land shall be so removed from said class after the due cutting of a matured crop and the payment of tax thereon the owner shall in that case not be liable for such past assessment but the land shall thereafter be liable to assessment and tax as all other land not classed as auxiliary fores reserves

Section 6 This act shall take effect only beginning with assessments made for the purpose of levying taxes for the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, did I consider a while ago that your ruling on the question of taxation applied to the other bill or did not apply to the other bill as an individual bill?

The SPEAKER. The point raised by the gentleman from Cameron was, that the bill then under consideration was unconstitutional. The Chair did not sustain the point of order. The ruling, of course, applied only to the bill then under consideration.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, As I understand this present bill, No. 558, applies to the method of taxation. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if this bill does not apply that the local assessor shall not assess the lands beyond a valuation of one dollar, any lands that are placed in what are known as auxiliary forest reserves, lands under the previous bill?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, replying to the gentleman from Cameron, I will say that this bill does fix the value of lands taken over into the auxiliary forest reserves, at one dollar per acre, for the purpose of local taxation.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman, whether it is not a fact that these auxiliary forest reserves are owned by individuals and corporations.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would say they are.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, then as these lands are owned by individuals and corporations and this bill in itself will provide that these lands shall not be assessed at over one dollar per acre but does provide. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman further, does it provide that later on whenever the timber is harvested that then the back taxes shall be charged against the owner? Is that right, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. WILLIAMS. No, Mr. Speaker, it provides that when the timber grown on this land and matures, ten per cent. of its value is paid to the County Treasurer and by him distributed to the County, Township and School Districts.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman further. Does not the bill provide that at any time before the harvesting of the timber that the owner may remove these lands by paying the back taxes?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, the owner has the right to withdraw his lands at any time, but when he does his lands are holden for the difference between one dollar and the value at which the lands are assessed when they passed into the auxiliary reserve. In the meantime the State pays to the school district and the township two cents an acre each, the same as it pays on the land that the State owns.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I raise the point of order that that this is unconstitutional under two articles of the constitution. First the State cannot pay the taxes for any township or any county or any municipality or anybody else, except for the purpose of war or other articles mentioned in the constitution. Second, that this particular bill in itself will remove these lands from the power of the local assessor to assess them at their correct value, and they having once been removed and the day of appeal gone by, that there is no method under the constitution by which that back tax can be collected or reassessed for the years gone by. Therefore it is contrary to the constitution by relieving individuals and corporations and exempting them from taxation.

First, that the State cannot pay taxes for anybody else. Second, that the bill will relieve private property and exempt it from taxation and I raise the point of order that the bill is unconstitutional.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, when it comes to a constitutional question I cannot discuss it with the gentleman from Cameron, because I am not a constitutional lawyer.

The SPEAKER. The point or order is not sustained.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 559, file folio 2693, on page 52 of to-day's Calendar, bills on third reading postponed for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 559, as follows:

An Act providing a fixed charge on land classified as auxiliary forest reserves and the distribution of the fund thus set aside for school and road purposes

Whereas by existing law the State forest reserves are subject to an annual charge of two cents per acre for the benefit of schools and two cents per acre for the benefit of roads in the respective districts in which said reserves are located and

Whereas it would be a hardship to withhold from school and road districts the taxes which would otherwise be collected from land classified as auxiliary forest reserves therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all lands which shall hereafter be classified as auxiliary forest reserves shall be subject to an annual charge of two cents per acre for the benefit of the schools and two cents per acre for the benefit of the roads in the respective districts in which said reserves are located Said charge is hereby made payable by the State

Section 2 The State Forestry Reservation Commission shall certify to the respective school districts and road districts throughout the Commonwealth in which auxiliary forest reserves are located the number of acres thus set apart and classified in each district and the charge against the same and shall furthermore certify to the State Treasurer the number of acres as aforesaid and the charge against the same in favor of the respective school and road districts The State Treasurer shall upon the approval of the proper warrant of the commission pay to the several school districts and road districts the amount due the same from the Commonwealth as derived under this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I certainly am surprised that this House would deliberately rob the country districts of their share of taxation. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the members of the House really understand what they are doing. In our county we have chemical factory corporations owning lands which they are holding for the purpose of cutting chemical wood. We have paper mill corporations owning lands which they are holding simply for the purpose of cutting pulp woods. We have people cutting tie timber. This whole combination of bills, Mr. Speaker, will remove these lands from the regular tax list. Mr. Speaker, I contend that there is nothing in this bill to prevent any of these owners at any time from cutting out their growing timber. It means that the chemical people who cut wood an inch and a half or two inches in diameter and the pulp wood people who cut timber four to six inches in diameter, and the tie people from cutting ties that are eight, ten and twelve inches in diameter can continually cut out and thin out this chemical wood, this pulp wood and this tie timber without ever paying one dollar of taxes over and above the original assessment of one dollar. Mr. Speaker, it is a real hardship on any county or township in which is located this kind of land. Mr. Speaker, this bill in particular—Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the gentleman of the House that I do not intend as the representative of one of those counties to lie down on any one of these bills. I want in the best way I can to present to the members of this House the serious side of it. The serious side is that this people can continually cut this pulp wood and chemical wood and tie timber without paying anything on it. That is an old trick of the lumberman all through the lumber districts, before you could sell lands every two years for taxes, to allow their taxes to accumulate, and the taxing power could only sell that land for taxes every three years. It was an old trick of the lumberman in this district to allow their taxes to accumulate for three years and in those three years to remove the timber, so that when the land was sold at the end of the three years there was nothing left to pay the taxes on the land. The townships lost. That bill was so remedied so that the county treasurer could sell lands every two years. In that way the owner was not able to cut off any large extent of land and escape taxation. This bill provides that whenever the crop is harvested, and the bill was amended the other day that before harvesting your crop you must file with the State Highway Commission an estimate as to the value of the crop which you were going to cut and harvest and that ninety days before harvesting your crop you must pay into the State Treasurer ten per cent. of that value. Now, Mr. Speaker, there is no penalty. I insist, Mr. Speaker, that this bill does not provide any penalty if they do not make this return to the State, and if they do not put in their assessed valuation, if they do not put in their estimate as to how much they are going to cut this year, and yet there is no penalty provided for their not doing so. They can go ahead and cut out their pulp wood and tie wood and even their mature timber without making this return, and if they do not make it there is no penalty provided. Mr. Speaker, I wish the gentlemen of the House would really and seriously consider these bills because they are wrong, because, Mr. Speaker, there is no inducement to any honest owner of lands to put them under the supervision of the Forestry Commission for four cents an acre. It is mean, Mr. Speaker, to impugn wrong motives to large corporations, and you will notice by the papers just this morning that some large wholesale store in New York has acknowledged a judgment for one million dollars for back taxes and back duties which he should have paid. These large corporations get so earnest in their accumulation of money that they will allow things to go along whereby they cheat the Commonwealth out of its share of the taxes and these taxes must be made up by someone else. Now, Mr. Speaker, as a taxpayer in my community I protest that it is not fair to make the other taxpayers in the county make up the deficit by the removing of these lands from the list. My argument is that there is no penalty for not making, and I hope the members of this House will vote down this bill, and I hope the Governor will veto the other bills, which I call are unconstitutional.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, it seems from the argument of the gentleman from Cameron that this is a very lengthy bill. It simply authorizes the State to pay to the townships and school districts, two cents an acre each on the lands that are placed in the auxiliary reserve in those townships.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 888, as follows:

An Act designating the blue violet as the floral emblem or State flower for this Commonwealth and fixing a day for the observance of the same

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is one among the eight states of the United States which have up to the present time failed or neglected to adopt some form of floral emblem or State flower and

Whereas The adoption of some emblem as aforesaid would inculcate patriotism in the school children of the State therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the blue violet shall be the State flower or floral emblem of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 2 The fourteenth day of June in each year shall be known as blue violet and be celebrated accordingly

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Jackson.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Jackson, permit himself to be interrogated by the gentleman from York?

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman why the arbutus was not chosen as the emblematic flower of Pennsylvania.

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, the daisy was the choice among a number of those proposed by the school teachers and a number of school children from Wayne County. The daisy was the choice of Wayne County and other counties but the violet seemed to have more friends than the daisy. Much of the objection to the daisy being raised because it is classified as a weed and on that account it was changed to the violet.

Mr. RUNK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to that bill.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, line 4, by striking out the words "blue violet" and insert the word "arbutus."

Amend section two, line one by striking out the words "fourteenth day of June" and insert the words "fifteenth day of April"

Also amend section two line two by striking out the word "blue violet" and insert the words "arbutus day."

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment is objected to.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether there are any blue violets?—I understand violets were violet violets. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman. Do violets bloom in the spring?

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, wild violets bloom in the spring; cultivated violets grow all summer.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, as to "violets that bloom in the spring" they have nothing to do with the case.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the blue violet is a flower commonly known as the "Johnny-Jump-Up".

The SPEAKER. The question is, will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

ORDER OF THE DAY.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, the hour of one o'clock has arrived and I call for the orders of the day.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The hour of one o'clock having arrived the House will take a recess until three o'clock this afternoon.

NAYS—1.

Hemminger,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative. the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 60, entitled:

An Act to provide for the pensioning of soldiers sailors and marines who served in the army and navy of the United States from Pennsylvania in the Civil War of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one to sixty-five fixing the rate of said pensions the manner of obtaining same and making an appropriation for the payment thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman who introduced this bill has in mind anybody to be benefitted by it that has not already received compensation from the Federal government. I know it is very unpopular to go against any measure providing for the pensioning of soldiers, and the Federal government and the Senate and House of the Federal government have used it as a political foot stool for many years, and it seems now that it is going to break into the State government. I do not believe there is any soldier who served in the Civil War in the State of Pennsylvania who is not provided for in a deserving amount. If there are, I should be glad to find out who they are. I do not see why it is necessary that the State of Pennsylvania should enter into the pension business for any of the soldiers who have already been taken care of. It is rather difficult to talk against a bill of this kind, and a proposition of this kind, because we all know that it can be used with the fire works to get votes by voting for it, and one makes himself unpopular when he votes against it. This bill carries an appropriation of a million and a half of dollars and the necessary amount for incidential expenses. If that were all we might not object to it so much, but it is like every other pension bill, and it will increase in proportion just as the pension bill of the United States have increased. The pension bill is one of the biggest frauds in the United States, because it has always been used by the members to be taken back to their people to secure a re-election. I stand here opposed to this measure unless I see some real necessity for it. I do not think enough of my job here to stand here and vote for it, or let it go through and not oppose it. I think this House should vote this bill down.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not need any recommendation, nor does it need any explanation. Those of you who have read the bill know what it contains. We have but a few of the old boys in blue left in this State who made it possible for you and I to enjoy liberty and a union of the States. Hence, it is not necessary for a speech, and we all know that we are justified in giving the old soldier the paltry sum of five or six or seven dollars a month after they have sacrificed their lives in war. I am going to ask this House to give us their unanimous vote for the old soldiers.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative. the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 940, entitled:

An Act defining and regulating the occupation of barbering providing for the licensing of persons engaged in barbering providing for the regulation of students of barbering and the regulation of barber shops barber school and barber colleges and fixing penalties for violation of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to add a little thought in behalf of this measure. If this measure had been a law of this State a week ago, this Leigslature would not have been deprived of my very valuable services for two or three days.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. WALTON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROCKWELL. I will.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what is the purpose of dropping the bill from the Calendar?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that the purpose of the House was to absolutely defeat the bill and we would save a roll call, as my motion would suggest. If the gentleman wishes to go to a vote I will withdraw my motion.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I do wish it to go to a vote This bill has the unanimous endorsement of the American Federation of Labor, and the bill as presented by me at the request of the International Association of Barbers is at the present time a law in twelve states of this country. It has practically and has been a good law in the State of Michigan. It places no hardship whatever on the man who is following up the occupation of a barber at this time, and it was the intention of the International Association of Barbers to introduce this bill for the purpose of eliminating the floater in the barber trade. This bill is meritorious, as was shown by one of the gentleman having suffered with barber's itch, known as tinea pscycosis, which is a very contagious disease, and another common disease which would be eliminated under this bill is inpetigo contagiosis, which is another very contagious disease with which all medical men are familiar, and as the sponsor of this bill I would sooner see the members recording as voting against it than to have it dropped from the Calendar.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time. considered and agreed to.

Section 4 The penalty for any violation of the provisions of this act shall be the revocation of the license for the car whereon the offense was committed and no new license shall be issued for any such car

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McAleer.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say a word about this bill which provides that dining cars shall be licensed. I want to call attention of the House to the fact that this bill will not direct the opening of a single additional saloon in the State of Pennsylvania. It does not provide a place where working men can stop on the way home from their work and spend their wages. They will not on these dining cars, if they are licensed, permit the sale of anything but first class goods. In addition to that, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that the New York Central Railroad, which is just as short a line between New York and Chicago as the Pennsylvania line, have this service on their dining cars, that we are asking to provide for here. A great deal of the traffic that might go across our State on the Pennsylvania line, passing by large manfacturing plants situated along the line of the railroad, goes west and east over the New York Central line. I think it would be just as well to encourage these people, who travel between New York and Chicago, to travel over the Pennsylvania and through the State of Pennsylvania so that they can see our large manufacturing plants along the line and perhaps become interested in the products of this State. This traffic is worth catering to and I think it is well to extend the same privileges that any line extends and I ask the House to give this bill favorable consideration.

Mr. GEORGE C. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. GEORGE C. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, when this bill passed second reading I understood the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McAleer, to say that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company desires the passage of this bill. I now ask if it was desired on the part of the officials of the operating department or the officials of the dining car service?

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I asked the general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and he told me that he desired the passage of this bill, and that is pretty nearly headquarters.

Mr. GEORGE C. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to state to the members of this House that the organized railroad employees are unalterably opposed to the passage of this measure. Some time ago in New York, after an investigation into an accident, the engineer in charge was held responsible under the charge of being under the influence of liquor. Shortly after that the different railroads throughout this State isued orders that employees are prohibited from the use of intoxicating liquors either while on duty or while off duty. It seems to me that the request for the passage of this bill is very inconsistent on the part of the railroad company in applying for a license to sell goods of an intoxicating character, and at the same time to prohibit its employees the use of those goods, and still further desires to distribute these goods. If the railroad companies desire to sell liquor to their patrons why should they prevent their own employees to take advantage of the use of these goods? I have ridden on dining cars and I have seen employees of railroad companies drink liquor to excess on dining cars; they have become disorderly and they have been censured by their employers and the railroad officials have reprimanded them for their conduct, yet at the same time the railroad company was receiving the financial benefit of the money that they spent. I think, Gentlemen, if all the circumstances are taken into consideration, this bill should certainly be voted down at this time.

Mr. SAMUEL J. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. George C. Irwin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. George C. Irwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GEORGE C. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. SAMUEL J. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Blair whether the railroad companies would like to have this license or the traveling public?

Mr. GEO. C. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, according to the provisions of the bill the railroad companies are asking for the license and not the traveling public.

Mr. SAMUEL J. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further, and ask him if the railroad companies presented this bill or the traveling public.

Mr. GEO. C. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that I would state that the traveling public presented the bill, but as I understand it it was desired by the railroad companies that the bill be passed.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill was carefully considered in the Law and Order Committee, and after going over the arguments for and against it, the committee thought that the bill should be reported negatively to this House. It was so reported, and was one of the bills that was put on the Calendar in spite of the negative recommendation of the committee. The bill is a departure from any action of this State, or any law that ever has been on the statute books. One of the main objections to the bill is this: Every man knows that in order to prosecute anybody for the violation of a liquor law or any criminal offense, you have to prosecute that person in the county where the violation took place. Suppose a dining car which was licensed, start from the City of Harrisburg going to Pittsburgh, and a sale was made to a minor or to a man of known intemperate habits, which are all prohibited by this bill, in order to make the conviction you have to give proof absolutely in what county the violation took place and prosecute in the county where the violation took place. This is a vast departure from any other principle of the anti-liquor laws in that a sale to a minor, to your boy or to mine, taking place upon a dining car, and under the present law the fine or penalty is very severe under this bill. What does it provide? It simply provides that the license shall be revoked. The bill is not in harmony with the rest of the restraining liquor laws of this Commonwealth. It seems to me it is a step in the backward direction from the purpose of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to control and regulate the sale of vinous, spirituous, malt and brewed liquors, and it strikes me that we would be doing our duty to vote the bill down.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the members of the House that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company did not give me the information that they wanted this bill to pass until I consulted them. After the introduction of the bill they told me that they had applications from many of their customers for the resumption of the service as it originally existed on their lines. As to the fact of the Law and Order Committee reporting this bill negatively, I was told by a member of this committee that the first time this bill was considered by them, the vote to report the bill originally was 12 to 10 in favor of reporting the bill affirmatively. I am perfectly willing to let the bill go to the vote of the House, with the information that the traveling public are in favor of this measure and want the bill passed.

Mr. BROWNLEE. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that under existing laws granting retail licenses, a violation of the law is punishable by fine and imprisonment. The fine is increased each time; and in addition to that, on a second offense the violator cannot be licensed in any city or county of this Commonwealth. Now, look at this act. The only penalty of this act is a revocation of the license. All you have to do is to run that car out of the State and bring in another one. It is not fair to the retail liquor dealers that all the penalty should be a revocation of the license. And then I want to note in a word: In addition to what has been said as to the difficulty of proving a violation by this act, this is a State-wide act; it is granted by the State Treasurer, and if the act were fair, the violation ought to be proved in any county of the Commonwealth. How are you going to prove a violation of the act on a swift express train, whether it was just on this side of the county line or on the other side. When you undertake to prove your case, the burden of proof is on you as to what county it took place in. The bill is unfair. It is unfair to a large portion of the traveling public. Men and women who are opposed to liquor do not have to go to hotels where it is dispensed, but they do have to travel and they do have to eat, unless they carry their smack with them, and I say it is not fair to a large part of the traveling public.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call attention to another fact that arises if this bill passes. There are a large number of ladies in this State that do not want to be compelled to sit in a saloon on wheels, and get their dinner, or breakfast or supper. Not long since, or before the Pennsylvania Railroad ceased violating this act, in 1912, I was on a railroad car, or dining car, in which two ladies were compelled to leave the table because they did not wish to sit at the table where strong drink was being served for those who had called for it. Have we come to a state of things in this old Commonwealth of ours when we are ready to license a saloon on wheels that travels across this State and in its course of travel permit or refuse rather to be questioned as to the place where, and the time when, it violated an act. I think the point that has been made by two speakers is well made. Is there such a thing in legislation, in all the history of legislation, not only in this State but other States of this great nation of ours, where a corporation by certain rules says that not a single man in our employ shall be permitted to drink, either on duty—and I think possibly—off duty? It says to every one of its employes, "You shall not touch this stuff. Why? Why, because as soon as you do, you endanger the life of every person under our charge and under our care," and if an individual by accident or by practice has imbibed too freely, he suffers a penalty and becomes a criminal—made a criminal, sir,—by a corporation who has asked a license to sell this stuff that it refuses to grant a single employee the right to drink. I tell you, gentlemen, that is inconsistent, and this House, if it is consistent, cannot afford for a moment to consider such a proposition as this, and I hope that this House will honor itself and dignify its womanhood of this Commonwealth; will not honor the organization or the corporation that at this moment has lost its honor in asking this privilege or this license. Let us stand by the highest and best and noblest conditions; let us stand by the institution that has refused to grant its employees a license and say, "If you will not grant your employees a license or privilege to drink, you shall not give it to others to drink. I trust that this House will do itself honor and credit by voting this bill down.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, line 16, by striking out the words "a board of fifteen" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five."

By striking out in line 17 the words "as follows five for two years" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "for six years."

By striking out in lines 17 and 18 the words "five for four years and five for six years."

By striking out in lines 22, 23, 24, 25 all the words after the word "election," line 22.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

Section 2 That all claims for exemption heretofore allowed under said acts and not having the legal number of appraisers are hereby validated and made legal

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the sponsor of this bill, I ask unanimous consent of the House to insert amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend House Bill No. 1264, file folio, No. 3799:

Section 1, line 4, insert after the word "acts" the following: "entitled, 'An Act relating to the commencement of actions, to judgments and decrees for the payment of money to the widows and children of decedents, and to partitions in the Common Pleas, relative to penalties on telegraph operators, to pleadings in certain actions of debt, to ejectments, writs, to the protection of fences, to partnerships, to limitations of writs of entry in manors, lands, and tenements, to the exemption laws, to reports of the Supreme Court, to appeals realting to wards, boroughs and township officers, to the acknowledgments of deeds and sequestration of life estates,'" approved

Section 1, line 4, strike out the word "of."

Section 1, line 5, insert after the word "fifty-one" the following: "(Pamphlet Laws six hundred and twelve)."

Section 1, line 6, strike out the word "of."

Section 1, line 6, insert after the word "act" the following: "entitled 'An Act to amend Section one of an act entitled 'An Act relating to the descent and distribution of the estates of intestates,' passed and approved April eighth, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, defining and declaring the interest that shall descend to and vest in the surviving husband or wife of such intestates,' approved"

Line 4, insert after the words "and nine," the following: "(Pamphlet Laws eighty-seven)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments? Is there any objection?

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I object to the insertion of the amendments at this time.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the gentleman who raises this objection understands the purposes of this bill. There is a conflict as to the number of appraisers necessary to have. This is simply an enabling act, and these amendments are simply to cite the acts that are to be amended.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wiltbank, would simply delay matters by insisting upon his objection.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, neither the gentleman from Tioga nor the gentleman from Philadelphia knows what this amendments means as it was read by the Clerk. I perhaps will not be against the bill when it comes before the House. Every section has been amended, and the gentleman from Tioga does not know any more about it than the gentleman from the 10th district of Philadelphia. I hope that this bill will be postponed so we can see what the amendment means. I insist upon my objection.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, will kindly assume the Chair as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

(Mr. Rockwell in the Chair).

The CHAIRMAN. The Committee of the Whole House having under consideration House Bill No. 1264, for the purpose of special amendment, the Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend House Bill No. 1364, file folio No. 3799:

Section 1, line 4, insert after the word "acts," the following: "entitled 'An Act relating to the commencement of actions, to judgments and decrees for the payment of money to the widows and children of decedents, and to partitions in the Common Pleas, relative to penalties on telegraph operators, to pleadings in certain actions of debt, to ejectments, to the protection of fence, to partnerships, to limitations of writs of entry in manors, lands, and tenements, to the exemption laws, to reports of the Supreme Court, to appeals relating to wards, boroughs and township officers, to the acknowledgements of deeds and sequestration of life estates," approved

Section 1, line 4, strike out the word "of."

Section 1, line 6, strike out the word "of."

Section one, line 7, insert after words "and nine" the following: "(Pamphlet Laws eighty-seven)."

Amend the title, line 2, strike out the word "of."

Line 2, insert after the word "act" the following: "entitled 'An Act relating to the commencement of actions, to judgments and decrees for the payment of money to the widows and children of decedents, and to partitions in the Common Pleas, relative to penalties on telegraph operators, to pleadings in certain actions of debt, to ejectments, to the protection of fences, to partnerships, to limitations of writs of entry in manors, lands, and tenements, to the exemption laws, to reports of the Supreme Court, to appeals relating to wards, boroughs and township officers, to the acknowledgemnts of deeds and sequestration of life estates," "approved."

Line 4, insert after the words "and nine," the following "(Pamphlet Laws eighty-seven)."

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments as offered?

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, the question has never been put before the House whether we go into a Committee of the Whole or not.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair rules that the gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, there is nothing under consideration by the Committee at this time except the adoption of these amendments. The fact that the House is now in a Committee of the Whole settles that question.

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments as offered?

They were agreed to.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee do now rise and report back to the House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

(Mr. Shern in the Chair).

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole I report to the House, House Bill No. 1264, as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the report of the Committee of the Whole?

It was agreed to.

The bill on third reading as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, To lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1246, as follows:

An Act providing and and regarding the releasing on parole of certain prisoners who have been sentenced for life

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any person who has been or shall be sentenced to imprisonment for life in any penal institution of this Commonwealth and who shall have served at least fifteen years of such sentence may be paroled by the Governor upon recommendation of the Lieutenant Governor Secretary of the Commonwealth Attorney General and Secretary of Internal Affairs or any three of them after a full hearing upon due public notice and in open session No such person shall be released on parole without the approval of the court that imposed the sentence accompanied by a certificate from the warden or superintendent of the institution that the prisoner has not during his or her confinement been guilty of any wilful infraction of the rules of such institution and that the conduct of such prisoner has been such that the releasing of such prisoner would not be detrimental to the community

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BIGGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to the title.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title, line one, after "providing" strike out "and."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The bill as amended was then agreed to, on third reading.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

McDermott,

The majority required by the Consitution having voted in the affiramtive, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I have been gagged in this business and this bill that has just been passed has been illegally passed in this House. You have been talking about gag law and here you have it. The question never was put and never was recognized in order and every member of this House knows it.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wiltbank, evidently misunderstands that it is Mr. Bigger's bill No. 1246 and not Mr. Heidinger's bill No. 1264, that has just been passed.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, It is the amended bill that I am now talking about. The amendment is illegal and it is unjustly passed. If there is anything that has ever passed under a gag law, this is it and every gentleman on this floor knows it. The question was never put.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, who has recently shown such utter devotion to the cause of reform will kindly use his influence to reform the gentleman from Philadelphia in regard to his knowledge of Parliamentary Procedure.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the duty that the Chair has given to me, is too great; it is impossible.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1196, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and seven of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this bill includes a very vicious provision. You will notice that this is an amendment to the school code. In the first place I am suspicious of all amendments to the school code. I think that that code ought to have an opportunity to prove itself in practice. But you will find, especially on file folio 2956, that this bill provides that "no supervising principal or teacher shall be continued in such employment who is engaged in any other profession or business for hire or gain." That means, Mr. Speaker, that no teacher could write books for hire or for gain; that is to say, he cannot follow the profession of author; that he could not take private pupils; that he could not write for technical magazines or translate. In other words, when you have a man of superior ability, whose abilities are such that he could supplement the small salaries that are paid to our educators, that you would absolutely forbid his doing so. The result, of course, is that you take from the service of our schools men of the very highest ability. It seems to me very absurd and very unfair to those men of ability who are able to supplement their earnings by outside work, and is detrimental to the whole school system. The bill goes on to say, "no married female teacher shall be employed or continued in employment unless her husband is unable to support her or unless there are no qualified single female applicants for such position." That seems to be entirely within the province of the local school board. If there is any reason for this, the school boards should decide the question. It seems to me that this bill is entirely out of order, as far as its propriety is concerned, and it ought to be defeated.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I am in exact accord with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott. This bill is a very pernicious measure in my judgment. Take for example the supervising principal who has been elected for three years but who teaches but eight months out of the year. There are four months out of the year that he has nothing to do. This bill prevents him from doing anything, and adding to his salary, which you know is not very large at best, and it does the same thing with the teacher.

I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, the author of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. James A. Dunn) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. J. A. DUNN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, why should a man, if he has nothing to do for the school board that employes him, why should he be prevented from earning a salary if he chooses to do other work.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, if he is receiving a salary honestly and fairly from the school authorities, he should not seek another salary.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, the school board that hires a man for eight months exject him to get something else and they make the salary accordingly, so that the teacher must do something else. Then there is one of the last provisions in this bill. If a married woman can teach school and is a good teacher and the school board knows she is a good teacher and desires to employ her, why should not the children of this Commonwealth have the benefit of that good teacher instead of an inexperienced teacher? I think we should vote this bill down.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, this bill is presented in behalf of the appeal of the teacher graduates, seeking for justice. After spending many years of their lives in trying to receive an education, even under great hardships and many difficulties and finally reaching a high school and then they spend six years more after reaching the high school, for the purpose of graduating as a teacher. There is a long list of those teachers waiting to be placed in the public schools of this Commonwealth; and after they graduate and after they receive their diplomas they go to the Board of Education, thinking now is the time. They have served their apprenticeship like in all other trades, and they seek a position as teachers in our Commonwealth. What is the reply to those graduates who have spent years of their lives in trying to reach the goal? The reply is: There is no vacancy now; there is no vacancy in the various schools and you had better seek some other employment. Does any corporation or any business firm, where a boy or girl is prepared to go through the course and receive a trade after they reach the goal and receive their diplomas, turn them out on the street and tell them no, there is no place for you in the public schools, there is no place for you in our business; go out in the world and seek some place else.

And now, Gentlemen of this House, today there are married women teaching in the public schools of our Commonwealth who have husbands who can support them and if there are married women who have husbands who can support them, then they ought to get out of the public schools and let their husbands support them, and let those poor graduates take their places. The provision of this law is that if husbands cannot support them, then they have a chance to teach in the schools of our Commonwealth. That is only a fair proposition. A man who marries a woman and cannot support her, why then there is a chance for her, but a man who is earning a living and could support her ought not to ask her to earn a living in order to support him. That is the proposition I offer before you.

If the school teacher is in any other business, probably the other business is paying more than the school teaching. Let them resign and let these poor graduates, waiting on the list, become teachers and take their places. It would not be long before every one of those public schools will be filled up with people just as able, just as capable of fulfilling the duties of teaching in this Commonwealth, as those married women or people who are working at other occupations, give the young graduates a chance. Give the poor family and probably the poor widow who has spent all her money and time to graduate that poor girl and receive the proper education, give her a chance to get the girl in a position after all these years of service.

And then there is this provision in the law that after there is no more on the eligible list of the graduates, then the married woman, or anybody else can come in, but so long as the eligible list is not exhausted whereby the poor girl, the poor graduate, that this amendment will pass and give the poor girl a chance.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia further. I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to tell this House what schools he is talking about? What schools are you stating that there are so many graduates waiting for positions?

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. I can take you to Philadelphia county and I suppose all other graduates.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, what he states in Philadelphia, which is the City, although he says Philadelphia county, is not true at all places outside of the great city. Over in our county, and it is true in all rural counties in the State, one-fourth of all the teachers teaching in that county are beginners each year; twenty-five per cent. of the teachers in the rural counties are inexperienced teachers. There is no waiting list; there is not enough experienced teachers to go around. If he would apply this to Philadelphia, not go outside of Philadelphia, where he shows condition like he says, that would probably be all right, but it is not all right for the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. Are the schools of Pennsylvania run in the interest of teachers or of the children.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Why the school could not run if they did not have the teachers.

Mr. ULERICH. That is not an answer to the question. Are the schools of the Commonwealth run in the interests of the children or of the teachers?

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, both.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, No, no. The teachers I should say. Now Gentlemen of the House, if there is a teacher in his own city, a married woman, a fine teacher, it don't matter anything about her husband; if he wants to hire a girl to take care of her home work and she wants to teach and she is a good teacher, why shouldn't she be allowed to teach this children, instead of a graduate who has had no experience.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, when this bill first appeared on the pink Calendar, I spoke to its sponsor the gentleman presenting it, about the hardship it would work on the country teacher. He agreed with me heartily that the bill might be amended and today I was surprised to see the bill in its present shape on the Calendar and I am surprised that the Committee on Education would have allowed the bill to come out in its present shape.

The gentleman from Philadelphia remarked that we should give places to the graduates of the high school. We are not here legislating in order that these graduates may obtain positions. Our legislation rather should tend to hold in place the experienced teachers, because the experienced teacher has a mission; and today I state candidly that the experienced teacher, the experienced supervising principals cannot live on the salaries that they are paid. The teachers are not only trying to live on their salaries, but they are also trying to gain something for the future and to gain something that may lead them into other schools and other professions, and I think it would be a shame, Gentlemen of the House, if we should pass this bill in its present shape.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, there surely is no merit in this bill. I want to enter my protest against such a vicious measure as this. I am quite sure that if this bill were to pass, within a very few years no teacher without being a graduate of a normal school could teach in a public school. That is not right. I believe in being fair.

Further I want to say that there are teachers in our country districts teaching seven months in the year and farming the rest of the year. What are they supposed to do the other five months if they are teaching seven months, if they are not allowed to get renumeration in some other way? This is perfectly ridiculous and I trust, Gentlemen of the House that you will not stand for such a vicious measure.

Further, I want to say to you, how would teachers live today if they could not do anything but to teach. I have been there for twenty-five or twenty-six years and I have had the experience and know whereof I am speaking and I want to ask you to vote down this bill.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

A rising vote was taken and 110 voting in the negative the bill was not agreed to on third reading and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1490, entitled:

An Act regulating the appointment confirmation duties salary and expenses of County Detectives in counties containing not less than three hundred thousand nor more than seven hundred thousand inhabitants

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

NAYS—1.

Kern,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 39:

An Act regulating the use of bottles and other utensils for milk or cream and providing a penalty for violation of this act

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Section one, line eight, strike out the word "immediately."
Section two, line two, strike out all after the word "act" down to the end of the section.
Insert new section four as follows:

Section 4 All fines and penalties imposed and recovered for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the Dairy and Food Commissioner or his agent and by the Dairy and Food Commissioner to be paid into the State Treasury for the use of the Commonwealth
Make "Section 4" read "Section 5."

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, this act provided that either the Dairy or Food Commissioner or any other citizen of the Commonwealth can bring the prosecution for violations of this act. Now that whole clause permitting individual citizens of this Commonwealth to institute prosecutions under this act has been stricken out by the Senate and the Senate has provided amendments whereby the penalties shall be paid to and collected by the Dairy and Food Commissioner. I do not think that is a wise provision and I think that the right to prosecute violations of this act should be concurrent between the citizens of this Commonwealth and the Dairy and Food Commissioner. That is why I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

The SPEAKER declared the nays seem to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, ninety voting in the affirmative and fifteen in the negative,

And the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 356.

An Act to provide for necessary medical attention to indigent persons who may be assumed to be in danger of suffering from hydrophobia or rabies after having been bitten by any animal believed to be suffering therefrom repealing all prior acts relating hereunto and providing for payment of expenses for such treatment heretofore incurred in good faith

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Section one, line eight, strike out the word "approval" and insert the word "approved."
Section two, line two, after the word "care" strike out the word "or."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the said amendments?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1266, entitled:

An Act concerning the relations between attorney and client on suit being brought in any court of this Commonwealth and providing that the attorney shall have a lien for his compensation for his services upon the client's cause of action claim or counter-claim which shall attach to any award order report decision compromise settlement verdict or judgment in the client's favor and the proceeds thereof in whosoever hands the same may be and which lien shall not be affected or defeated by any compromise or settlement between the parties before or after judgment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I am not sure of the constitutionality of this bill, and I move that it be postponed for the present.

The SPEAKER. The motion does not appear to be seconded. The bill came through the Committee on Judiciary Special, and its constitutionality may be presumed.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have an amendment to offer to Bill No. 1266.

The SPEAKER. The bill has passed third reading.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker I would like to call the attention of the House to just what the provisions of this bill are. Personally, I am opposed to preferential creditors. Well, I might better explain to the House what I mean by that. There are laws on the statute books to-day that give certain interests preference. For instance, we know that sewing machines, soda fountains, and I think some musical instruments are exempt from the landlord's distrain, giving that class of creditors a preference over any other debts that the party may owe. This bill means that the attorney who appears in a suit at law shall be given the preference over all other creditors that he may have. Therefore, I say that I am using the right term when I say "preferential creditors." Now, it seems to me that the man who furnishes the bread and butter, the man who furnishes the coal and keeps the family, should have the preference over almost any other creditor, but it appears that this House is never willing to give to him the garnishee bill. Now, here we are going to make the lawyers of this State preferential creditors. So far as my knowledge of lawyers is concerned, they certainly are, or should be able, at least, to stand along with the ordinary creditors, and especially with the man who furnishes the necessaries of life. I don't think the House ought to pass the bill in this form. I simply wanted to offer an amendment which would place those who furnish the necessaries of life on a level with the attorney who tries the case. The truth of the matter is that I understand from the legal fraternity that the ethics of the fraternity are to collect their money in advance. Those are the ethics of the profession as I understand it from all the lawyers that I have spoken with, and I do not believe it is a good thing to give them this preference over ordinary creditors. If the House thinks that is best, it seems to me that the laymen of this House are surely not going to give the lawyers of this State that preference over those who furnish the people the very necessities of life. I do not believe the House will pass the bill in this form, and I think that the amendment that I was going to offer would put the bill in the form that the House would pass, which means to place those who furnish the necessaries of life on an equal standing with the attorney. If the House desires to pass the bill in this form, of course they can do so, but if they accept these amendments, the lawyers will come back with a compromise and will probably agree to have the amendments go into the bill. I do not think we ought to pass the bill in its present form.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware is entirely wrong in this conception of the purpose and the meaning of this act. This bill is framed along the lines of the act of 1874, which is now the law and has been since that time, in New York State. The only purpose of this bill is to place the attorney, through whose efforts in the beginning of a suit and the consummation of that suit has produced results which are favorable to his client, and it puts him precisely in the same position as any mechanic or material man who has furnished labor or materials giving him the right of lien for the things which he has done. Now, this does not affect a client who is honest. It merely guards the attorney who has expended his labors and efforts in bringing about a result which is favorable to that client from settling over the attorney's head. It does not deprive the parties to the suit of the right to amicable adjustment of their differences. It has nothing whatever to do with that phase of the situation. It does not prevent that, but in the event of a settlement in which the attorney is not considered, then it raises the question as to whether or not the attorney is entitled to compensation for the services which he has rendered, and leaves that question up to the court to determine when there is a dispute between the attorney and his client. And there is no reason in the world why this bill should be amended, nor is there any reason in the world why this bill should not pass.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am frank to say that I may not be able to comprehend good English, but I will read this bill to the House. It is a very short one, and I say again to the House—well I will read the bill. With reference to the first claim in the money collection of a suit at law, it is true that this bill does not provide that if the plaintiff or defendent or prosecutor in a suit wins the case and he and the attorney cannot agree on the fee, that that dispute will be left to the court, but the bill absolutely provides that it shall stand first; the attorney must be paid in full before the other creditors get a cent. Now here is the language of the bill:

> That from the commencement of any action or proceeding either at law in equity or otherwise howsoever or the filing of any counter-claim or any pleading the attorney who appears of record for a party therein shall have a lien for his compensation for his services upon his client's cause of action claim or counter-claim which shall attach to any award order report decision compromise settlement verdict or judgment in the client's favor and the proceeds thereof in whosoever hands they may come and the said lien shall not be affected or defeated by any compromise or settlement between the parties before or after judgment Provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the bona fide compromise or settlement of litgation by the parties thereto subject to the lien of the attorney as provided by his act
> That the court in which the cause is brought shall on the petition of the client or of the attorney have jurisdiction to determine and enforce the lien subject to the right of appeal to the person aggrieved as in other cases
> All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

Now, I reassert what I stated first, that the attorney's fee under this bill comes first, no matter what other creditors there may be. It is true that the attorney is entitled to his fee, but it is also true—

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, where does that make the attorney's fee a preferred claim? Where is this bill—can he point out the line and the section that does that?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, well, I read it to the House and I presume they can see the character of it, but I do know this: Under the common law to-day, that the attorney has the same opportunity under the present law of the State of Pennsylvania to collect any just debt with any other person whom the party might owe. If the bill is intended to simply give him what the law now gives him, then you might as well defeat the bill. If it gives more than that, then the bill ought to be defeated also. Why should this bill make him a preferred creditor, because under the common law to-day every man can collect a just debt. An attorney's charges are just as good in the eyes of the law as any other debt. Evidently, there is some advantage in this bill, and if there is not, then I say, what is it for? And the gentleman from Delaware says it makes him a preferential creditor; and if it doesn't make him a preferential creditor, then there is no need of the law.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I was going to ask the gentleman this question, but since he has sat down I will make the statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentelman from Delaware indicates that he is willing to be interrogated.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has stated that the man who furnishes the goods or the means for living to the client is the man who should be taken care of. Now I ask him what would become of this fund if there was no attorney to get it and why is not the attorney entitled to the first dividend if he gets that fund by his labor.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, that is a very easy question to answer. There would not be anything for the attorney to collect if there had not been somebody some where created some value. There has evidently somebody furnished some value and why should not the person who furnished that value stand on an equal footing with the gentleman who furnished services? That is all I ask. If there would be nothing for the attorney in this case, if there was not any value, there would not be any attorney where there is no value. When a suit at law take place to collect a debt from an insolvent person where perhaps there are a dozen other parties interested why have not they furnished that which the attorney is trying to secure and after the case is brought, stand with the other creditors and take an equal division of what is left.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate him. Will the gentleman from Delaware state who has created the value in the case of a personal injury or accident suit where there has been a recovery?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, in the case of a personal injury, in my judgment if the amount involved is worthy a suit at all there is more than three hundred dollars involved and the attorney can collect over and above three hundred dollars; and if there is less than three hundred dollars under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania the man who furnishes the material can collect; and I do not see why even in that case the attorney should have a preference over the ordinary layman. Now, if the attorney is so foolish as to take a case that is over three hundred dollars and does not protect himself so as to be paid for his services, I do not see why the State of Pennsylvania should give him any preference over an ordinary business man. The ordinary business man has to protect himself under the three hundred dollar law. Now why should not the law just as well apply to the attorney's fees as to the ordinary business man?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman seems to forget. Let us take the case of mechanics liens, where a man has built a house or furnished material. If he files his lien he has created so much property value for his employer, for the person for whom he is working, the man who employed him as contractor or sub-contractor. Now then, if he files his lein he is entitled to the first privilege on that. Now then, if an attorney takes a case where there might not be any other funds where he might save the man who furnishes the goods, where might save for that man money, might get money for him in a case or suit at law, under personal injury, why should he not have a lein in that event, if he has created value through his efforts or ability.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 365, as follows:

An Act to prevent the procreation of idiots imbeciles feeble-minded and insane persons by the process of sterilization of certain idiots imbeciles feeble-minded or insane persons under certain circumstances and prescribing the conditions under which it may be performed

Whereas, Heredity plays a most important part in the transmission of idiocy and imbecility and it is of very great importance that this class of defectives shall not be allowed to freely propogate their kind and increase the number of the dependents supported by the State; therefore,

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen it shall be lawful for every institution in this State having the care of idiotic imbecile feeble-minded or chronic insane persons which is wholly or in part supported by the State to have on its regular staff of physicians either consultant or resident a neurologist and a surgeon of recognized ability one of whom may be the chief physician of the institution who with the chief physician shall constitute a commission to examine the mental and physical condition of certain of the inmates with the view of deciding upon the necessity of sterilizing them as an adjunct to their medical treatment and when it shall be for the benefit of the patient

Section 2 Whenever at any time the said neurologist surgeon and chief physician agree with respect to any such idiot imbecile feeble-minded or chronic insane person that any progeny of such person would probably be idiotic imbecile feeble-minded or insane and that such person is hopelessly and incurably idiotic imbecile feeble-minded or insane and that sterilization would be for the benefit of the patient and the community and so report in writing signed by all of them to the board of trustees managers or directors of such institutions and where such board approves such recommendation by the affirmative of not less than three-fourths of all the members thereof they shall record upon their minutes an order providing for his or her sterilization by such operation as may be proper for the purpose and they shall report their finding to the court of common pleas of the county to which the patient belongs or of the county in which the hospital is located if the patient shall have no legal settlement in Pennsylvania If the said court shall grant its consent the said operation may be performed Thereupon it shall and may be lawful for any proper surgeon upon the staff of said institution under the direction of the physicians of said institution to perform such operation Provided That such operation shall not be performed except in case where the report of the surgeon neurologist and chief physician hereinabove provided for shall be based on at least one year's observation and test of the idiot imbecile or feeble-minded or chronic insane person within such institution Provided further that when the chief physician is also the surgeon or neurologist above he may sign the said report in both capacities named

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I move the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

The SPEAKER declared the nays seemed to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for,

Forty voting in the affirmative and ninety-nine in the negative and the question was determined in the negative.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House. I think this is one bill which sould not pass. I did agree with the sponsor at least I did vote with the sponsor, because of my personal feeling for him. I felt that his wishes in regard to postponing the bill should have consideration. But this, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, is to me a very vicious bill. Just to think of an unfortunate child who is considered by medical experts to be an idiot or imbecile after one years residence in an institution, on the petition of a neurologist and the surgeon and the majority of the members of the Board of Trustees of that institution, being sterilized. Now gentlemen this is a very serious bill. To my mind as serious a bill in its personal aspects or in its relation to human rights as this Legislature shall ever consider. Suppose that child should grow well? You have deprived him of something which is one of the dearest attributes of manhood. I say that Mr. Speaker in a wholly inoffensive and serious manner. Last session at a public hearing before the Public Health and Sanitation Committee in the Senate Caucus Room on the Anti-vivisection bill, I heard one of Philadelphia's most distinguished doctors say that from the vivi-section of animals, the experimentation on animals, they had discovered a serum which injected into imbeciles brought about a normal condition. Why should we take a step backward and say that the State of Pennsylvania shall not provide institutions enough and medical skill high enough to cure these unfortunate brothers of ours. Why, gentlemen, surely this bill will receive absolutely no support, for as I say, can we not expect medical science to advance to such a degree that we will be able to cure these afflicted people and make them well. Why shall we here say, you most unfortunate child of seven years of age, we deem you a permanent and incurable imbecile, and after we have observed you for one year, we will deprive you of your manhood. Gentlemen, this is a very unchristianlike and a very vicious kind of a bill and I ask that the House defeat it.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, with all due respect for the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, and his opinion on the subject of this class of legislation I am constrained to differ with him. In this present age when science is advancing in all lines, why should we not listen to the march and the call of progress along the lines indicated by this bill. This bill, or a measure somewhat similar to this, has passed the lower House and Senate on several different occasions to have been vetoed by the Governor in the past. This measure provides that idiots, imbeciles and feeble-minded persons confined to an institution either absolutely under the control of the State or receiving State aid for a period of one year, may have an operation performed upon them if in the judgment of a neurologist, who shall either be a consulting or resident physician of that institution, and also the surgeon identified with that institution, who should constitute a commission to determine whether or not some benefit to posterity would be derived from having this operation performed. The findings of that commission are not final under this measure. This bill provides that after the commission is of the opinion that such an operation should be performed they have to petition the courts of Common Pleas of the county from which the inmate of the institution was committed to that institution, and if, in the judgment of the court, such an operation would be beneficial, then the operation can be performed. Legislation of this character has already been placed upon the statute books of ten or twelve different states of our Union, and in many instances the legislation adopted by those states is far more drastic, far more reaching, and far more offensive, if you adopt the opinion of my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney. The purpose of this bill is not only to prevent procreation by those who are affected, and upon whom the operation will be performed, but to prevent the bringing into this world of defectives and degenerates. It is a well known fact to the medical profession that this character of womanhood and manhod such as is described by this bill do not give birth or procreate good healthy and strong-minded men and women. The gentleman from Philadelphia has told you that during the last session there was a big meeting in the Senate Caucus Room in which eminent physicians demonstrated and told how a serum had been discovered which would remedy and cure the class of people described by this bill. Two years have gone by and yet the number of inmates in our institutions for the insane and feeble-minded persons, are not decreased but augmented. If the gentleman's statement is correct, I would say that the number would have been reduced in two years, if the serum he speaks of was meritorious and a cure. Many of our institutions of this State have inmates there that unfortunately break away from the institution and stay away and are afterwards brought back to that instituion without the control of the authorities. It is a well known fact that in one institution of this State, within the last six or seven years, one inmate of that institution has broken away and has come back to that institution and has given birth to five children, and in that one institution it is costing that county something like one thousand dollars a year to support those five idiots, or feeble-minded children which will never be worth anything to themselves or to the Commonwealth. Mr. Speaker, speaking about this class of legislation, I would call the attention of the House to the fact that the Legislature of Minnesota even during this present month has passed a bill not similar to this, but providing for this class of an operation to be performed on idiots, habitual criminals and degenerates. Now, Mr. Speaker, I submit there is no reason why this House should not pass this bill at this time. The reason that I moved to have the further consideration of this bill postponed at this time was because I had been promised by the Department of Public Health and Sanitation certain data and information upon which I could go into more elaborate details of the individual states and the course of legislation adopted in those states, of this character, but as that opportunity was denied me, I am obliged to take the bill up at this time, and I feel, Mr. Speaker, that the sentiment of this House, and the sentiment of the upper House and the Governor will be such that this bill will be passed and placed upon our statute books.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it does seem to me that this is regulation almost run mad in this bill. The amendments are simply corrective and under the provisions of this bill no person who may desire to clean out a ditch on his farm, (and the usual custom is to throw it up on the bank), could do so without the consent of the Water Supply Commission of the State of Pennsylvania and if he does, he is liable to a minimum penalty of one hundred dollars and a maximum penalty of five thousand dollars. Why, it is one of the most drastic pieces of legislation I have ever seen presented before this House. A farmer who might go to clean out his ditch, or perhaps would want to straighten it out without the least knowledge of such an act being in the statute books, and in all probability no farmer would know that such a staute was on the books, and it would effect some person who might make objections and bring it before the court with a minimum penalty of one hundred dollars or a maximum penalty of five thousand dollars. If it should happen, in placing manure in a field, that some of it should wash in the stream, the minimum penalty would be one hundred dollars and the maximum penalty five thousand dollars. Why, surely this House will insist upon further amendments on this bill before they will pass it. I am willing to allow the bill to go through if he will admit this and if he is willing to take this out of it, otherwise we might as well defeat the bill now. Certainly this House will never pass a bill of that character.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. R. J. Baldwin, is right but he is not right far enough. It goes still further than that. I know an instance of a place where a railroad passes where I cross, where conditions are such that if this bill became a law, it would become prohibitive on the part of the railroad company in operating that railroad. The bank must be shoved out in the stream and they could not do it without building a retaining wall. I suggest that the bill be recommitted to the Manufactures Committee.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentlemen are mistaken, the way they are interpreting this bill. This bill says distinctly wherever the Water Supply Commission deems it necessary to have walls erected or the building of channels for the stream. This is stated in section one, line seventeen.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it is simply to be done under their supervision.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, the bill says: "Wherever the Water Supply Commission deem such a wall or walls necessary," they can ask to have it put there, to prevent the filling of the channel of the stream, only it does not prevent any one from putting any other thing in the stream as long as you don't fill the channel. I would like to give you my reasons for this bill and I want to make it very plain that the Water Supply Commission must authorize the building of a retaining wall to prevent the filling in of a channel. It says that in so many words and I desire to read: "When in the judgment of said Water Supply Commission, the retaining wall or walls are necessary and to prevent some of the material from falling in the channel." This is to apply only to large streams. I want to read some of my thoughts on this bill, if the gentlemen wish to hear it.

Mr. SPEAKER and Gentleman before voting on this measure I desire to explain what the object of the bill is. First the bill seeks to prevent any corporation or individual from filling in the channel of any river or stream in this Commonwealth. Of course this bill has nothing to do with navigable rivers or streams as they are entirely under Federal control. Now, Mr. Speaker, and Gentleman you might think that as we have a Water Supply Commission in this State that said commission could control the situation but such is not the fact, and it appears that under our present laws there is no State Department or person that can be held responsible for the great damage caused by the filling up of the channels of our streams, the object of the bill is to make some one responsible. This pernicious custom of filling in our streams exists throughout the State, and more particularly by railroad corporations. I do not wish to take up the time of this House but will ask your indulgence while I give you one instance that came under my observation.

The particular case that I refer to is in the Western part of the State, when I first knew the place it was a village in a beautiful valley with a good sized stream running through it, since then large manufacturing plants located there and hundreds of workmen built their humble homes in the valley. A borough was formed, bonds issued, streets paved and the people were happy and prosperous, but gradually the channel of the stream began to fill up and kept filling up until very little rain caused the stream to overflow and flood the streets, homes and business houses, causing great damage and financially ruining many citizens. In looking for the cause of the trouble the citizens and engineers decided that it was largely due to the dumping of earth into the stream by corporations. I personally know of one instance where a railroad company filled the stream completely from bank to bank with furnace slag and other material and forced the stream to mke a new channel for itself which caused the earth to wash down the stream and fill it up.

In this particular case the Water Supply Commission of this great State was asked to interfere. The commission sent its representative from Harrisburg who found conditions just as I have related them. He also saw another railroad company in the act of unloading its cars of dirt and throwing it in the stream, the representative said conditions were deplorable but that his department did not have the power to stop it. The citizens are now mortgaging their little homes for the purpose of raising them above the filled up stream. The borough has bonded itself to the limit for the purpose of raising its streets and if you gentlemen do not give the relief asked for in this bill in a few years conditions will be as bad as ever. I call your attention to Railroad Commission report, briefly the bill says that the Water Supply Commission shall have the power to prevent any person or corporation from filling in the channels of the streams.

When the railroads were originally laid out they, for engineering reasons, as a general thing, follow the courses of the streams. This brought them into close proxmity with these streams. With expanding business and the growth of traffic there has come the necessity of widening the tracks. In many instances throughout the State there has been encroachment. The time is rapidly approaching when these running waters will be recognized to possess incalculable value and their protection is a matter of the utmost importance which ought to be carefully considered by the Legislature.

This bill does not interfere with the Health Department. I ask you to give them this power and then if they do not stop it fire the Commission.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think there is no doubt but what the parties who drew this bill intended what was best for the State at large, and for the community, and I think that the gentleman who is sponsor for the bill had the same thought and the same desire that it bring no hardship unnecessarily upon the public, but I must reassert that in the drafting of that bill they have done exactly what I told the House. The language is this:

"That it shall be unlawful for any person firm municipality or heretofore or hereafter created corporation to deposit any earth or other material in any run creek river or stream or to place or deposit any earth or other material upon the banks of the same."

That means the smallest rivulet.

"Any earth or other material in any place where the same would be likely to slide into or be washed into any run creek river or stream unless and until such person firm or corporation or municipality shall have constructed in accordance with plans specifications and application approved by the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania."

Now, it is true it does go on and say and also under their supervision, and it is further true that it also goes on and says that if you violate this act you will be subject to a minimum penalty of one hundred dollars or not exceeding five thousand dollars. Now, I don't believe the parties who drafted that bill intended that, and if they did intend this, this House surely should not pass it, and I am perfectly satisfied to have the bill postponed for the present; and that feature should either be corrected or eliminated—the minimum penalty at all hazards should be taken out of this bill.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, it occurs to me that this is not such a dangerous bill, and at the same time it is one that is absolutely necessary. Now, it is an every-day occurrence around coal operations and corporations constructing buildings or tracks to pay very little regard whatever to the natural water courses. I know of an instance in our county where the coal company would throw its culp out there into the creek and into the river, obstructing the natural flow of the water, causing a flooded condition of the lands. Now, this is all in the judgment of the water commissioner, and that is not the end of it; it comes before the court, and if the parties who are apprehended on trial are able to show that there is no injury done, why that is the end of it. They couldn't be convicted. I will say, however, while the bill could be drawn, I think that it should not be so drastic, yet I would favor referring this bill back because there is a necessity for it, and I think it could be amended and take out part of this language, leaving it, however, if the natural courses are obstructed so as to cause any damage or any injury in time of floods to any person, that then this part of the law should obtain.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

I move, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Manufacturers for amendment.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—1.

Bleloch,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 520, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An Act to provide for the protection and preservation of game game-quadrupeds and game-birds and song and insectivorous and other wild birds and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 33, strike out the word "tenth" in line 33, and insert the word "first."

Strike out the two words "November" in line 34, and insert in lieu thereof the words "December" in lieu thereof.

Strike out the words "twenty-fifth" in line 34, and insert in lieu thereof the word "fifteenth."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move to go into committee of the whole House for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

The SPEAKER declared the nays seemed to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to make an explanation of this amendment if in order.

The SPEAKER. The vote has been taken, but pending a division the gentleman will make his explanation.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, the present deer season is from November 15th to December 30th. This bill proposes to change it from that date until from November 10th to November 25th, advancing the season five days earlier. I have had considerable experience in the hunting line and I have had a great deal of talk on this deer season with a great many experienced hunters. There is a great deal of complaint in the State to-day on the line that the deer are not breeding and experienced hunters give the reason as this, that the breeding season comes now practically in the open hunting season, which is November 15th to December 1st. The hunters going into the woods can kill nothing but bucks. They chase the male deer from day to day and they have no chance to get in relation with the opposite sex, therefore they are not breeding. The remedy for this proposed by experienced men is not to advance the season as this bill proposes, but extend it 15 days later, making it as this amendment proposes, from December 1st to December 15th. I have talked this matter over carefully and thoroughly with the Game Commissioners and with the men connected with the Game Department and they approve of these amendments and this is the only purpose I have in offering these amendments, to protect the deer while they are in the breeding season, giving to the hunter the same 15 days, but putting it 15 days later, and thus give the deer a chance to take care of themselves while in their natural state, while they should be in that position. That is the purpose, Mr. Speaker, of these amendments.

Fifty-six gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 68 in negative, the motion was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in view of this situation, it seems to me that we better defeat the bill. The season is better as it is, leaving it from November 15th to December 1st, and the same explanation that I have made in relation to the other applies to this proposed change. The proposed change in the bill simply puts the time five days earlier and to my mind makes it that much worse, and I believe the sentiment of all experienced hunters, those who know, throughout the State would prefer to leave the season as it is, rather than move it forward.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I believe this bill is all right just as it stands. The Game Committee had this bill before it and discussed it thoroughly, and a number of that committee who are familiar with deer in its every phase, and the Game Commissioner, agreed with the committee that this bill was a wise one. It only opens the season five days earlier, and closes it ten days earlier, so it makes very little change—a matter of a few days—a certainly would not interfere with the deer in any way. I believe that after the committee having discussed this question thoroughly, and gone over it thoroughly and the Game Commissioner of the State agreeing that it was a wise provision, I see no reason why this bill should not be enacted into a law in its present form.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 860, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for the payment of Commonwealth witnesses in criminal cases and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, a similar bill to this, introduced by Mr. Catlin, is in the Judiciary General Committee now under consideration, and I would ask that this bill be sent back to the same Committee to be considered in conjunction with that bill. There is a similar bill introduced by the same gentleman now in the Judiciary General Committee, and, as a matter of fact, I think it is identical. This bill was reported from the Committee on Judiciary Special, and if it is the same bill it should be considered together with the one now in the Judiciary General. I am simply asking that they be considered together. The bill provides that Commonwealth witnesses shall be paid at the end of every day. Without saying anything about the merits of it, I am asking, as two bills pending here on the same subject and exactly alike, that they be considered together.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I understand this bill has been before the Judiciary Special and that the merits of the bill have been gone into thoroughly, and the Committee thought it advisable that this bill should be reported out and voted on. It seems to me that it would be unfair for one committee to try to regulate the workings of another committee. I know this other committee passed upon this bill and have brought it before this Senate for the purpose of having the Senators vote upon it, and I think this would be an interference by one committee in the business of another committee, and I think it would establish a bad precedent in the Senate and I ask that this motion not be carried because it would be an interference with the business of one committee by another.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, if my suggestion is correct that this bill is identical with another bill introduced by the same gentleman I think it is entirely proper that the bill be considered in the same committee. It is not an intereference of one committee by another. If there are two committees considering the same bill then it is time that we join the work of the two committees in one. I am only asking that the bill be sent back for comparison and action upon this bill by the Judiciary General Committee. That is the proper committee in which to consider it anyhow.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I understand from the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Catlin, that the two bills are not identical, and that they are different bills. The one refers to fees for witnesses appearing before coroners and this bill is a different proposition altogether. The Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Catlin, also states that if the bills are in any way identical he will appear before the Judiciary General Committee and ask that further consideration of the bill now before that Committee be dispensed with.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the bill which is now before the Committee on Judiciary General is not the same bill as the one now before this body. This bill merely applies to the fees of witnesses who are held in murder cases where they are committed by the coroner and amends the present act in that regard only. Under the present law the witnesses who are committed by coroners may not be paid. The bill which is now before the Judiciary General Committee merely amends the present act to allow those witnesses to be paid the same as those held by justices of the peace or committing magistrates.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not want to be persistent, but this bill contains the same elements that are contained in the other bill. It is immaterial whether the other bill provides for the payment of coroner's witnesses. This bill provides for the payment of Commonwealth witnesses at the end of every day and that is precisely what the other bill provides. It is a very important bill. Now the Judiciary General Committee is considering the other bill which has the same elements in it, and this bill ought to be returned. It is not a good bill. There may be some way of arriving at a proper solution of this matter. The passing of a bill of this kind means that in every county in Pennsylvania it will be necessary to have additional clerk hire to make out vouchers daily to pay Commonwealth witnesses. I am only asking what I think it fair here, that this be sent back to the same Committee and that the bills be considered together.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, at the request of the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Catlin, I withdraw the motion.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 860, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for the payment of Commonwealth witnesses in criminal cases and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 862 (House Bill No. 218), on third reading, entitled:

An Act for the protection of wild birds and game within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania requiring citizens of the United States residing within this State to procure a license before using guns for the purpose of hunting for any wild birds or animals protected by the laws of this Commonwealth and providing penalties for violation of its several provisions and the manner of proceeding to enforce compliance therewith and providing for the disposition of the license fees fines and penalties received go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 872, entitled:

A supplement to an act approved the twenty-fifth day of February one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act to establish a Department of Forestry to provide for its proper administration to regulate the acquisition of land for the Commonwealth and to provide for the control protection and maintenance of forestry reservations by the Department of Forestry

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President so that the members of the Senate may understand this bill, today under the law the maximum amount payable for acreage for forestry conservation is $5. Now there are lots of sections in the western part of the State that forestry conservation is necessary which was evidenced just lately by the great floods we had in the western part of the State. Now property in that section has advanced in many instances quite a great deal and this bill merely seeks that the State may increase the maximum amount to $10 instead of $5 per acre for forest conservation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

Mr. DeWITT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 891, (House Bill No. 857), the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the qquestion,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I would ask that the Senator withdraw the motion and ask that the bill go over in its order. Mr. Ely, in the House, spoke to me about this bill and I have forgotten just what it was. It is the same bill that applies to two or three counties and to two or three counties only.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, what objection has the Senator to the bill going back to committee?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, Mr. Ely spoke to me about it.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, is on that committee.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, No, I am not. I ask the Senator to withdraw his motion and let the bill go over in its order.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I object to that insinuation that that committee is the official embalming ground. I am a member of it for once in thirteen years. We are not trying to embalm it and do not like the insinuation of the Senator from Allegheny.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, it is not my insinuation. I said that is the general impresion over in the House.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, the bill has already been read and therefore it cannot go over in its order. I am of the opinion as the Senator from Allegheny. I am interested in it myself. It is a Westmoreland County bill.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I would ask that the Senator withdraw his motion.

Mr. DeWITT. Mr. President, I will withdraw the motion.

RECESS.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Let us have a conscience in the work which we do. Let no selfishness lead us astray. Let no indifference or carelessness betray us into belittling or depreciating the work which we do. May we have Thy presence and blessing and help this day. We ask it in His name who taught us to say:

Our Father, who are in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on Earth as it is done in Heaven, give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors; lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever. MOTION.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 146, which was reported from Committee with a negative recommendation, be placed upon the Calendar notwithstanding the negative report of the Committee.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in a report of this kind the title should be read.

The SPEAKER. The title of the bill will be read for the information of the House. The Clerk will read the title.

The title was read by the Clerk as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act providing for the burial of indigent persons whose bodies are unclaimed and are unfit for anatomical purposes"

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask what Committee this was negatived by.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, by the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, the Chairman is Mr. Richards of Allegheny and he is not present.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, I move that the resolution be postponed for the present.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I consulted with Mr. Richards on this question and I think an explanation at this time is necessary. This bill is for the purpose of the burial of indigent persons and it has come over from the Senate with a unanimous vote and given to the Committee of Public Health and Sanitation. I did not know that this bill was in that Committee, else I should have appeared before it previous to the time when it was reported with a negative recommendation. I think the negative recommendation was made because of a lack of an understanding of the bill. We passed a similar bill to this for the burial of indigent persons for twenty dollars. We find that this bill has been taken undue advantage of by the different counties of the State in the burial of indigent persons and this bill provides an amendment rather to the bill of an increase for the burial of indigent persons; that is the gist of the bill. It should come before this House and it should be placed on the Calendar for the reason that it is necessary to give that much for the burial of indigent persons in the respective counties of this State with a funeral and service and for the furnishing of the outfit for which this amount of money is necessary.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I think this circumstance calls, not for a motion to place the bill on the Calendar but for a recommittal, and I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, In order to place this bill in proper position I ask unanimous consent to have this bill placed on the Calendar.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection?

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I object to that. That bill was well discussed in Committee.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I renew my motion to recommit this bill to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO NATIONAL AND STATE FLAGS.

Mr. GRAMLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up resolution No. 37, file folio 4419, entitled:

Copies of act relative to the use of the flags of the United States and Pennsylvania for the purpose of offering an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, Many persons in this Commonwealth are not aware of the provisions of the act May twenty-third one thousand nine hundred and seven, (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and twenty-five), prohibiting the unlawful use of the flags of the United States and of this State; therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that fifty thousand (50,000) copies of the above mentioned act be printed twelve hundred thousand copies (12,000) for the use of the House, eight thousand (8,000) copies for the use of the Senate and the remaining thirty thousand (30,000) copies for distribution by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. GRAMLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend second line of resolution, by striking out the word "hundred."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the resolution as amended lie over for printing.

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know something in relation to this bill and its purposes before I vote upon it. It seems to me that a peculiar condition is required by the provisions of this bill, and I should like to know what the purpose of it is, if it be for safeguarding or what.

Mr. H. H. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, there are about twenty different states that have a headlight law; some of them call for a power as high as 2,500 candle power. This bill calls for a headlight with a sufficient candle power to see the size of a man eight hundred feet away.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, what are cab lights and what are the purposes of them?

Mr. H. H. IRWIN. Mr. Speaker, a cab light is used on the locomotive in order that the engineer may see the steam gauge, the air gauge and steam heat gauge.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. LETZKUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1167, file folio 2771, entitled:

An Act to authorize the appointment by the county commissioners in counties having not less than two hundred and fifty thousand (250,000) nor more than three hundred and twenty-five thousand (325,000) inhabitants of assessors and assistant assessors prescribing their numbers powers duties procedure and method of their appointment and fixing the salaries to be paid by the proper counties and abolishing the office of ward borough township assessors and assessor of voters in such counties and providing penalties for violation of this act was defeated on final passage on Wednesday, April 2nd, be reconsidered.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I was out of the House when the motion was made. I desire to know who made the motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Letzkus made the motion and the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Semmens, seconded it.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know how they voted on the bill.

Mr. LETZKUS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Semmens, vote on this bill.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

The SPEAKER. Both gentlemen voted in the negative.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, this bill was very fairly defeated the other day. Gentlemen of the House, if you will give attention for a few minutes, I will try to give you a few reasons why this bill should not be reconsidered. In the first place, for the reason that two years ago a bill which was similar to this—practically the same—was passed by this House and also the Senate and vetoed by the Governor. Can you conceive of the idea that Governor Tener would reverse himself and sign a bill at this time which he vetoed two years ago, which is practically the same thing. It seems to me that we ought not to embarrass his Excellency by asking him to sign a bill of this kind. There is another thing; we have a large amount of business before us and it seems to me when a bill is defeated especially by a majority vote, that we ought not to take up the time of this House in reconsidering and discussing bills that have been defeated as this one was. With your permission, I will read very briefly the remarks of one gentleman who was a member of the House two years ago, which illustrates the sentiment of that gentleman and of the people of his district. The gentleman was Mr. Brennen of Schuylkill County, who was a member at that time. When they wanted to reconsider the bill at that time, he said, "Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, I didn't think that we would have any more trouble with this bill after yesterday when it met such an unmerciful defeat. There is one thing about killing the bill, you never know when you have done it because this bill was killed, the people in my county are calling me the "Legislative snake killer." I have not heard of one of my constituents who is favorable to a measure of this kind. In the killing of this bill four of the five representatives of my county voted against it. So far as my county is concerned, I don't think there is one person in the county who wants such a measure and for that reason, I ask the members not to adopt this report."

Gentlemen, the same reason exists today that existed then. This bill should not be reconsidered as it affects Lackawanna County. I believe the same sentiment exists there among a large majority of the tax-payers and that the sentiment is against this bill. One of the gentlemen who discussed this measure the other day, tried to carry the idea that only the country people are opposed to it. gentlemen, I want to state to you that I have received letter after letter from people from the city of Scranton and other parts of my section opposing this bill. Further, the Board of Trade of the City of Scranton is opposed to this bill. There was a committee appointed by the President of the Board of Trade to consider this bill. Men of ability from various parts of the County including the city of Scranton and towns and townships after they had gone thoroughly into the matter in detail they thoroughly decided that this bill should not become a law.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he has had any protest against this bill, since the bill was modified to meet the requirements of the city of Scranton or the Board of Trade?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir, I have.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he has received any petitions to vote for this bill?

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I have received letters and I have received a small petition. By the way, the letters that I have received in favor of this bill were all of the same typewritten character and simply passed around to the people for their signatures. I continue to consider that letters of this kind don't carry the weight in them that an original letter does written by the persons who have a special interest. The letter which is in circular form sent by some one's request is entirely different from a letter written originally by the sender, and so far as petitions or letters are concerned, the letters that I have received against this bill are ten to one. There were ten letters opposing this bill to one that was in favor of the bill. As to the rural districts, I have received letters from all parts of the country. I have since received several letters from the city of Scranton, stating that they were gratified very much to see that this bill was defeated last week. Now, gentlemen, in all fairness to the voters of Lackawanna County and tax-payers who are against this bill, I ask you to vote against this motion to recommit and vote it down.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of this bill, as I understand that he is at work down stairs on appropriation bills and not present here, I would like to state to the House and show this House the necessity for this bill. This bill originally was opposed by several Board of Trades of Scranton but in this modified form we have received no protest. I will read you from the Scranton Times, of April 7 of this week:

ELMHURST TAXPAYERS AGAINST ASSESSMENT.

HELD TOWN MEETING TO PROTEST AGAINST WHAT THEY TERM A FARCE.

Taxpayers in Elmhurst held a town meeting Saturday night to express their resentment at what they termed the farcical assessment that have been made

The upshot was the appointment of a committee to protest to the county commissioners and urge them to revise the assessments. If they do not get any satisfaction they will likely go into court and seek to have the assessment in the whole county invalidated.

George Struppled, is the assessor for Elmhurst, but he wasn't at the meeting. His ears must have burned, however, for vigorous denunciation of the assessments were made.

The charge was made that Struppler's house, for which he wouldn't take less than $7,000 was assessed for $2,400. Other properties were assessed for as high as four times their reasonable value.

As an illustration it was set forth that a farm of three acres acres was assessed for as much as a farm of thirteen acres. The same inequality prevails generally, it was asserted by those who spoke. Glaring differences in assessments were freely cited, and on the whole the taxpayers of the borough presented figures to show that the same haphazard manner of making assessments in Elmhurst characterized the asessments as in other parts of the county.

Up to Commissioners

The meeting decided that it was up to the county commissioners to do justice to the farmers and property owners in the borough and George McFadden, Charles S. Teal and Charles Whitney were instructed to go to the commissioners and demand a revision. If it isn't forthcoming it was the sense of the meeting that a public fund should be raised to go into court and have the whole assessment knocked out. Judging from the feeling manifested the taxpayers will stand for no foolishness.

The meeting was under the auspices of the council and the school board. Another meeting for the general public will be held next Saturday night at which a report is to be made by the committee on their visit to the commissioners.

During the meeting another question agitated the citizens. It was averred that the asessment on the property owned by Col. U. G. Schoonmaker was below what it ought to be compared to other assessments. It was also set forth that the uncompleted buildings of Benj. H. Throop, were assessed when they shouldn't be until completed.

It was declared Colonel Schoonmaker had replotted a tract of five or six acres in part, which several years ago he gave to the borough for park purposes. This is along the railroad. A committee was appointed to investigate the change. L. P. Wedeman, Esq., was appointed chairman of the committee, and to act with him Eugene Gottschall and J. Knickerbocker were appointed.

John G. McAskie, Esq., was chairman of the meeting being called upon to assume that office by the gathering. Mr. Teal acted as secretary.

This is a from a paper that originally fought this bill. This bill has been modified to meet the approval of the several societies and Boards of Trade. Unless the commissioners fix this assessment up, I ask you gentlemen to give us a chance to vote to reconsider this bill.

Mr. MANNION. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. MANNION. Mr. Speaker, Two years ago in this House a bill of this kind had passed the House enacting a law, providing the Governor had signed the same. I would like to know under what provision the Governor had refused to sign it. Whether it was for the small portion of assessors; the number in our county, that the Governor had refused to sign such a bill as this?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, The Governor vetoed the bill because he thought nine assessors were not enough. He said there should be more than nine assessors. This bill, as it stands now, is modified to make the amount seven assessors but in the triennial year to increase the number to twelve, which will be sufficient. In the triennial year, we think seven will be enough and under the circumstances, we feel that this bill should be reconsidered.

Mr. MANNION. Mr. Speaker, I further desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna. If this bill, which provides for six to take the triennial assessment, would be sufficient, why would they insist on the conditions of this bill passing this House, inasmuch as the Governor has refused to sign a bill providing for nine assessors, an insufficient number to take the general assessment of our county.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I have already said that the bill calls for seven, not six, and in a triennial year increase it to twelve for one year. We cut it down from twelve to seven in order to meet the demands of the taxpayers.

Mr. MANNION. I wish an answer to my question. Mr. Speaker. The bill provided for nine assessors in our county two years ago, and the Governor said the county assessors were insufficient to make the assessments. Now, the bill provides for six.

Mr. DAVIS. I said seven, not six.

Mr. MANNION. Well, what would be the difference. It seems to me on the face of the bill it is very—

Mr. DAVIS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Mannion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. MANNION. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he would vote for the bill if it called for twelve assessors.

Mr. MANNION. You are a little previous.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman further. Do the people protest against twelve assessors in Lackawanna County?

Mr. MANNION. Undoubtedly so; especially in the city which I have the honor to represent.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, there are other reasons why the Governor vetoed this bill. He didn't see any reason why there should be any change made in the present system for these few counties. That was one statement made in his veto message. Now, it only applies to one county, and why should there be a special change for one county of this great Commonwealth in the system of the assessment of property. Now, we are not claiming that the present system is what it ought to be. We are not claiming that we have first class assessments. In fact we believe that the proposition as contained in this bill will not be a benefit to Lackawanna County, but would be a detriment, because of the fact that it opens an opportunity for the building up of a strong political machine. That is one reason. I am not stating or casting any reflection on any of our county officials of having that motive in mind, but even those who may be elected hereafter might grasp that opportunity and undertake that proposition. When these commissioners appoint from seven to twelve men to assess property, they become in a sense creatures of the appointing power. The creature does not rise above its creator, and under the present conditions in Lackawanna County I cannot believe that the motives are as high as some would like to make them out to be.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOBBS. Proceed.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he believes in the short ballot.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, I am not prepared to give a definite opinion relative to the short ballot proposition.

Mr. DAVIS. This makes the ballot shorter.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, that question does not enter into this proposition, and inasmuch as the county commissioners constitute the board of revision of taxes, it gives them absolute control of fixing the vaulation of property, regardless of the interests and rights of the people. In fact, they are in a position to make a monopoly of it, and I believe that if our county commissioners would devote more time and energy towards readjustment of assessments in Lackawanna County, even under the present system they would accomplish much better results. In regard to the letter that the gentleman read from taxpayers of Elmhurst borough, we are not claiming that all assessments are correct, but this matter reverts to the county commissioners and finally, if the assessments are not what they ought to be, the county commissioners are responsible. Gentlemen, I do not care to take up your time, but let us dispose of this snake as soon as possible. When I was a boy, we used to consider when we killed a snake that its tail would not die until sun-down. Well, several suns have set since this bill was killed, and the tail of it is still wriggling. Gentlemen, let us put our heel on this bill and defeat it permanently.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Hobbs.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOBBS. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman if he believes in efficiency and concentration—

Mr. HOBBS. Perhaps it would be well to divide the question.

Mr. DAVIS. And placing responsibility where it belongs?

Mr. HOBBS. As to answering that question, it is complex, and I think he had better separate the question.

Mr. DAVIS. I will make it plainer. We have now in the county of Lackawanna between eighty and ninety assessors making these assessments. We know that they are not efficient. We are not getting the right kind of assessment. Through concentration, this bill will give the efficiency which we are looking for, and place the responsibility. There was a time in the second class cities when the city assessors were elected, and we had the same trouble as we are having now with the eighty or ninety assessors who are elected by districts. Since that system was abolished and the assessors of the cities of the second class are appointed by the mayor, we are getting the efficiency on account of the concentration.

Mr. HOBBS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to this question, I will say that I do believe in efficiency. A man would be very weak, indeed, if he did not believe in efficiency. But when you come to concentration, that is another proposition. Concentration, in this proposition, means this: It gives an opportunity for the county commissioners to appoint the men at large, and they might all reside in the city of Scranton. I want to appeal to you gentlemen in the rural districts, men who are owners of real estate and farms in this State. Do you want a city gentleman who does not know the value of farm property, to come out in the rural districts and assess your property; and vice versa, the gentlemen from the rural districts are not qualified to assess city property or town property. So, from the proposition of concentration, I think that this ought to be sufficient of itself to defeat the reconsideration of this bill. gentlemen, vote it down.

On the question recurring,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOBB and Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES, and were as follows:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1191, entitled:

An Act to amend sections five hundred forty and five hundred forty-one of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, The City of Easton, with about the cities of Lebanon, Hazleton, Carbondale. Bradford, Pittston,, Corry, Oil City, Titusville, Meadville, having less than 30.000 population, falls in the third class of school districts. This class being comprised mostly of boroughs and townships, no provision was made in the code for levying of school taxes on the appraisement as made by the City Assessors but the provision was made general and this whole class of school districts was directed to levy taxes on the appraisement as made by the County Assessors.

In the ten cities affected, it made a change that in some cases seriously affected the revenue of the school districts, and the cities are asking for relief by means of an amendment. It is a matter of local taxation and the proposed amendment simply confers on the ten cities affected, being under 30,000 population, the same privilege that is enjoyed by other cities who happen to be over 30.000, that is, the right to avail themselves of the benefit of their local city assessment for school purposes as they do for municipal purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 969, entitled:

An Act relative to commissioners of townships of the first class and regulating their term and election

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILLS POSTPONED.

Mr. GOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1152, entitled:

An Act to create suburban metropolitan districts of the areas within twenty-five miles of the limits of cities of the first class to provide for the appointment of suburban metropolitan planning commission for such districts to prescribe their powers and duties and to provide by assessment upon the cities boroughs and townships within the limits thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman who is the sponsor of this bill explain upon whom the expenses of this bill will fall.

Mr. AMBLER. Mr. Speaker, this is what is known as the "suburban metropolitan organization" bill, and it provides that the expenses of the commission shall fall upon townships and boroughs, but in no case more than one-tenth of a mill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I don't like to oppose anybody's legislation in the House, I assure you, but I do really think that this is a piece of legislation that has no power whatever except to collect one-tenth of one mill tax on a territory of the surrounding property, creating a fund of from $15,000 to $20,000 to support a commission. The bill does not give that commission any power whatever, nor does it give the municipalites that come under its power, or under control of it, or under its jurisdiction, any power to get any benefit from it. There is nothing in the bill, to my mind, at all except a number of offices that will not be of any benefit to anybody. I do not know whether the House is acquainted with the provisions of this bill or not, but the bill provides for the creation of an organization to be known as a suburban metropolitan organization, to lay down certain plans reaching anywhere within twenty-five miles of a great city. This commission is entitled, for its services, to one-tenth of one mill of the taxation of all that territory. Now, then, on the other hand, what do they do? They are supposed to put out a comprehensive plan of the territory for future development along certain lines; that is all they do. It is not required in the bill how much work they shall do in order to give them the right to levy on the people, nor does it require in that bill, when one of those communities desires some information from them, that they shall give it, but simply says that a community may ask for a plan. If the Commission says, "We are not ready yet; we haven't had the time," you won't get the benefit. It may be that a bill of this character, properly drawn, with some powers somewhere to compel the commission to do something, and some powers vested somewhere for a community, if it desire information the commission to give it. A bill properly drawn along that line might perhaps meet my approvel, but certainly something of that character ought to be in the bill, or this House ought to consider what it does. That bill will take one-tenth of one mill of the tax levy, giving no mandatory power, no legal power to require anything in return, no mandatory power to compel the commission to perform any services. It may be a favorable plan, if properly regulated, but where it is not regulated as it ought to be, I cannot help but feel that the bill ought not pass in the form it is now.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill affects a very large area in my district and a part of Bucks county also, and I have had no request from that district in support of this measure; and inasmuch as the citizens of that district are not interested, I would ask that the House vote down this bill.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the opposition to this bill arises from what might be called a medieval state of mind. The problem before us is this: There is the great City of Philadelphia, which by natural growth has reached its corporate lines. It is rapidly spreading over its corporate lines and thickly settled communities are radiating from it in all directions. Now these communities are split up into a great number of separate jurisdictions, mostly townships, for instance, along the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, stretching west from Philadelphia, we have township after township, borough after borough, but all of it forming one homeogenous class of population having similar needs and similar requirements. Now everybody knows that the needs of such a large area of population has to be treated in some unitary and comprehensive way. Not one of these small townships can afford to engage the engineering force or pay for the brains which will lay out plans comprehensive for them all, in such matters as sewerage, roadways and electric light wires, everything which goes to make up the public service in the community; and if there is not some central bureau which has the time, money and skill to think of these plans for each individual unit, it will simply result in the conjuring of unimportant and futile efforts to do the things that with a small expense could be done right for everybody. In fact, it is practically the same problem which faced Philadelphia in 1854 before the consolidation, where there was a great number of minor municipalities all covering the same area, the same unit of population of what is now the City and County of Philadelphia; and in order to get proper development it was necessary to incorporate them into one corporate body. Now the city has grown beyond the county and has reached to Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware counties and it is not possible or thought wise yet to include that whole territory within the corporate limits of Philadelphia and almost all the good that that would entail can now be done by this simple scheme of erecting a comprehensive metropolitan planning district and the very small cost of a maximum of one-tenth of one mill. It does not mean at all that the commission will use that much, but a maximum of one-tenth of one mill is allowed for this planning commission. What I meant by saying that it was a medieval mind that opposed this bill, was that in the middle ages the towns and cities were cramped within narrow limits and it is only gradually as we come to modern times that the necessity for planning for large areas was thought of, and now every large city, both in this country and abroad, is considering the problem from the widest point of view, so that when a thing is once done it be done for all time, and when done it be done right. It would be a mistake for all future time, in the eastern part of the State at least, not to pass this bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I comprehend what the word "medieval" stands for, but I call this a medival bill if I understand the word. Now, I am just as much in sympathy with the proposition as laid down by my friend from Philadelphia as he is, and I will go just as far as he will, along practical lines, to bring about just what he desires. But here is a bill that has nothing in it; that has not any force in it excepting for the collecting of the money; that is the only force to it. It says positively that this large community must subscribe one-tenth of one mill to support an organization that by this bill does not say what it shall be in any way, nor it does not say in a single line that this particular divisons or municipal divisions in this territory, radiating twenty-five miles from the Cty of Philadelphia, shall get any return whatever. This is the only thing that I am complaining about. I am not complaining against the proposition that the gentleman presents to the House. I am simply complaining that the bill is not in the form that it ought to be, nothing mandatory excepting to collect the money. They say you must furnish the money. In all human probability, with a bill of this character, we have the right to feel that the money may not be well spent, and doubt whether competent men would have the handling of it. Under these circumstances the bill ought to be put in some form where it will have some force, or be defeated.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, as this bill is drawn it will take in an area with a total assessment of five hundred million dollars and one-tenth of one mill will permit this commission to collect probably fifty thousand dollars. I see no reason why the suburban districts adjacent to the City of Philadelphia are not able to appoint their own parkway commission, etc., and look after their own respective interests. We are not living in an ancient atmosphere. We are all progressive, and I contend that the people in the territory adjacent to the City of Philadelphia can take care of themselves.

Mr. AMBLER. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that this bill only affects suburban districts within twenty-five miles of the City of Philadelphia. The gentleman from Montgomery stated it will receive a revenue on five hundred million dollars. I do not know how he gets that or anything about it; and the gentleman from Delaware says it has no power. We don't want it to have power. The only power it has is to suggest plans and, Mr. Speaker, we leave all the power with the local authorities who are elected by the people and they are responsible to the people. This bill simply provides that this commission may form plans and suggest and lay them before these municipal authorities. Our people down in our county and the county of Bucks, and all counties nearby are in favor of this bill and I hope the House will pass it.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, this morning, when the resolution from the Senate reached this House announcing its intention or adjourning until next Monday night, it was clearly evident as to the temper of the House toward that resolution when the vote was announced. There were quite a few strong "noes" and a general rumbling of "noes" throughout the House, which indicated something. I feel, Mr. Speaker, that the something which was indicated by the sentiment of this House was that the House had somewhat tired of the delay of matters in the other branch of this body. As a member of this House, I feel that since we have been here we have worked conscientiously and diligently and have accomplished much, Mr. Speaker, more than has been accomplished, perhaps, in the same time within years and years. The legislation has been taken up by this House in an orderly and systematic way, notwithstanding the fact, at the beginning of this session when it seemed that the members were torn asunder and that we would have delays or attempted delays and all those things from the various elements on the floor of this House, we have worked, it seems to me, Mr. Speaker, with one purpose in view. As individuals on the floor of this House, the members have stood for what their parties announced to the people. We have taken up and introduced here and have given public hearings to important measures, pledges which your parties and my party made to the people. We brought those bills out on the floor of this House. We have considered them. Some of them are still in the hands of the committees receiving almost daily attention and investigation. Others have passed this House at an early time, and I want to call the House's attention to a series of these bills. In looking over the Senate Calendar I find that three of a series of election bills were referred to the Senate on the 11th of February. Going a little further along two more of that same series of bills were referred on the seventeenth of February, and three more of the series, completing the series, were referred to the Senate on the 24th of February, having passed this House. Mr. Speaker, that series of bills as they came in there were referred to the Committee on Elections and they still sleep in that Committee. No one of those bills has ever been reported out from that committee notwithstanding the fact, Mr. Speaker, that every party represented upon the floor of this House has promised to the people a purification of the ballot laws and this series of bills which I took up because of the fact that it was the first series that started through this House, this series of bills attempts to do that very thing. Now, Mr. Speaker, I can only speak for myself in relation to one matter. When I appear upon the streets of my home city, I am accosted on every hand almost by people asking me how it happens that I am home even if it is Saturday evening, why I am not down at Harrisburg at work, that we have done nothing. The people as a people, Mr. Speaker, only know what has been done as it is ground out and finally approved from the Executive Chamber. No man who is not in intimate touch with this House knows that the House is having two or three long, tiresome and deliberate sessions every day. No one knows that. You cannot explain to your people how it is that you are working steadily because they only see the limited number of bills that have been passed at this session, although the session is now ten or eleven weeks old. You cannot make your people understand that. Mr. Speaker, that resolution indicated that the temper of this House had been aroused to the point at which the House was about to say to the Senate that we are not satisfied with their convening at eleven o'clock for a few moments, and doing nothing and adjourning on Wednesday at ten or eleven o'clock in the morning, but that we shall expect them to do as we are doing and get down to business, not only taking care or business which originates in that branch of this body, and especially taking care of such measures as this Legislature, as you and I, Mr. Speaker, and as the parties which every member on the floor of this House represents have promised to the people, that they shall give their attention to these pledges and put these pledges into operation.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of Personal Privilege.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the statement made upon the question of personal privilege by the gentleman from Allegheny fully agrees with the view that I take as to the position of this House. Since the beginning of this session, this House, through the very able leadership of its Speaker, has been working from ten o'clock in the morning, through the morning sessions, through the afternoon sessions, and now apparently, will be working through the night sessions. We have not only put through legislation in this House that we have been pledged to put through, but we have acted with extreme fairness to the Senate by putting the Senate's legislation through. In looking over the calendar yesterday I find that no less than twenty-nine Senate Bills are on the calendar, and that the majority o those reached yesterday on third reading and those that were reached to-day, have been passed by this House. Mr. Speaker, we are not being treated by the Senate fair as a House. We are not being treated by the Senate fairly as representatives of constituencies, and it is the duties of this House, not only to itself, but it is the duty to these constituencies to compel the Senate to cease its dilatory proceedings, and while the Joint Resolution was adopted in this House this morning allowing the adjournment for more than three days without opposition. These questions of personal privileges exercised on the floor of the House today should be notice to the Senate, that they cannot expect our concurrence in another week if they persist in ignoring the bills sent to the Senate and in keeping in their committees such important bills as to Convention Bills, as the Assisting Voters Bill, then it is time for this House to insist upon having some action, and not to have our legislation merely starved in the Senate, nor to have ourselves sent back home to ridicule after we carried out our pledges here in this House, simply to be stifled in the Senate. Mr. Speaker, the course of the Senate and the course of this House in permitting the Senate to follow this course, is neither fair to the House, the administration, or to you yourself, Mr. Speaker, presiding over this body. We are all pledged not only to put our legislation through this body, but we are pledged to use the force of this body to make the Senate let go. Now, Mr. Speaker, the question here of personal privilege is the only way we have to give notice to the other body of the government that we do not propose without a protest to tolerate such conduct. That we propose then in our strength—.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, the hour of one o'clock has arrived.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, has the floor and will proceed.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it is our duty to ourselves and our constituency to exercise this power of personal privilege to serve notice on the other branch of the legislature that we do not propose to tolerate further this delay and this means of stifling our legislation. We have the power here to at least stop the adjournment of the other branch of the Legislature, and if it is presisted in, the continual dilatory tactics of the Senate, the means of adjournment coming here with a joint resolution and asking for an adjournment from Wednesday until Monday night, and meeting from Monday night until Wednesday and doing nothing, and allowing our legislation to remain in the Committee, or to die from starvation, it is time we took notice, and this question now of personal privilege should be given to them as notice that some of us in this House intend to rise each week and protest against concurrence in their joint resolutions.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The hour of one o'clock having arrived, this House will now take a recess until three o'clock this afternoon.

AFTER RECESS.

The House re-convened at 3:30 o'clock p. m.
The Speaker (Mr. George E. Alter) in the chair.

BILL PLACED UPON CALENDAR.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1141, entitled:

An Act to fix the compensation and allowances for members of the General Assembly be placed upon the Calendar and that the committee be discharged from its further consideration.

Mr. ISLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill concerns every member of this House, as well as it concerns me. Some years ago the members of the Assembly of Pennsylvania saw fit to set a salary for the members of the House of Representatives and of the Senate and that salary was fixed at $1,500.00, with mileage, and postage and stationery. Now, under this bill, which is not much of an advance in salary, it does away with the foolish idea of giving all the members of the House $100 worth of postage, which they go around peddling—I do not say every member of the House does, but I have done it and I stand guilty in that respect. Now, if the House takes up this bill and if it passes it and the Senate passes it and we all come back here two years hence—I don't care whether I do or not—but if those who are sitting around me come back here again they will draw a salary of $2,000 under this bill and mileage of twenty cents per circular mile. We have been here since the sixth of January. Another thing, Mr. Speaker, concerning it, is this: We have stationery, $50, we have postage, $100, and $1,500 besides. Now, under this bill there would be nothing but a straight salary of $2,000 and twenty cents per circular mile, as I mentioned, also $500 for a special or extraordinary session, and mileage.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee, I have in my possession three different bills undertaking to increase the salaries of the members of the General Assembly. We have not acted upon these bills for two or three reasons. One of them is that two of the bills cover not only the members but the employees, and on those two we have waited to get the report of the committee that was investigating the number, character and salaries of the employees, and their duties. Four years ago a bill was passed increasing the salaries of the members of the General Assembly which was vetoed by the Governor. Two years ago a bill was passed in the same way. While I am only speaking for myself—these bills have not been considered—to my mind it would be foolish for this General Assembly to pass another bill raising the salaries of the members of the General Assembly, but I have no interest in the case. If the House sees fit to discharge the committee from further consideration of this bill, I think the committee will not find any fault but if the bill comes out on the floor of the House, I shall vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. In pursuance of the adoption of this motion, the Judiciary General Committee will report the bill at the first opportunity.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1029, entitled:

An Act supplementary to an act entitled "An Act regulating the confinement of children under the age of sixteen years awaiting trial" approved the third day of April one thousand nine hundred and three providing for the separation of dependent and neglected children from incorrigible and delinquent children in places of detention of minors in the custody of the Juvenile Courts of the several counties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I find that there has been some question raised as to the advisability of the passage of this act. I believe the bill is a good bill and should be passed. However, in order to meet some of the objections that have been raised, I am perfectly satisfied to postpone this bill for the present. I therefore move to postpone further consideration of this bill for the present.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division was called for, 111, or more than a majority of the whole House, voting in the affirmative,

And the motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

NAYS—1.

Trach.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1414, entitled:

An Act reorganizing the Attorney-General's Department designating the officers and employes thereof and fixing their salaries

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, the reasons for the passage of this bill, as given to me by the Attorney General's office are as follows:

There is no legislative authority for the position of Deputy Attorney General; he is recognized by appropriation acts and acts fixing salaries, but there is no act designating by whom he should be appointed.

The titles of Assistant Deputy Attorney General and Second Assistant Deputy Attorney General, are long, cumbersome and misleading.

There are a half dozen or more separate acts relating to the Department, which by this act are repealed.

There is no increase in the office force, except one stenographer, which is absolutely needed.

There is no change in the salaries except that of Second Deputy Attorney General, whose salary is fixed half way between the First and Third Deputies. The messenger is increased two hundred dollars, and at eleven hundred receives less than many of the messengers in the Capitol.

The stenographers' salaries are increased from one thousand to twelve hundred, to conform to the salaries of the stenographers in other departments. The stenographers in the Attorney General's Department, in addition to the ordinary work concerning which a stenographer must be efficient, are required to be experts in legal work, in the preparation of legal documents, papers and briefs, and if anything, should receive more, and not less than stenographers who do ordinary clerical work.

All other salaries remain as now fixed.

In other words, the entire change in salaries in this whole Department will amount to about seven hundred dollars, and the clerical force is increased with the addition of one stenographer at eleven hundred dollars.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

The SPEAKER. This roll will be verified.

This was done as follows:

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General. The reason that I make that motion is based on the fact that there is a committee of the House now investigating the whole subject, and which has prepared a report covering the salaries of all House employees. I think this bill should be taken up in connection with that report, and a bill drafted along that line.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is in doubt.

Whereupon,

A division having been called for, ninety-two gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and sixty-five in the negative, the motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PEACHEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, line 1, by striking out "entitled an act."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the amendment? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be made in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

NAYS—11.

Benninger,	Gray, Joseph,	Leslie,	Peters,
Currier,	Heyburn,	Missimer,	Ulman,
Forster, I. G.,	Keegan,	O'Neill,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 960, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and seven of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Conniff, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, What is the object or why did you make the change from three-fourth to two-thirds?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, In the original section of the code, it provided that a teacher who is related to a school director had to get three-fourths of the votes of the School Board. Mr. Speaker, the object is that no teacher could be appointed who is related to a member of the School Board. In several different instances, where there is a brother or a sister or a sister-in-law or a niece or an aunt. This bill amends that section and provides that any teacher who taught prior to the election of a school director related to her, would not be effected by the section and it also reduces the fractions from three-fourths to two-thirds of the members of the Board.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the sponsor of this bill—how many members of the School Board are there in your district.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, in some there are seven and where there are seven on the school board, the teacher who is related to a school director has to have six of the seven votes of the school board. This would make it necessary for her to get five of the seven—two-thirds.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, Is it not true in the rural districts that there are five.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, in some there are five. Yes, sir.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, in almost all rural districts, as I understand it.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, no, you could not say in all. I live in a rural district and there, are seven.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I mean in rural districts.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, in any district that has a population of over five thousand and has seven school directors.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, we were talking yesterday in regard to not changing the school code. This is a very small change and why should we go through this process when the school code at the present time requires three-fourth, especially when it is a relative of one of the directors. I don't see why we should make a change in the school code and why we should not let it remain at three-fourths instead of putting it to two-thirds in certain districts. when in almost all the school districts that we have heard about it now means five directors. At the present time the school code distinctly says this. Why, Mr. Speaker, it is a fair proposition for every relative of a school director to be appointed as a school teacher and why not let the law be as it is and enforce it in that way.

Mr. CONNIFF Mr. Speaker, the original section of the school code worked a hardship throughout the State in many sections thereof, for the reason that a teacher that was related to a school director had to get most of the votes of the school board so she could be elected. For instance, if there were seven school directors, she had to get six out of the seven before she could be elected a teacher. In many instances, the school teacher had taught for ten and fifteen or even for twenty years—and I know of some cases where the teacher taught twenty-three years, one case especially, but because of the fact that she had a relative on the school board she could not get the position back because of the fact that the minority of the board objected and this bill provides that where this teacher who had taught for a number of years or had taught prior to the election of that school board, that he or she should not be effected by this section. It is in all fairness to the teacher who has taught a number of years and taught prior to an election of the new school board.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 799, entitled:

An Act authorizing persons corporations associations and corporations to lend money and to charge and receive a higher rate of interest than six per centum per annum providing for licenses for the same imposing conditions and regulations fixing rates of interest and charges giving to the court of quarter sessions supervision of the same regulating procedure and fixing penalties limiting its application declaring violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and prescribing punishment therefor repeal of acts inconsistent therewith

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. DONNALLY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend by striking out all of Section 2 and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 2. No licensee as aforesaid shall ask, demand or receive a greater interest than three per centum per month. Such interest shall not be payable in advance and shall be computed on unpaid balances. No charge of any nature other than interest may be made except that a fee in addition to the interest allowed by this act may be charged as follows: For sums not exceeding fifty dollars not to exceed one dollar, for sums exceeding fifty dollars not to exceed two dolllars. It shall not be lawful to divide or split up loans under any pretext whatsoever for the purpose of requiring or exacting any other or greater charges than prescribed herein or to make any such charge for renewals or extensions or for any transfers or changes of the loans within one year of the date of the original loan or oftener than once in each year thereafter except in cases where a new and additional sum shall be loaned at the time of such renewal or change at the request of the borrower in which case the fee above provided may be charged for such additional amount loaned. If interest or charges in excess of that herein prescribed shall be asked or received the lender shall thereupon become entitled to recover no more than the principal of said loan with legal interest at six per centum and payments in excess thereof shall be applied to the discharge of the principal of the loan and if any sum in excess of said principal with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum be paid or received such excesses shall be recovered at law and in addition fifty dollars as a penalty to be paid to the borrower.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment, is there any objection?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

Mr. DONNALLY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House go into committee of the whole, for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. BENSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I object to going into Committee of the whole for special amendment of this bill. There were seven or eight bills presented to that Committee and after a great many meetings this bill was supposed to be the best one in the lot and the Committee reported out.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is discussing the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is speaking on the motion to go into Committee of the whole for a special amendment on motion of Mr. Donnally, seconded by the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Benson, and the gentleman is opposed to going into Committee of the whole for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, you are permitting the gentleman to discuss the merits of the bill.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, my object in speaking is to object to amending this bill in Committee of the whole. I am not one of the fifty-seven varieties of attorneys in this House, but this bill was reported out and has been presented to the House for action.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I also object to going into Committee of the whole. I also was sponsor for a bill regulating what is known as the Loan Shark evil and that was reported out by Committee and appeared on the calendar on second reading, but being informed that seven or eight bills had been in the Committee of Bank and Banking, I agree to recommit it to the Committee on Banks and Banking as it was the aim of all those who presented these bills to regulate this evil which is one of the greatest evils in the cities to-day. I believed that any attempt to amend the bill given the name of the Cox Bill would be for the purpose of destroying what we seek to obtain through that bill and I think the bill should pass without any further amendments and that it should pass, as it is, on its merits.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the motion to go into Committee of the whole.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, The only objection to this bill comes from the loan sharks. The bill as it was presented went to the Committee on Banks and Banking together with nine to ten others in this House on the same subject. The Committee on Banks and Banking appointed a sub-committee who went into consultation on these bills and out of them, out of that lot, my bill was selected and they added certain other features to the bill which has appeared on this calendar under my name. I have here on my desk letters from the various loan sharks opposing this measure and I ask every member of this House to vote for this bill. It provides to license these men, charging them one hundred dollars for the fee and placing them under a bond of five thousand dollars, the said license to be paid to the county in which the license is granted. It regulates the percentage to be charged from one and two-thirds percent up to five percent a month and no other rate can be charged. There is no selling of notes and carrying them off to men and bringing them back to Pennsylvania with protest charges. I ask every member to vote for this bill.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments? The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 1024 was ordered to be transcribed for third reading.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, this motion can be discussed, can it not? For the information of the House, I wish to explain the amendment that I had inserted in this bill on Wednesday of last week. As the act stands with the amendments inserted, there are five classes of exemption. The sponsor moves to strike out the fifth class of exemption, and the fifth class exempts as follows: Nor to any person firm, partnership or unincorporated association now engaged in business in the same general location under the same management, or partially the same management, for a term of twenty years. The old act exempted a private bank doing business in the same location as the present under the same management for seven years. Now, I tried to be entirely fair in inserting this amendment, which would exempt only such banks as are doing business in the same management, for twenty years. I felt it would cover the point so completely, and at the same time the depositors would run practically no risk at all. Not only is their stock pledged as security for deposits, not only is their surplus pledged as security for deposits, but in many instances the stockholders are liable to the full extent of their assets which are pledged for the security of depositors, and this will only exempt such banking institutions as have been in business in the same locality under the same management or partially the same management, for a term of twenty years, and I trust you will not reconsider the vote.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman talks about stockholders in private banks. I say there is no such thing as stockholders in private banks; it is a partnership. Two years ago this bill was introduced in this House with a joker attached to it, exempting all those who had been in the banking business for seven years. Now, when it comes up this time, they extended that period to twenty years. The object of the bill is to put all banks who receive deposits on the same footing, under the supervision of the banking examiner. Now, as the bill was passed last year, with the seven year exemption in it, it has been generally understood since that time, and Mr. John C. Johnson, the eminent attorney from Philadelphia, says the bill is unconstitutional. Now if it is unconstitutional with the seven years in it, of course it is unconstitutional with the twenty year exemption. You might as well kill the bill as to pass it with this twenty year exemption. The object of this bill is this: In some parts of the State we have a great many foreign banks who receive the deposits of the ignorant foreigners.

After they receive sixty to seventy thousand dollars, they skip, and the consequence is that these people are afraid to put their money into the bank afterwards. If a man is doing a legitimate banking business, he should not be afraid of the banking examiner. I hope the gentleman of the House will reconsider the vote by which the bill was amended.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which said bill was agreed to on second reading, be reconsidered.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the title of the bill was agreed to be reconsidered.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the second section of the bill as amended was agreed to be reconsidered.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I move to reconsider the vote by which the amendment to section two was agreed to.

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment to the second section of the bill?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 30, entitled:

An Act to protect the public health by prohibiting in certain places the keeping of a towel intended for the use of more than one person without after each individual use being properly cleaned

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. E. C. M. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, I really think this is a bill of quite some importance and a bill that ought to be considered before we pass it too quickly. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FRANK GRAY. I will.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia how he expects to have these towels prepared, and if he expects the keeper of a public place or a hotel to keep a clerk to handle the towels.

Mr. FRANK GRAY. Mr. Speaker, he can have a boy in the washroom to take care of the towels.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman? Is it not a fact that we find in these public places these roller towels? Does he expect these long roller towels to be taken off and new ones put on every time they are used.

Mr. FRANK GRAY. Mr. Speaker, this bill prohibits the use of roller towels.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Entirely?

Mr. FRANK GRAY. You can use a little towel.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Would you not almost have to have a laundry attached to these places?

Mr. FRANK GRAY. This bill requires just a clean towel.

Mr. E. G. M. KUHNS. Would it not be necessary to have a laundry attached to the place?

Mr. FRANK GRAY. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not place a hardship on any one. You know to-day that we have the paper towels, and if you do not care to use them you can use a single individual towel.

Mr. KUHNS. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman. I would like to know whether the gentleman from Philadelphia would be satisfied to use a paper towel.

Mr. FRANK GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I am not satisfied with them but I can use them when I have to.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, this is probably one of the most important bills that comes up before this House this session for the reason that nearly every citizen of Pennsylvania is affected and I would ask, Mr. Speaker, that the sponsor of this bill consent to have it sent back to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of a hearing so that everybody interested in it might be invited to that hearing.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have this bill explained a little bit.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the present act is to take the place of the Act of March 28th, 1905, Pamphlet Laws, page 62. The present act is an enlargement of the Act of 1905 and in addition to the Act of 1905 it provides that a man cannot sell his goods, stock and fixtures in bulk in defraud of his creditors; this act provides that he cannot sell nor can he pledge his stock, fixtures and merchandise for the purpose of defrauding his creditors and making the punishment similar to the punishment under the Act of 1905. After the passage of the Act of 1905 those who desired to be dishonest in order to avoid that act instead of selling their goods outright would pledge them, that is, they have in many instances placed in a storage warehouse or delivered them over to some person from whom they would take a note or cash and that person or warehouse after the expiration of a certain time would acquire title to the property and would sell the goods or merchandise as their own and by a secret arrangement turn over to the original seller the purchase price less the commission thereby defrauding the creditor of his honest obligation. This is a meritorious act and one which should receive the support of every member of the House.

When a merchant sells out his business and fails to pay his creditors, whether the intent exists in the first place to defraud his creditors or whether the temptation comes to him after the money is in his pocket and he is too weak to resist it, the consequence is the same and the loss falls upon the creditors or dealers who have sold to this merchant upon good faith and must in consequence of the fraudulent act of the merchant lose the entire amount not only of the goods but of their profit therefrom.

When a fraudulent bulk sale is perpetrated, the stock or other subject matter of the bulk sale usually falls into the hands of a class of men whose operations with such stocks, that they buy for less, sometimes, than the cost of production, also demoralizes the market and again makes the lot of the retailer harder than ever. It is a fundamental proposition of business that that which injuries credit and impairs confidence, injuries all men engaged in trade and ultimately injures the consumer.

This act will offer adequate protection to the creditors of the seller without burdening unduly the honest merchant who intends to pay his debts. In arriving at a solution of this problem we have to guide us the experience of forty-two States of the Union which have had just such a bulk sales law as this in force for a period of ten years and more.

For these reasons and many others that could be advanced this act should pass.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gans, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill tell us why he thinks this is a meritorious measure.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I have already explained that in what I have said.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. I understand from the remarks of the sponser of this bill that it is to take the place of legislation that is already on the statute books. If that is the case, it would appear to me that this bill as it is now before the House, is insufficient as an act, as a repealer the Act of 1905, and I would like to know if the sponser does not think that the bill should have a clause in it repealing the act mentioned in his brief.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, in so far as it conflicts with it, it repeals the Act of 1905.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I don't think this House cares to consider this bill as a joke entirely because there are some serious features connected with it. The Act of 1905 is a meritorious act and it may be possible that this act might be amended in order to prove it. We all believe that merchants should be protected as well as the creditors and I believe that we should undertake to protect the purchasers as well as the merchants. This act goes further and required that the seller must furnish an itemized inventory and appraisement of the stock of goods and carry with it the ruling wholesale price and it also goes so far as to make it an offense under the act if that inventory and appraisement is not a true one. Consequently, it will place any merchant in a position that he would have to have an inventory to determine the real wholesale price of every article of merchandise in the store before he sold it. This information he would have to supply to the purchaser. This amendment is not intended to protect creditors but to protect solely the purchaser. It would impose an unwarranted hardship upon every one concerned and protect in no way any man who buys a large stock of goods. He has a right to buy that stock without an inventory if he wants to do it at a stipulated price. It is not material to the creditor under the Act of 1905 and the amount of the consideration in no way concerns the creditor.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to take issue with the Democratic party as represented by its former leader, the gentleman from Crawford, and wish to state that if the gentleman does not display better logic and more interest in the welfare of his party that the Democrats on this side will depose him and appoint Mr. Gray, of Johnstown, who ought to have the job anyhow. The bill under consideration does not aim to protect any seller nor does it aim to interfere with the rights of any honest man. You gentlemen will agree with me that we are strong for the honest man, and what this bill aims to do, my friends, is this: We have now here on the statute books the Act of 1905 which prohibits a dishonest merchant from selling out his entire stock to the loss and despair of his creditors. In 1905 this House with the assistance of the Democratic friends and merchants who desired to be honest, enacted an act which requires notice of any intent of sale. Commerce has not changed in the last five or seven years and those who still desired to be honest and were honest then were anxious to have the act passed. This act places further safeguards around the sale of the wares of merchants, providing that the merchant shall not sell out his entire stock without notice. It further provides that he cannot pledge his stock to any auctioneer or warehouse without similar notice, just the same as if it were personal property and the law now states that you cannot sell your house without notice and this bill says that you cannot mortgage your property or your goods or your merchandise without notice. There is nothing unfair or unreasonable about it. Would you not consider it very unfair if a man would sell his real estate and would not notify you if you had an interest in it? and you would also consider it unfair if it would be mortgaged with full value without your knowledge if you were interested in it. The protection that the land owner has on lands, the merchants should have and is entitled to the same protection. He is entitled to the same protection when he undertakes to sell or mortgage his entire stock. I will assure you gentlemen that you will do what the honest merchants want who desire things to be right and you will prevent dishonest merchants from accomplishing things they have no right to accomplish, in voting in favor of this bill.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I accomplished my purpose when I asked for a little explanation on this bill, but I did not think that I was going to get some members of the House to make courteous remarks about some of the gentlemen on the opposite side of the House. When the gentleman from Crawford took the floor and fairly and squarely discussed this measure, it seems to me that he was not entitled to be censured in a political manner. This bill is a very wide departure from the present fraudulent sales act, and even if I own a little store with a stock of goods of one hundred dollars, without going through the formality of making an inventory and specifying each item and the correct wholesale price, if I fail to do that I am guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars. I have no objection to the real purpose of the bill, but it is going too far, it seems to me, along that line. If it were amended in that respect, I would be willing to support it, but I do not see how I can, the way it reads.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Amend the title, lines one and two, strike out "the several" and insert "certain."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, To lie over for printing.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now take a recess until eight o'clock this evening.

The SPEAKER. Under a resolution adopted last week, the House was to hold two regular sessions a day and an evening session when necessary. The Chair will state for the information of the House that there are ninety-eight bills on the third reading Calendar, not counting those on the postponed calendar.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I now renew my motion for a recess.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I hope this motion will not prevail, for the reason that we have many committee meetings tonight, and a special committee meeting at seven o'clock. If we have a session tonight many of the members will not be able to attend, and for that resaon I hope this motion will not prevail.

Mr. C. M. C. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Education has a public hearing at seventy-thirty and quite a number of gentlemen have come from all over the State to attend this meeting. If this motion should prevail, I would like to change the time of that meeting until seven o'clock.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, those members who sit here continually from the time the House convenes until it closes are probably like myself, almost exhausted. I believe that if we are here all the time in the House and giving attention to the work of the House, I think it is not fair to ask the members who are present at all times in the House to work any harder than we have been working. I therefore amend the motion of adjournment to read until ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, I hope this amendment will not prevail. The members here are anxious to fulfill their mission, and by holding evening sessions will be able to adjourn about the fifteenth of May. If they are remiss in their duty, as was suggested by you, Mr. Speaker, it will probably be the middle of June before we can get away. But, if we work in the evenings from now on, we will probably find that we will be able to adjourn by the fifteenth of May.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I quite agree with the sentiments of the gentleman from Delaware in relation to adjournment. We have labored strenuously since the time this House convened this week until this time. I believe that those members who have given attention to their duties, and I think all of them have, find themselves back with their work on the Calendar, and not up even to the work of to-day. I noticed to-day on the roll call that frequently members were not in touch with the matter under discussion sufficiently to justify them voting aye or nay on the bill. We lost considerable time on the roll calls because they were not informed at the time the call was made. It took some little time for them to find out just what was being voted upon, and then they asked to be recorded after the call. As I said, we have worked hard here this week, and I do not think we should have a session here this evening, but should adjourn until to-morrow morning so that the members may catch up with their work, and attend to the great amount of work that is before the committees. I think we should adjourn until to-morrow morning.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, we have a very important meeting of the Mines and Mining Committee. We have a report from the anthracite region that has taken the Commission over two years to furnish, and it will come up before this committee this evening. It will probably take up until midnight to go over this question, and I hope that the motion to adjourn until to-morrow morning at ten o'clock will prevail.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, you have heard what the gentleman from Delaware said with reference to being tired out—I think the gentlemen should have the courtesy not to interrupt when another gentleman is speaking.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, the question of adjournment is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The question to fix the time of adjournment is debatable. The point of order is not well taken. The gentleman from Cambria still has the floor.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, we are all here attending strictly to business. So far as I am concerned I am not exhausted and I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia in the statement he makes that we should have a session here to-night even though the gentleman from Allegheny says we are behind in our work. I assure you, Mr. Speaker, that when this House is not in session, the members are not here sitting at their desk investigating the legislation. At least, I have not been able to find anybody around here at that time. They are never investigating the legislation until the session opens. If they want to have a meeting of the Mines and Mining Committee, let the members attend it who are interested in it. I think this House ought to have a session to-night.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

A division having been called, and 133 gentlemen, or more than a majority of the whole House, having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion as amended?

ADJOURNMENT.

The motion was agreed to, and at 6.10 P. M. the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1913 — 120th of the General Assembly

VOL. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 1913. No. 47.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, April 10, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER, (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, we stand before Thee as individual men. Each one of us owes allegiance to Thee, and yet Thou hast set us in relationship with those who are about us. By the Divine ordering, we are members of homes and of families, communities and neighborhoods, states and nations. We are made to realize therefore the truth of that scripture that "no man liveth to himself". We cannot live and labor, or speak and act without touching for good or ill the circles which are about us, the institutions with which we are associated. It is a sobering thought, and should give us carefulness. Let us not be dominated by a selfish regard of our own interests, but let us remember others as well, and let us try in all the relationships of our lives, in all that we are and in all that we do, to help others as well as ourselves. Let us not be content that we work no ill, but try very earnestly to work some good. Let us not be satisfied that we do no harm, but try also to benefit and help others. We ask all this in the name and for the sake of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to the reading of the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. James A. Dunn, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

REQUESTING AN OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AS TO LEGALITY OF ENABLING LEGISLATION TO ACCOMPANY PROPOSED BOND ISSUE AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Whereas, There is now pending on the third reading Calendar of this House a joint resolution for the amendment of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, permitting the issuing of bonds against the Commonwealth to the extent of fifty million dollars for the building of new roads, and

Whereas, This joint resolution has passed the Legislature of the session of 1911-12, and,

On the question.

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was reported out of the Roads Committee, it was with the belief that it belonged rightly in the Ways and Means Committee, and that this was deemed the shortest route to the Ways and Means Comimttee. Other bills were returned to this Committee of a similar nature, and I therefore move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. GRABE. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been before the House and was recommitted to the Roads Committee for a hearing, and had a hearing. It was again reported favorably to this House and I cannot see why this bill should again be referred to the Ways and Means Committee, after due consideration of the Roads Committee, and I hope that the members of this House will not consent to have the bill referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion?

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GRABE. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House, the time has come which makes it absolutely necessary that some provision must be made by which to increase our State revenue.

Two years ago the Legislature passed a bill requiring all road tax to be paid in cash, and a report of the same to be made by the various township supervisors to the State Highway Department, and on receipt of such report by the State Highway Department, the State to pay to the various townships on April 1st of each year an appropriation equal to the amount of 50 per cent. on all moneys collected for road purposes or the amount not to exceed $20.00 per mile, which would require approximately $1,600.000 annually. But instead. $250.000.00 per annum was appropriated, which approximately gave to the various townships six and one-fourth per cent. instead of fifty per cent., as promised in the bill of 1911.

Now, Mr. Speaker, many of the township supervisors of the rural districts took up the matter of a more systematic system of road improvement by building concrete culverts adopting the split log drag and are using it at the proper time, which has proven very successful, with the expectation of receiving from the State the fifty per cent. appropriation, as promised by the Legislature of 1911. Now then, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, and especially those of you who were here two years ago and helped pass that bill, are you going to go on record as the means of providing revenue to comply with a law which you helped place on our statute books, on the strength of which many township supervisors went in debt, which has placed many of them in peculiar positions and the bill now under discussion will apply the remedy.

Now then, the people have complied with the law, which some of you helped give them and are paying their road tax in cash and it is up to this Legislature to provide means by which to comply with the conditions set forth in the Act of 1911.

Mr. Speaker, I consider this a debt the State owes to the people and they are demanding it and, of course, are justly entitled to it. In addition to this there are many other reasons why more revenue should be provided for—the continual creating of new offices, increase of salaries, the continual demand from charitable and educational institutions. This bill, requiring an increase of one mill to be added to personal and corporate property, means millions to the corporations and of course is very objectionable to them which we naturally have to expect and of course did expect it when the bill was presented.

You are all aware of how successful those institutions are in preaching high protective tariff. Now, then, gentlemen, is it not the same class of men that are representing those corporations, pleading their cases and are trembling in their boots for fear they might loose a case for the company they represent? And, of course, you can't blame them, as they are paid for looking after interests of their clients. For many years those corporations preached high protective tariff, in order to protect American labor. How much protection did the American laboring man get out of this protection? When conditions were such that the laboring man should have had an equitable share of that protection, did he? Not by any means. When the laboring man demanded a just share of that protection, what did they get? Why, of course the corporations sent their agents to Italy, Hungary or some other foreign country and imported the very off-scrouring of some of those countries, brought them here to take the place of the mill man, the shop man and positions in many other walks of life. And now what has all this meant to our people? Especially those who through economy tried to earn a home, tried to educate our families and are now taxed almost out of existence, and what for? Why, to maintain charitable and educational institutions, build school houses, to hire teachers and educate the children of those very families that the corporations brought here to take the places of our home men and now those identical corporations are pleading for mercy sake don't increase our tax, although those many years they escaped their just share of tax and many of them became multi-millionaires. The people they brought here were not eligible for taxation and all those conditions brought about under a high protective tariff. And what else has happened. You can go abroad and purchase American manufactured products at from 30 to 40 per cent. cheaper than you can purchase the product in our home market, and the same gentlemen are using similar arguments and would have us believe that they are paying a just and equitable portion of tax.

A gentleman representing one of those large corporatious made the statement before the Road Committee some time ago, "Why if you place an additional mill on our valuation it would increase our tax twenty percent." A gentleman of the Committee asked permission to ask the gentleman a question, which of course was granted. The question: Do I understand the gentleman to say if an addition of one mill be placed on your valuation it would increase your tax twenty per cent.? Answer: It would, 20 to 25 per cent. And gentlemen, I have reason to doubt the gentleman's word. I believe he was sincere in his statement for the reason that those figures would reasonably compare with the report of the Auditor General, as well as that of the report of Internal Affairs. And those are the reports by which we are governed.

And now, gentlemen, you are all fair-minded or you would not have been sent here, and I want to be fair in this question. Was this not an acknowledgment as to the amount of tax his company was really paying? It undoubtedly was.

Now, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House, I would like to know if one mill were placed on your valuation how much of a per cent. your tax would be increased? Gentlemen, I pay 26 mills; one mill would increase my tax less than four per cent. and more than this, there are corporations, if one mill was added to their valuation would increase their tax over 30 per cent.

We are not asking any favors. We are simply asking for a square deal, and we propose to get it. If we do not get it at this Legislature, we will get it at the next one. I hope all you gentlemen will stand by this measure, and not vote to recommit it to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I want the gentleman from Butler to understand that I did not introduce this motion beacuse I was opposed to the measure, but I introduced it simply to get the bill in its proper place, and that is the Ways and Means Committee. The Roads Committee could not consider this measure, and it was the intention, when it was reported to the House, to recommit it to the Committee on Ways and Means, and the bill of the gentleman from Butler then could be taken up with other bills of a like nature. The bill really belongs in the Ways and Means Committee, at least the members of the Public Roads Committee were of that opinion.

Mr. METZENBACHER. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Public Roads Committee, I wish to say that this bill was reported out of the Committee on two different occasions with an affirmative recommendation, and there was no understanding on either occasion that this bill was to be referred back to the Ways and Means Committee, but it was reported out of that Committee on two different occasions with an affiramtive recommendation.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I am as much interested in securing good roads as is any member of this Legislature and I have been trying to get some roads for my district in my county I have been trying to get a bill out of the Committee that would benefit the farmers in my county, but up until the prsent time have been unable to get it. I am trying to benefit the farmers of the country districts of Philadelphia County. I think this bill ought to go back to the Committee. Why? Because it creates a special tax on these various corporations,—a special fund to be used for township roads only. Why should we tax the whole State to create a special fund for the townships of this Comomnwealth. In my district we have twenty thousand farmers, and we have not recived one penny of the State Highway Department money for the roads in my district, yet we have over two hunderd miles of road in Philadelphia County. This bill ought to be referred back to the Committee for the reason that there is some question as to its constitutionality, in that it creates a special tax on the corporations, and a special fund for the township roads only. If there is any bill to be passed for the benefit of the farmers, why not have a bill that will be of some benefit to the farmers of my district, who are just as deserving as any other farmers in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Grabe.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Grabe, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRABE. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Butler inform us why he desires to exempt mortgages on real estate from the suggested tax.

Mr. GRABE. Mr. Speaker, when a man buys real estate, and it matters not when he buys it whether he pays cash for it or if he borrows that money to pay for the real estate and when he borrows the money, he pays a tax on that real estate but also has to make provisions to pay the other tax. That is why this is done. We want to encourage men to invest in real estate. We have vast agricultural lands lying all over the State of Pennsylvania that are practicaly earning nothing. The people are crying about the high cost of living and it is principally because they are taxed for idle real estate. Now, they try to save the corporations from paying taxation and the reports that we have to dig up here don't show what should be done.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman from Butler to tell the House the difference between the deferred payment in the purchase of real estate and the cash payment and whether if it is in the form of a mortgage or a judgment, why the acceptance should be made in the one case and not in the other. There are hundreds of cases in the purchase of real estate where the deferred payments are in the shape of a mortgage on the land and some is on judgment. I agree with the principle of this bill and I think that it ought to read that it should apply to a judgment the same as a mortgage.

Mr. GRABE. Mr. Speaker, the intention of that was not to create a double tax on the man that is willing to invest in a home.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Whereupon, a division was called for and 60 gentlemen voted in the affirmative and 93 in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the second section?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to provide by taxation for the improvement of the public roads in this Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, in reference to the question of veracity, involving Mr. Metzenbacher and myself, I desire to state that this bill was not reported out in the official course of business as being referred to the Ways and Means Committee. This was understood in the Committee in an informal way. I believe that I am stil right and Mr. Metzenbacher is right in his point, also, that it was not officially reported out.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, when this matter was discussed in our Committee, at one time there was a resolution offered to report it out with the understanding, by the Public Roads Committee, that it was to be referred to the Ways and Means Committee as a revenue measure and it was the sense of the Committee that that should be the course and they would report it out but that it was entirely up to the House to take whatever course they wanted and if the House saw fit to recommit, it was the House's place to do it; it was not for the Committee to make any recommendation in the matter. Both of the gentlemen are right, in a measure;—The gentleman from Westmoreland in his understanding and the gentleman from Crawford was right as he understood it.

Section 8 This act shall go into effect on the first day of January Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fourteen

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the sponsor the purpose of this bill.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, on account of the fact of the great difference in the quality of gypsum and limestone that is being offered for sale in this State, the Department of Agriculture and the State chemist deemed it advisable that some legislation on this subject should be enacted by this session of the Legislature, and for that purpose they prepared a bill and the Secretary of Agriculture asked me to present it in the House. A public hearing was granted, and the various manufacturers of the different parts of the State appeared at that hearing, and the subject was fully discussed. We have now presented the bill in an amended form, meeting, we think, the requirements of both the manufacturer and the consumer. We believe that the farmer should have a right, and does have a right, to know what he is purchasing when he purchases lime. I have been told that there is lime being sold as lime in this Commonwealth which contains only thirty-five per cent. lime. Others contain seventy-five, while some contain as high as ninety-nine per cent. lime. Now, we have laws regulating the purity of food stuffs, and of drugs and of milk. Not only that, but also of fertilizers. In this progressive age I think it is only right that the farmer should be protected and have some guarantee as to the purity of the lime he is purchasing. I don't think that this should meet any opposition from the farmers. Now, there may be some objection raised that it will increase the cost of lime to the consumer. The consumer of lime may come from a region where lime is usually to a very large extent pure, and this would benefit the farmer instead of injuring him. Lime is shipped into our section of the State from the State of Maryland. and we have no means of knowing what quality of lime we are purchasing. Similar laws are in force in several states, and are in force in the State of Maryland. but in the State of Pennsylvania anything has been allowed to pass for lime. For that reason, from the standpoint of the farmer it is highly important to have some legislation along this line. The chemist of the State College is very anxious to have this law passed, for the good of the agricultural interests of the State. Now, the man who manufactures lime for his own purposes, and the man who purchases raw limestone and manufactures lime for his own purposes, will not be affected by this act. The man who manufactures less than 100,000 tons of lime for sale will be compelled to pay a license of five dollars a year, and the State will analyze his lime for a fee of one dollar, so that he will know what the percentage of lime is in the lime which he is using. The large manufacturers would only be required to pay a license of twenty dollars, and there are very few in the State who would come under that class. The manufacturers, as I gathered from the hearing in the Agricultural Committee, are not opposed to this measure. In fact, if they have good lime they are in favor of the measure, and I fail to see how it could work an injury to the agricultural interests. If anyone can point out to me that this is the case, I would be glad to have them do it, because, as I said before, the farmer or consumer of lime should know what they are purchasing.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOHR. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MATT. Would this bill have a tendency to increase the price of lime to the farmer?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I think not, when you take into consideration the sum of five dollars, compared with the price for which several thousand tons of lime could be sold, it would make such a very small percentage that it would hardly be noticable. I think if the manufacturer of lime has a good grade, he should be glad to have it analyzed, because it would serve as an advertisement. It has been shown by the fertilizers that have been analyzed that the fertilizer manufacturer who has a good grade to put on the market is the fellow that gets the business, and the analysis serves as an advertisement.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOHR. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he has consulted the gentleman from Somerset who own quarries in that county concerning this bill.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I have not made it my business to go over my county and consult limestone quarry owners—there are quite a number—and I have been engaged in other business here in the city.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOHR. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, in the first part of this bill it says that every bag, barrel or other package shall be tagged. I desire to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, if it would interfere with the sale of limestone when it is not in packages, in carload lots, or in large lots than a package.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, in regard to the tagging, that was the idea contemplated in the original bill, but the bill as it now appears in your file folio does away entirely with the tagging. A shipper of limestone can send his analysis of lime along with the invoice of the goods, and it is not necessary to tag the different containers of lime.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, what I desire to know is how it will affect the shipping of carload lots of limestone, how this tag is to be attached in that case.

Mr. LOHR. The analysis will be sent with the invoice of the carload lots instead of tagged.

Mr. CHEESEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to say just a word in regard to this bill, as I am somewhat familiar with the production of limestone in a small way as it is produced in our county. It seems to me, gentleman, that this bill is uncalled for, that it is wholly unnecessary and would not be a benefit that is equivalent with the hardship or inconvenience that it would put the manufacturers of limestone to. The manufacturers of lime for agricultural purposes do not receive a large profit from their business, and the adding of any expense to their business will necessarily make the product higher in price. When this subject was discussed before the Agricultural Committee, of which I am a member, the manufacturers appeared there and stated that this condition required would add to the expense of the production of lime, and that that extra expense would not come off of them, but would have to come from the consumer. Now, I don't think it is necessary for the protection of the farmer in the use of lime that anything of this kind should be done. It is not at all similar to manufacture of phosphates. Limestone is ground from the rock, or burned and ground after being burned, and the analysis of that rock can be obtained, which applies to the entire output of that quarry, and once knowing the value of any one quarry, you know the value of all the product, so that I do not see that it is necessary, and I do not think this is a good bill.

Mr. PEACHEY. Mr. Speaker, I am glad that there are so many members in this House who are so wonderfully interested in the farmer. It does my heart good. But I am also interested in these people that are interested in the welfare of the farmers. When you speak with reference to the tax or an increase of the cost of lime, I do not think that five cents per ton would add materially to that. I have heard it talked in a number of counties of this State, and I know that a lot of farmers are imposed upon by the manufacturers and shippers of lime in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, I believe this is good legislation, and I believe it is something that is needed. I know of many places throughout the State of Pennsylvania, where, as I said before, the farmers have been imposed upon, from the fact that lime, which was shipped into that country did not carry an analysis with it, and the farmers did not know what they were doing. There is a whole lot of difference between lime that is 35, 50 or 75 per cent. of lime from that which has 98 to 99 per cent. of lime in it. If you have the thirty-five per cent. lime you are being doubly opposed upon, so I believe this is good legislation, and I hope the members of this House will vote for it. Further, I wish to say that, in connection with the manufacture, there is no trouble in determining what it really is. We had the State Chemist help formulate this bill. He knows more than any one else what lime really is. Therefore, I say, vote for this bill, because it is a good measure.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOHR. Yes, sir.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether he can State to the House the number of agents that would be required under this bill and the expense to the State.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I would say, that it would not require very many agents, and the expense of it will be taken care of by this act. The act was so prepared as to make it possible under the act that the licenses themselves should pay for these examinations. All over our State we have fertilizing agents going over the State and taking samples of it. It has been suggested by the Department that the same agents could take samples of the lime, and at a very small expense, these examinations could be made.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, my idea of the purpose of this bill is to create a number of new offices and to place a tax on the sellers of lime to stand that expense, and at the same time, creating new State offices. I think at the present time that it is not necessary to create these new offices, as the State now is overburdened with agents. I think it is just as necessary to license the dealers and sellers of coal, and to analyze coal, as it is to analyze the lime. I see no necessity for this bill except that it increases the number of State offices.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I want to say a word on this bill. I know something about the cost of fertilizer, lime and so forth, and I want to say gentleman that every penny that is added to the cost of commercial fertilizer, let it be lime or any other kind of fertilizer, it simply places a burden on the farmer in the production of his crops, and we all know that the cost of high living is a very important question, and I hope that the members will consider this measure very carefully when they come to vote on it.

Mr. PEACHEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. North.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORTH. I will.

Mr. PEACHEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether lime is a fertilizer?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the question, lime is not a fertilizer. But to go further in replying to that question, it is one of the best known ingredients to place in the soil in order to bring that soil to the proper condition for the production of crops. It purifies it.

The question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to consume your valuable time, but I feel at this time that I ought to make a few remarks concerning the merits of this bill. As a railroad man, I fully realize what this bill will mean to railroad men. As the law is now, the only resort that a conductor has when a man is disorderly on a train is to put him off at a point of safety. If I put a man off the train at a point of safety and he walks down the railroad track and gets run over or something, gets killed or maimed, I am called up in the office before the officers, and in a measure they hold me responsible because of this man's accident. They may say to me, "Why did you put him off?" and I would say, "Because he was obnoxious and I could not help myself." Then I would be censured for it. This bill provides, if a man becomes disorderly, I can take him and put him under arrest and turn him over to an officer, and they can hold him for a fine of $10 and costs. Gentlemen, I ask you to consider this bill and vote for it on its merits.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 1242,.

An Act requiring burial ground and cemetery companies or associations to record certain information relating to the burial of every person therein and providing a penalty

Whereas Owing to the loose and inefficient methods of listing and indexing now employed by may burial ground and cemetery companies and associations it has become exceedingly difficult and at times impossible to discover the location of certain graves or even to find a record of names of persons known to be buried therein therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every burial ground or cemetery company or association shall keep a complete list of the names of every person buried in such burial ground or cemetery arranged alphabetically with the date of burial the exact location of the grave and the number and owner of the lot in which the grave is situated This shall be accomplished by means of a card index or other system in such a way that knowledge of the name of a person or of the lot in which he or she is buried or of the date of burial will furnish a ready reference to the complete record

Section 2 Within two years after the passage of this act every burial ground or cemetery company or association shall have on file for public inspection a complete record if such information is obtainable of all past burials made in such burial ground or cemetery arranged in conformity with the requirements of section one of this act

Section 3 Every person firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceding one thousand dollars

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, the merits of this bill appeal to every representative of this body. It provides that the cemeteries should keep a record of the burials not only for the benefit of the public but for the benefit of the individuals. I am not particularly interested in it, but the Newspaper Men's Association is interested in this bill. They have been very kind to us, and do not ask for much legislation from this body, and I would ask the unanimous vote of this body for this bill for the reason that the newspaper men are particularly interested in it.

NAYS—1.

McDermott,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present thhe same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 804, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation for the purpose of aiding and assisting cities boroughs and other municipalities to pay for the construction of sewage disposal plants providing the conditions under which the money hereby appropriated shall be disbursed and paid and providing a system under which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may hereafter aid in the construction of such sewage disposal plants

Whereas the construction of adequate sewage disposal plants in the various municipalities entails a considerable expense upon such municipalities and

Whereas many municipalities have exhausted or nearly exhausted their constitutional borrowing capacity and

Whereas the disposal of sewage other than by prescribing it in its raw state to flow into the streams of the Commonwealth is for the common welfare of the people of the State and

Whereas it is intended that State aid be inaugurated for the purpose of aiding and assisting municipalities in the construction of sewage disposal plants under some system which will not permit the larger municipalities or any of them to absorb the fund appropriated for any appropriation period and thus prevent the construction of sewage disposal plants in other municipalities until such time as more money maybe appropriated by the legislative enactment therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of one million ($1,000,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary for the two years beginning June first Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen is hereby appropriated for the purpose of aiding and assisting cities and boroughs and other municipalities to pay the cost of sewage disposal plants as herein further provided

Section 2 Whenever after the passage of this act it shall become necessary for any city borough or other municipality in this Commonwealth in accordance with existing laws to cease discharging their sewage into the waters of the Commonwealth and for this purpose such city borough or other municipality shall submit plans and specifications for the construction of a sewage disposal plant to the Commissioner of Health and such plans and specifications shall have been approved by the Commissioner of Health the councils or other proper authorities of such city borough or municipality may at any time before the first day of March of an even numbered year beginning with the first day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fourteen give notice to the Auditor General of the Commonwealth on forms furnished by the Commissioner of Health for that purpose that such plans and specifications have been submitted to and approved by the Commissioner of Health which notice shall also contain the estimated cost of the construction of said plant

Section 3 Immedfately after the first day of March of each even numbered year beginning with the first day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fourteen the Auditor General of the Commonwealth shall place to the credit of the cities boroughs or other municipalities from which notices have been received in accordance with section two of the act its estimated proportionate share of any moneys appropriated by act of Legislature for the two years beginning the first day of June of such odd numbered year based upon the total estimated cost of the plants for which such notices have been received and the total appropriation therefor

Section 4 Whenever any city borough or other municipality after having complied with the provisions of section two of this act have actually begun the construction and erection of a sewage disposal plant upon plans and specifications approved by the Commissioner of Health the councils or other proper authorities of such city borough or other municipality shall render quarterly on or within thirty days after the first day of March June September and December respectively beginning with the first day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fourteen to the Auditor General of the Commonwealth a statement of the cost of labor and material for the said sewage disposal plant for the previous quarter or if it be the first statement from the time the work was begun

Section 5 During the construction and erection of any sewage disposal plant receiving State aid the Commisioner of Health shall have the right through his engineers and assistants to direct and supervise the work and the material used in order that the same may be up to and in accordance with the plans and specifications approved by him as required by this act The expense of such direction and supervision including services of inspector traveling and other necessary expenses incident thereto shall be paid by the Commissioner of Health out of moneys appropriated for the general expenses of the Department of Health and shall be certified quarterly to the Auditor General of the Commonwealth and shall be deducted from the amount payable to the city borough or other municipality constructing such disposal plant and credited by the State Treasurer to the apropriations to the Department of Health

Section 6 Upon the receipt of a quarterly statement as provided for in section four of this act from the authorities of any city borough or municipality the Auditor General of the Commonwealth shall submit the same to the Commissioner of Health for his approval and when such statement is so approved by the Commissioner of Health shall honor the recognition of the proper authorities of such city borough or other municipality for a proportionate part of its share of monies appropriate for that purpose withholding however from each quarterly payment fifteen per centum of the amount to which such city borough or other municipality would be entitled as a reserve fund to be paid upon final settlement and the adjustment of possible differences between estimated and actual cost and also deducting therefrom the cost of the direction and supervision of the work by the Department of Health

Section 7 Any city borough or other municipality having a sewage disposal plant in the course of construction and unfinished on the first day of June of any odd numbered year may continue to receive its proper proportion of any moneys appropriated for the preceding two years and placed to its credit as provided in section three of this act but may not share in any appropriation for any other period

Section 8 No contribution made by any State appropriation for the purpose of aiding and assisting cities boroughs and other municipalities to pay the cost of such sewage disposal plants shall at any time exceed one-half of the cost of such sewage disposal plants

Section 9 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to in any way repeal or interfere with the enforcement of the provisions of an act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred and five entitled "An Act to preserve the purity of the waters of the State for the protection of the public health"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain it to the House.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, if the members will kindly read the preamble of this bill, it is self-explanatory. Many municipalities have exhausted their constitutional borrowing powers. If this act becomes a law, it wil relieve them very greatly. They need the money, and it is up to the State to help take care of them.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to know about the manner in which this money was to be distributed. Is there any check upon the distribution of it to protect us against discrimination between one borough and another and betwene one municipality and another.

Mr. NORTH. On page 2 of this bill, it reads something like this in the Preamble:

Whereas, It is intended that State aid be inaugurated for the purpose of aiding and assisting municipalities in the construction of sewage disposal plants under some system which will not permit the larger municipalities or any of them to absorb the fund appropriated for any appropriation period and thus prevent the construction of sewage disposal plants in other municipalities until such time as more money may be appropriated by the legislative enactment therefore.

If this become a law it will relieve this greatly. It seems to me that its object is very plain and as fully explained as it is possible to make it.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, my thought was this: I wanted to find out if there was any provision which would protect or enable municipalities that had already been sufficiently prompt in complying with the health regulations to build a sewage system of its own. Is there any provision in the bill which would penalize them by not permitting them to receive any of the benefits of this bill.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, there is no penalty attached to any municipality that previously built there own disposal plants.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, those municipalities who have issued bonds are now paying interest on those bonds. Those bonds having been issued for the purpose of erecting a sewage plant and should be entitled to the same consideration as other municipalities that may be remiss that have not received money from the State. There was discussion in favor of one municipality as against a municipality that has been prompt—a lax municipality against a prompt municipality, that has provided a proper sewage and they are still paying interest on their bonds.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to give aid to all municipalities. The Commisisoner of Health shall direct that sewage disposal plants must be built. As I stated before many municipalities are bonded to the constitutional limit and if the Health Department of the State, which seems to have the absolute power to direct the building or construction of these disposal plants it will be an impossibility and I think if the gentleman will read this bill carefully and consider it, he will find that it is the only measure that will give the municipality the desired releive.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I don't know whether I am actually in favor of this proposition or not. If the State is committed to this bill it would involve in the end a sum of forty to figty million dollars if it is carried out. It seemes to me that it would be wise to postpone action for a few days to permit the members to examine it a little more carefully and I move, Mr. Speaker, that Further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I object to that. It is a matter that every county in the State will be benefitted by it. and if the gentlemen of the House are not in favor of this legislation at this time why the sooner they kill it, the better. Personally, I don't live in an incorporated municipality. I live in a first class township and I offered this measure to give relief to the State at large.

The SPEAKER. I would suggest that it might be better to permit the bill to be postponed for the present.

Mr. NORTH. Well, Mr. Speaker, I don't care.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I second Mr. Rockwell's motion to postpone.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 1047, as follows:

An Act to amend the fourth section of an act entitled "An Act establishing in each county a board of viewers prescribing their duties providing for their appointment as viewers road juries juries of view and commissioners to view land and providing for the charges upon the respective counties in the matter of salaries costs and expenses thereof" approved the twenty-third day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven fixing the per diem and mileage of the said board of viewers and providing for the payment thereof by the proper county and the payment by the petitioner of a part of the costs

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, if there are any gentlemen in the House who do not understand the provision of the House Bill No. 1047, I would be pleased to explain it. It does not change the act of 1911, but is merely a supplement to it and makes the provision clear relative to board and livery hire to be paid to the viewers and does not make any change in the salary. As you know, the original act of 1911 allows five dollars a day for viewers. When they paid from that the livery hire and board, there was not very much left. Westmoreland County is a county in which the Commissioners will not interpret the act to include these expenses. If there is anybody that wants any further explanation, I would be pleased to give it.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 1379, as follows:

Agreeably to order,

An Act authorizing counties to appropriate moneys for monuments or memorials in memory of the soldiers sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war and soldiers sailors and marines who served on foreign soil prior to July one one thousand nine hundred and one

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the county commissioners of each county are authorized to appropriate moneys for the erection of monuments or memorials in memory of soldiers sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, yesterday I offered two amendments to that bill and the amendments were printed on the title but not in the section.

The SPEAKER. The bill will go over in its place while the correction is made by the printer.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 1419, as follows:

An Act to provide for the erection of public comfort stations in certain cities and boroughs of this Commonwealth and empowering the Commisioner of Health of the Commonwealth in certain cases to let contracts for the erection of such stations at the cost of such cities and boroughs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be the duty of the corporate authorities of each city and borough within this Commonwealth having a population of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants according to the last decennial census of the United States to erect and maintain public comfort stations for the use of the general pubilc

Section 2 The corporate authorities of each municipality as provided in section one of this act shall immediately after the approval of this act provide for the erection of one or more public comfort stations as the population of such municipality may require Said authorities shall by due advertisement invite sealed proposals for bids for the erection of such public comfort stations and shall let the contracts therefor to the lowest responsible bidder and shall take from such bidder a bond with sufficient security conditioned for the faithful performance of such contract

Section 6 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Steele.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Steele permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEELE. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if this bill applies to every municipality and borough in the State?

Mr. STEELE. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir. Every borough or city with a population over fifteen thousand with an adequate sewer system.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask him if the fifteen thousand was not stricken out and substituted by twelve thousand?

Mr. STEELE. Mr. Speaker, it is not stricken out here

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I think it was.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. Speaker, so far as the members of this House are concerned I would like to explain this bill slightly. This bill requires all boroughs and cities of fifteen thousand or over, having an adequate sewer system to build these public comfort stations. We are a little behind the countries on the other side of the ocean. As a matter of fact, while some of the cities of the first and second class have these public comfort stations, yet that, nevertheless, makes it obligatory to provide these public comfort stations for the public in these smaller municipalities for the benefit of visitors who enter the city.

Mr. REUBEN HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentlemen will recollect that this bill was amended in committee to read twelve thousand, instead of fifteen thousand.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly willing to make it twelve thousand and move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The next bill is Calendar number 27, House Bill 1102. This seems to be a rather important bill. The sponsor is absent and if there is no objection, it will be passed over in its place.

The Chair would suggest at this time that considerable work might be accomplished if the House would take up the calendar on bills on third reading and only consider such bills as gentlemen see fit to call up for amendment, or such bills as members are willing to put before this House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 825, entitled:

An Act amending the first paragraph of the first section of the act entitled "An Act defining fraternal beneficial and relief societies and their status authorizing them to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits upon the sickness disability or death of their members from funds collected by dues and assessments therein providing for their registration in the office of the Insurance Commissioner and requiring that they shall make annual reports to him and exempting them from taxation and from the supervision of the Insurance Commissioner" approved the sixth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws page seven) providing that if after the issuance of the original certificate the member shall become dependent upon an incorporated charitable institution he shall have the privilege with the consent of the society to make such institution his beneficiary

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, this bill merely provides for a slight change in the law governing insurance policies and beneficial associations. It provides that where a person holds an insurance policy in a beneficial association and desires to go into a home and has no dependents, he can make the home his beneficiary. The bill was delivered to me and I was requested to introduce it by the solicitor of the Artisans Order for Mutual Protection. They are desirous of having the bill passed. I suppose most of the members here understand the need of this bill.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House I would like to state that this measure carries with it no appropriation whatever. It might provide for the transfer of a certain amount of money from the printing fund, which has already been appropriated. to the fund for paper. The department is in sore need of paper and has asked that this transfer be made, and I hope the gentlemen of the House will vote for the bill.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1272, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to pay for the care treatment and maintenance of the indigent insane for the two years ending May thirty-one one thousand nine hundred and fifteen

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORTH. I will.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire as to whether or not this bill works a consolidation, in effect, in the system of appropriating heretofore in two appropriation bil's. Last year there were two appropriation bills, as I understand, one for the indigent insane in the State institutions and one for the indigent insane in the county and local institutions, and I would like to know whether or not this bill consolidates both appropriations.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I am not able to answer the question. The bill was handed to me by the Department to present. I made no particular inquiry other than to find out that it was to take care of the indigent insane. If the gentleman will remember, the matter was discussed when the bill was on second reading, I believe, and amended, owing to the fact that there was a decision pending in the Supreme Court at the time. That matter was disposed of, and the bill was amended in the Senate and the amendments were concurred in by the House. That is all I know about it.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps the bill had better go over.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, perhaps it should if we cannot have the proper information. Two years ago which had two bills which appropriated each $290,000. This bill appropriates over four millions of dollars and I would like to know whether it is an appropriation for both purposes.

If it is not. I should like some explanation.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the bill will go over in its place as though it had not been taken up. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and it is so directed.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1092.

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-fifth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five entitled an act 'creating and defining the offense of disorderly conduct by persons on the public highways roads streets lanes alleys parks squares or commons of the Commonwealth or near thereto and fixing penalties for committing such offense" as amended by changing and enlarging the penalties for committing such offense

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, in order that this bill may not take the same course of the bill that has just preceded on account of the inattention of the House, I desire to call your attention to the fact that this bill primarily affects the legal members of the House and provides a cheaper method of distributing the lands of decedents in partition proceedings and allows the guardians of minors to join in petitions inimical to partition of the real estate. I will say in addition that this bill is not opposed by the labor men or of the State Grange.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were then read as follows:

Amend section 7, line 9, strike out the words "not less than"

Amend section 7, line 13, after the word "women" by inserting "and such additional inspectors as the commissioner may deem necessary and proper to appoint from time to time."

Also amend section 18, line 7, strike out after the word "board" the words "composed of the head of the Bureau who shall be chairman thereof and two representatives one selected by the employer and one by the employes" and insert in lieu thereof the following "composed of one person selected by employer and one person selected by employes and a third who shall be selected by the representatives of the employer and employe and such third member of the board shall be selected and appointed within a period of 5 days after the matter has been submitted for arbitration and in the event of any such appointment or selection not being made within a period of 5 days then the chairman of the board shall constitute the third member of the board and be the chairman of the board and if such third representative is chosen by the two representatives of the employer and employe within 5 days then a chairman of the board shall be established by the board itself."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments? Is there any objection?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I object to the insertion of the amendments.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House go into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment. When I make this motion, however, I wish to state that in the event of the gentlemen from Crawford withdrawing his objection to my amendments, I will not insist upon the motion.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I am not objecting to the amendments as far as they go, but I have some further amendments that I desire to offer in addition to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia. The gentleman had a copy of those amendments over night and he knows what they are.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if they are the same amendments I saw yesterday.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, then I object, and I renew my motion to go into Committee of the Whole.

Mr. ARTHUR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shern, will kindly assume the Chair as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. SHERN in the Chair.

The CHAIRMAN. The Committee of the Whole House having under consideration House Bill No. 1445, the gentleman frfom Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, desires to offer amendments.

The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk again read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 7, line 9, strike out the words "not less than"

Amend section 7, line 13, after the word "women" by inserting "and such additional inspectors as the commissioner may deem necessary and proper to appoint from time to time."

Amend section 18, line 7, strike out after the word "board" the words "composed of the head of the Bureau who shall be chairman thereof and two representatives one selected by the employer and one by the employes" and insert in lieu thereof the following "composed of one person selected by employer and one person selected by employes and a third who shall be selected by the representatives of the employer and employe and such third member of the board shall be selected and appointed within a period of 5 days after the matter has been submitted for arbitration and in the event of any such appointment or selection not being made within a period of 5 days then the chairman of the board shall constitute the third member of the board and be the chairman of the board and if such third representative is chosen by the two representatives of the employer and employe within 5 days then a chairman of the board shall be established by the board itself."

The CHAIRMAN. The question is now on the adoption of the amendments.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Chairman, my purpose in objecting to the insertion of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia was not prompted by any desire to present the insertion of those particular amendments but to enable a further consideration of the bill because of the fact that the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia are not sufficient, in my estimation, to make this bill what it should be and the portion to which I refer is solely the amendments to section seven. To many who have the bill before you, it will be apparent if I will call your attention to section seven, line nine. I think you will be unable to find anything on the statute books to establish a minimum of employees that can be employed without regard to the amount of work that is to be done.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Chairman, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Chairman, Yes, sir.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Chairman, does not the gentleman know that line nine now reads "there shall now be in said Bureau fifty-eight inspectors?"

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will stirke out the word "shall", and I can see no difference when he says that there shall be fifty-eight or not less than fifty-eight. He seems to have undertaken to confuse the act. He must also agree to strike out the word "shall" and leave it discretionary with the Department of Labor as to how many inspectors are necessary or must agree to my amendment. We know that the maximum number of employees cannot be put on the first day. They must be put on from time to time and the whole purpose for which it is organized must be considered. My desire is not to cripple the department nor to cut down the employees where the department would be insufficient but where the head of the department finds that fifty or forty-nine or forty-five are sufficient to carry it into effect that it is not mandatory that he shall employ fifty-eight men if there is no use for them. It is for that reason that I have a further amendment to offer so as to cary into effect just that spirit. I am in absolute harmony with this bill. I don't believe it is right for us to declare that you must employ fifty-eight or any other number without regard to the duties that they have to perform. We are willing to leave it discretionary with the department but why should we say that you have got to employ a given number whether you have any use for them or not. That is the substance of our opposition. I therefore submit to the Committee the following further amendment:

The CHAIRMAN. Do they conflict with those already offered.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Chairman, no sir, they are additional amendments.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend by striking out in line 9, the word "shall" and insert in lieu thereof the word "may"
Also, strike out in line 9, the words "not less than"
Also, in line 11, strike out the word "shall" and insert in lieu thereof, the word "may"
Also, in line 12, strike out the words "not less than"
Also, in line 21, strike out the words "not less than."

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Chairman, I agree to those amendments and insist upon my amendment in line 13, in Section 7. I withdraw the other amendments, except amendment to Section 7, line 13, and amendment to Section 18.

The amendment to Section 7 was again read, as follows:

Amend section 7, line 13, after the word "women" by inserting "and such additional inspectors as the commissioner may deem necessary and proper to appoint from time to time."

On the question,

Will the Committee of the Whole House agree to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Committee of the Whole House agree to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Crawford?

They were agreed to.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee of the Whole House rise and report back to the House.

Mr. HAGGERTY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

Mr. SHERN. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House, I now report back to the House, House Bill No. 1445, with amendments as inserted therein.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the report of the Committee of the Whole?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1362, entitled:

An Act authorizing H. W. Brown and D. E. Brown citizens of Cambria county Pennsylvania doing business as the Woodman Lumber Company to bring suit in the court of common pleas of Cambria county against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that this bill simply allows a lumber company in my county to sue the Commonwealth. They have no right to sue under the Constitution unless the Legislature gives them authority. The court of common pleas of Cambria County will pass upon the case, which is simply a legal proposition, and no man need fear to vote for the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Yea, though we walk through the valley of the shadow of death, we shall fear no evil, for Thou art with us; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort us; Thou preparest a table before us in the presence of our enemies; Thou anointest our heads with oil; our cups runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow us all the days of our lives and we shall dwell in the House of the Lord forever. Be Thou our Shepherd as we enter upon another week of labor. He also laid before the Senate communication which was read, as follows

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE VACCINATION COMMISSION.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 10, 1913.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania:

As Chairman of the Pennsylvania State Vaccination Commission appointed by His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth; in pursuance of the provisions of a joint resolution of your honorable bodies, entitled "A joint Resolution Providing for the apointment by the Governor of a Commission, to be known as the Pennsylvania State Vaccination Commission, and defining its powers and duties, and making an appropriation for the expenses thereof," approved by the Governor on June 14, 1911 (Pamphlet Laws of 1911, page 940), I have the honor to submit herewith the Report of the Commission, with the Dissenting Reports.

In doing so, I cannot refrain from an expression of my disapproval of the action of the dissenting Commissioner, who submitted the principal dissenting report, Mr. John Pitcairn, for the following reasons:

At the last formal meeting of the Commission, on the twelfth day of March, 1913, held for the purpose of signing the reports, the several reports were presented and duly signed by the respective Commissioners—the majority report was then and there signed by Mr. Edward A. Woods, Dr. Jay Frank Schamberg, Dr. William M. Welch and Emil Rosenberger, being a majority of the Commission; the report prepared by Mr. John Pitcairn was then and there signed by him, the report prepared by Mr. Henry C. Lippencott was then and there signed by him and the report prepared by Mr. Porter F. Cope was then and there signed by him. It was agreed by the Commissioners that these Reports, which were typewritten, should be printed; that the Chairman should cause this to be done and that no changes should be made therein but that the reports should stand as thus typewritten. The reports were printed by Allen, Lane & Scott; the proofs were read by the respective Commissioners, and after proper corrections, were approved by them. Although it was agreed by the Commission that the reports were final in the form in which they were sent to the printers, numerous changes were made in Mr. Pitcairn's report while in the printer's hands and some changes have again been made after the report was printed, as is evidenced in the copies submitted herewith. Mr. Pitcairn having approved the printed copy of his dissenting report, I protest against the receipt by your honorable bodies of any other than the printed report, without correction.

I am surprised to learn from Mr. Pitcairn that he has personally filed with your honorable bodies and with his Excellency, the Governor, a copy of his dissenting report transmitted directly by himself. This, it seems to me, is improper for two reasons: (1) The majority or the report, had not then been filed; and (2) The reports should be received by your honorable bodies only through the official head of the Commission, namely, its duly elected Chairman.

There are enclosed the signed reports (which contain the changes above mentioned) as well as a copy of the unsigned reports which are just as they were received from the printers.

May I be permitted to add that the Commission at its last meeting passed a resolution requesting your honorable bodies to make provision for the printing of the report and of the minutes of testimony for the guidance of your members and of the people of the State. The minutes of testimony, which are now being revised, will be forwarded to you later. By reference to the testimony one will be enabled to judge of the comparative merits of the report of the Commission and the dissenting reports.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Yours very truly,

EMIL ROSENBERGER,
Chairman.

A duplicate of this letter, as well as of the enclosures has been forwarded by the same mail to the House of Representatives.

MOTION TO RESUME CONSIDERATION OF BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 549 (House Bill No. 813), on third reading postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act to regulate the manufacture and sale and to prevent the adulteration and misbranding of disinfectants deodorants antiseptics and germicides for external use to regulate the labeling of such preparations to provide for the standardization of such disinfectants deodorants antiseptics and germicides and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

Mr. ENDSLEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, I move to amend, that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. JUDSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I understand from that Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation that this bill has been fully and fairly considered by that committee and that there is no necessity to have it recommitted at this late hour. It has already passed the House and is now on final passage in this body.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Blair, Mr. Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, unfortunately I was not at all the meetings of this committee. Was there any hearings held on this bill?

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, no hearings was had. Mr. Walker, from New York, asked that a copy of the bill be sent him.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, I understand that if this bill passes there is only one concern can sell disinfectants in Pennsylvania and that is a New York concern; that this bill provides that all disinfectants shall be on a carbonic basis and also saluble in water, and that therefore the manufacturers in Pennsylvania who do not use carbolic acid as their base or have for a disinfectant that which is used, such as sulphur, for burning in the room, would be prevented from doing business here. This bill has been introduced in all of the States of the Union, I believe, and I think has gotten through none but Maryland. It is a bill that ought to be heard before being acted upon by the Senate.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Daix, introduced this bill and it was introduced in the House by Mr. Connor. Mr. Daix is not in shape to present his side of the question to-night, I understand, and I have no objection to the bill remaining on the postponed calendar.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to withdraw my motion that the Senate resume consideration of this bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I do not think that this is a fair way to treat this bill, because in talking with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Daix, who by reason of illness is not able to assume any of the responsibility of defending the bill at this time, he informs me that the reverse of what the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McIlhenny, has stated is really the condition; that there has been but one man in this country by the name of Walker objecting to this bill because he has a monopoly of what is now the existing condition for this disinfectant proposition, and that the contrary is true in reference to the treatment of this bill in the several States of the Union. The bill passed every Legislature in which it has been introduced, and I think out of deference to the Senator from Philadelphia, and owing to his physical condition, that the bill should remain on the calendar where it is without sending it back to committee. He can make a sufficient and substantial explanation of the bill at the proper time, which I think will satisfy all the Senators in this chamber.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to facilitate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Diax, in what he is trying to do, and I am perfectly willing to withdraw my motion provided it is understood that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Diax, will tell me when he will bring this bill to a vote.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, on behalf of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Daix, I will say that the Senator will be given that information.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, I withdraw my amendment to the motion. and that it be placed on the calendar of the Senate and be read for the first time to-night.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to have some reason assigned for the offering of that motion at this time.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, the reasons are that this is one of the bills pledged in the Republican platform at the State Convention held on May first of the past year. providing for the nomination at a direct primary of all officers to be elected by the people. The further reason is that this bill has been in the Committee on Elections, since, as I understand it, the 14th day of March, and there has been plenty of time for the consideration of the bill. In addition to that we had out and advanced on the calendar to second reading a number of bills which are exactly contrary to the bills pledged by the Republican State Convention. This bill provides for the election at a primary and the Senator from Philadelphia a few minutes ago of his own motion recommitted a bill which had been reported out from his committee and advanced to second reading on the calendar, which provides that United States Senators should be nominated and elected at a State convention and it seems to me that this bill should at least be brought out and placed upon the calendar and advanced as far as the Senator's bill and then that they meet upon the calendar for the proper consideration of this Senate.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, In reply to the Senator from Allegheny, I want to say and desire to state that the Committee on Elections has been considering these election bills for the past three weeks. I think it was over two weeks ago the Committee on Elections took up the entire number of bills which had been committed to its cars. went over these bills very carefully, authorized the Chairman to report out the bills, for the purpose of having them printed, and to have them recommitted to the Committee for further consideration, at which time the whole membership of the Committee will be present, and the Primary Election Bill along with all the other bills will be given due consideration by the Committee on Elections. It is true, as the gentleman states that a convention of some kind declared its desires for certain conditions, but it has taken me up to the present time to discover as to some of these gentlemen who had been delegates last May, what their politics really are today, and I think it is wise for the Committee on Elections to give proper and due consideration to these bills. because as I understand conditions politically from what I read in the newspapers, I do not think it is concerning some of the gentlemen who were present in that convention what may become of the Republican party in the future, and I trust the members of this Committee will sustain the Committee on Elections so far as to say that they have been giving these bills proper and due consideration, and in proper time and due time these bills will be out on the floor of the Senate for consideration and the Senator from Allegheny will have an opportunity to present his proposition.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I find that the Committee on Elections consists of Messrs. McNichol, Chairman; Catlin, Vare, Powell, McNichols, Salus. Graff, Sensenich, Sones, Farley and Gerberich, ex officio. I find by this list of the members of this Committee, that Senator Powell is a member of this Committee. I should like to interrogate the Senator whether he tried to get these bills, out, whether he made a motion in the Committee to report these bills out. because I want to vote against his motion if he did not make a proper effort in the Committee to get them out.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Powell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. HERBST. Mr. President, I would like to know whether he made an effort in the Committee, made a motion to get the bills out in proper form.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I did make a proper effort before that Committee, because I asked the Chairman of that Committee if he would kindly report them out. Mr. President, I have not finished my answer. Everybody in this Senate knows that was all the effort anybody could make in the Committee on Elections.

Mr. HERBST. If that was the only way in which the Senator from Allegheny attempted to bring out these bills, I will not agree to press this motion, as far as I am personally concerned, because there are other gentlemen upon that Committee, and I think the proper way would be for the Senator to go before that Committee, because he is a member of it and make a motion and if the Committee itself votes him down, then he should have a right to come upon the floor of the Senate and try to bring them out, but not before he makes a proper effort in his own committee. I think it very discourteous to the other members of the Committee to make this motion.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I hope the members of the Senate will keep this bill in committee for consideration along with the rest of the election bills. So far as this particular bill is concerned, when it gets in proper shape, I expect to vote for it, but I do not see any reason why it should be rushed through without the proper consideration, which I do not think it has had up to this time.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, this bill can come out of the committee, be read the first time to-night, be read the second time to-morrow, and then it stands in the same place upon the calendar as the other bills stand and the committee is in proper shape to consider it. Of course, I did not make the motion as the Senator from Berks, Mr. Herbst, says, and there is only one fair way and that is, put these bills upon the calendar side by side. Every Senator will vote for one bill and not for the other then. That is the responsibility of each individual Senator who votes. But these bills should come along and in regard to the politics of this proposition there is only one way to carry out the pledges of the Republican party in this State, and that is to carry them out. The gentleman from Philadelphia was in that convention and made no objection so far as I heard. I had the honor of sitting on the side lines of that convention and was not a delegate, but my recollection is that the Senator from Philadelphia was the most ubiquitous person there. and the man who walked out with more admiration from the people who were on the other side than any one man in that convention, and he should be the last man in the State of Pennsylvania to raise the slightest objection to this motion.

Mr. McNICHOL. It is true that I was in the State Convention, and having had considerable experience in the last twenty or twenty-five years in dealing with steam-rollers, I saw before me on the stage the most improved, up-to-date steam-roller that was ever invented in this or any other State; consequently, having some desire to return to my family, I did not propose to put myself in front of it. Now the Senate of Pennsylvania will give due and proper consideration and deliberation to these bills and I promise the Senator from Allegheny that the Committee on Elections will give consideration and deliberation to them and the result of these deliberations will be apparent to every gentleman upon this floor.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, if I may take the time, we have had so many conventions in the State of Pennsylvania. that have heretofore been characterized as one-man conventions, that it ill becomes the gentleman from Philadelphia who has been a part and parcel of steam-rollers in conventions for twenty-five or thirty years, to make one kick about one single steam-roller when the people get their dues. I was in the same situation in the Committee on Elections, therefore I did not make the motion. I ask this Senate for fair treatment. Bring these two bills out and put them on the calendar for second reading the same as the other bills and then let us talk about the consideration of both these bills in the Committee on Elections.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. POWELL and Mr. JARRETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14.
